Vote 'No' To Retain

City Income Tax To Face 4th Test

The most controversial public question to face East Liverpool in a decade, the municipal income tax, will be decided for the fourth time in four years at the general election Tuesday.

The proposal was rejected in each of the three previous tests — in 1958, 1959 and 1960.

Except for the rate, the 1961 tax ordinance is identical to its predecessors.

THE CURRENT law imposes the lowest rate — 50 cents on each $100 of earnings and other income, including business and industrial profits.

Under the first tax in 1958, the city collected 80 cents on each $100. A tax voted by Council in 1959, but never collected, set a rate of 60 cents per $100.

A measure advocated by a citizens' committee in 1960, also rejected at the polls, would have set a rate of 80 cents on each $100.

Although the question has been on the ballot four times, the tax has been collected only on two occasions — under the 1958 ordinance and under the present measure.

The 1959 tax was enacted by Council subject to approval at the polls. With the voters' rejection, the city never realized a penny from it.

THE 1960 measure of the citizens' committee also was dependent upon voters' approval before any funds could be collected, so it also netted the treasury nothing.

As in the 1958 election, the public will be faced with the paradox that a "Yes" vote is in favor of repeal of the tax and a "No" means the voter favors retaining it.

That's because the question on the ballot is an initiative ordinance proposed by Trades and Labor Council to repeal the tax ordinance enacted by City Council.

Therefore, the question concerns adoption of the ordinance proposed by Trades Council. A "Yes" vote, to adopt the initiative ordinance, would repeal the tax law. A "No" vote, against the initiative ordinance, would retain the income tax.

VOTERS HAD the same situation in 1958, when the question also was an initiative measure to repeal a tax ordinance. But in 1959 and 1960, a "Yes" vote counted in favor of the tax and a "No" was in opposition because of the way in which the question was worded.

The last issue to stir up as much controversy was over a proposal in 1948 to switch to city manager government.

The tax made its best showing in 1958, when it lost by 1,900 out of a total vote of 9,050. Its worst showing was in 1960, when it lost by 2,491 votes out of the 8,957 cast. In 1959, it was turned down by a margin of 1,224 out of 7,296 votes cast.

In 1958, 3,475 voted in favor of the tax, with 5,375 against. In 1959, the question got 3,036 affirmative votes and 4,260 negative. In 1960, 3,233 voters favored the issue, but 5,724 were against.

As always, a majority will decide the issue Tuesday.

48 Of 85 Aboard Are Killed In Crash Of Brazilian Plane

No Persons From U.S., Report Says

Airliner, En Route From Portugal, Was Coming In To Land

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) —A Brazilian airliner smashed into a hillside and burned in a Recife suburb today and an airline spokesman said 48 of the 85 persons aboard perished.

He said 35 of the 76 passengers and two of the crew of nine survived.

There were no U.S. citizens aboard, the airline said.

The plane, a Panair do Brasil DC7 was en route from Lisbon, Portugal, and was coming in for a stop at Recife, on the northwest coast of Brazil, before making its final scheduled stop here.

The two crewmen who escaped were the purser and a stewardess.

The plane was making its landing approach when it hit the hilltop near the Recife airport.

Witnesses said two explosions occurred before the plane hit the hill and burst into flames.

None Reported Hurt As Bolt Strikes Plane

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A twin-engine, turbo-prop airliner bound for Los Angeles was struck by lightning after it left Phoenix, Ariz., Tuesday night. There were no injuries.

The plane made a scheduled stop at El Centro, Calif., then flew to San Diego where its 12 passengers were transferred to another plane.

Bonanza Airlines officials said the plane was not seriously damaged.

The Federal Aviation Agency said the lightning struck the radar dome in the nose of the plane.

30 Killed, 60 Injured In Algeria

French Troops And Police Clash With Rioting Moslems

ALGIERS (AP)—French troops and police battled Moslem rioters across Algeria today, and a government spokesman reported about 30 Moslems had been killed and 60 wounded by noon.

Moslems throughout the North African territory heeded a call from the rebel government in Tunis and took to the streets demanding independence on the seventh anniversary of the start of the bloody Algerian rebellion. The Moslems ignored orders from the French government to stay at home.

The government spokesman gave no report of any European casualties.

He said that seven Moslems were killed in Algiers and a score wounded.

A band of Moslems attacked a French army post at M'Sila, near the Bougie terminus of the Saharan oil pipeline. French fire cut them down, killing 11 Moslems and wounding 15.

The French forces generally did not try to enforce the ban against the demonstrations. Instead they ringed Moslem quarters of Algiers and other cities and tried to keep the mobs inside, fearing if they broke out they would clash with militant French settlers opposing Algerian independence.

The right-wing European Secret Army called on all persons to stay home but warned that if trouble broke out, it might feel called upon to intervene.

Midland's mayoral race, with Democratic incumbent Eli G. Corak seeking a third term, opposed by William F. Komara, Republican, will highlight the borough's voting in Pennsylvania's election Tuesday.

Corak also is a Beaver County commissioner and county Democrat chairman.

Democrats To Hold Traditional Rally

Midland Democrats will hold their traditional pre-election rally Sunday evening in Council Chambers in the Borough Building.

Candidates, precinct committeemen, workers and the public are invited.

All the Democratic candidates are incumbents.

The Democrats have a wide edge in registration — 2,127 — against the Republican's 1,068. The total eligible to vote is 3,216, including 21 of other political affiliation. In the May primary, 1,709 Democrats and 578 Republicans cast ballots.

Besides the borough offices at stake and the much-sought-after post of tax collector, each of the five precincts will also elect a judge and inspector of election. Two school directors also will be named.

There are contests for virtually all borough offices, including Rudolph (Rudy) Presutti, Democrat, and Margaret Boston, Republican, for tax collector.

Others on the ticket are:

U.S. Pressed To Drop Plans For A-Tests

Pressure Mounting In U.N.; Okay Due Moratorium Plea

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The United States was under mounting pressure in the United Nations today to call off plans for any new nuclear weapons tests as support grew for an appeal to the big powers to agree to a voluntary test moratorium.

The appeal appeared certain of General Assembly approval. But the United States has served notice it may resume test explosions in the atmosphere to counter the Soviet tests. The U.S. delegation announced Tuesday it would vote against the moratorium appeal since it makes no provision for effective controls.

A number of pro-Western states from Latin America and Scandinavia declared their support for the moratorium call sponsored by India and other nonaligned nations. They declared it was up to both sides to stop testing.

Japan aimed a direct appeal at the Americans to call off any test plans. Chief delegate Katsuo Okazaki denounced the Soviet Union for triggering its 50 - megaton bomb but declared, "another show of high statesmanship is now demanded of the United States."

"We are aware of another danger, an endless chain of nuclear tests," Okazaki said. "Such a competition would also accelerate the armaments race and threaten the future of mankind."

The United States anticipated several weeks ago that it would be put in a ticklish spot by the Indian-sponsored moratorium demand. U.S. delegate Arthur Dean accused the Russians of timing their tests so they could announce adherence to a moratorium after they finished testing.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan pledged Britain's support of any U.S. testing to maintain the nuclear balance of power between the West and the U.S.S.R. The other members of the North Atlantic Alliance are expected to go along, but it was most unlikely the Western powers could muster enough support to defeat the moratorium appeal.

2 Men Injured In Auto Crash

Highlandtown Man And Passenger Hurt

A car driven by a city man backed out of a private drive along Route 39 west of Wellsville Tuesday night and was struck by a Highlandtown driver's station wagon, causing injuries to two men, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Albert J. Farnsworth, 22, of 800 Dresden Ave. backed his 1955 sedan onto the roadway into the path of the 1952 station wagon operated by Emerson W. Frye, 48, of Highlandtown, who was headed east.

Frye was treated at City Hospital for a sprain of the right shoulder, bruise of the left shoulder and abrasions of the elbow.

Cecil Thrasher Jr., 24, of Wellsville R.D. 1, a passenger in Farnsworth's auto, suffered bruises of the nose and head, officers reported.

Both autos were demolished, according to the patrol, which is continuing an investigation. The mishap occurred at 9:20 p. m. about 1.4 miles west of Wellsville.

Withholding Returns Rush City Tax Office

The city income tax office at City Hall was rushed Tuesday afternoon and this morning by last-minute filing of employers' reports on tax money withheld from employes' pay for the quarter comprised of July, August and September.

Tuesday was the deadline for the reports. Tax Commissioner D G. Wilkinson said the office staff was rushed with the reports yesterday and the heavy volume of work continued this morning because of a large number of returns received through the mail.

Compliance was "very good," but no detailed report on the returns will be available before Thursday Wilkinson said.

3-Cent Hourly Increase Due For Potters

6,700 Will Receive Hike In Pay Period Due After Dec. 1

An early Christmas gift is due in December for an estimated 6,700 workers in 15 plants in the dinnerware and chinaware branches of the ceramic industry in Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and New York — thanks to two-year working agreements signed late in 1960.

The employes will draw 3-cent hourly pay increases, effective with the first full pay period after Dec. 1.

The provision is contained in two contracts signed by labor and management groups late last year. One covers 4,900 employes in nine dinnerware plants and the other affects 1,800 workers in six chinaware plants — those producing hotel and restaurant ware.

The contract covering the semi-vitreous dinnerware industry was signed by the U. S. Potters Association and the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters. The other was signed by a group with the IBOP.

The dinnerware plant workers won what was termed an 8-cent package which included 5 cents that was to be earmarked for insurance and a health and welfare program. The settlement with the chinaware producers also involved a "package deal."

Under the dinnerware agreement, these East Liverpool area plants are affected: Homer Laughlin China Co., Edwin M. Knowles China Co., Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., Harker Pottery Co. and Hall China Co.

Also covered are: Salem China Co., Royal China Co. and French - Saxon China Co., both at Sebring, and Canonsburg Pottery Co. of Canonsburg. Royal China also operates a W. S. George Co. facility at East Palestine under lease.

Under the chinaware contract are Sterling China Co. and Wellsville China Co., both of Wellsville, Walker China Co. of Bedford, Buffalo China Co. of Buffalo, N. Y., Mayer China Co. of Beaver Falls and Jackson China Co. of Falls Creek, Pa.

Both the new contracts were negotiated late last November—first the chinaware agreement and then the semi-vitreous contract.

The chinaware contract was agreed upon Nov. 26 and the pact for the semi-vitreous industry was approved on Dec. 1.

Dying Man At Wheel

3 Die When Auto Rips Into Parade

ANOKA, Minn. (AP)—The noisy gaiety of costumed children and spectators drowned out warning cries as a car driven by a dying man plowed into rear ranks of a Halloween parade.

"I shouted as loud as I could but nobody could hear against the hubbub," said Joseph Lindberg, a Civil Defense worker helping police. He also made a futile effort to halt the car after he saw its stricken driver slumped across the wheel.

The careening car smashed into a parked car and stopped after leaving a trail of felled paraders and the adults Tuesday afternoon.

Two women died of their injuries.

Otto Erickson, 76, Anoka, was dead when police pulled him from the car. The car halted almost in front of a mortuary, the body slumped over the steering wheel to send out a continuous horn blast.

Eight were hospitalized, some in critical condition, and police estimated another score were treated.

It was the 42nd annual Halloween celebration staged by Anoka, a town of 10,000 just north of Minneapolis. Some 5,000 children from area schools were in the parade.

Police Chief Cliff Petrick estimated about 7,000 persons lined streets as the youngsters showed off witch, goblin and clown costumes.

A fire truck which had been at the rear of the parade was called away by an alarm.

"Nobody can say for sure," Petrick said, "but if that truck had been in place that car might have hit it first and nobody would even have been hurt."

Premier Re-Elected As Head

Red Congress Endorses Mr. K's 20-Year Plan

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party ended its 22nd congress Tuesday night with endorsement of Premier Khrushchev's 20-year plan to transform the Soviet Union into the world's greatest industrial power with the world's highest standard of living.

The resolution approved by the 4,400 wildly applauding delegates rang down the curtain on the eight-day session that also (1) underlined policy differences between Khrushchev and Communist China's leaders, (2) brought Albania near to expulsion from the Soviet bloc, (3) branded Stalin as a mass murderer and took his body out of the hallowed Lenin tomb on Red Square, and (4) completed the disgrace of V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov and Lazar Kaganovich.

Khrushchev, re-elected to head the most powerful Communist party in the world, promised a horn of plenty under communism, which he described as "the most influential political force of our time."

But he warned the delegates in a final address that only by hard work would the Soviet Union fulfill such goals as a production capacity of 250 million tons of steel—twice the present U.S. capacity—and rent-free apartments for every Russian family.

One part of the resolution got prompt action. At the delegates' "request" Stalin's body was removed from Lenin's big granite tomb in Red Square, communism's most hallowed shrine, and his name came off the slab over the door.

Pravda reported the dictator's body had been transferred to the Kremlin wall, where the ashes of most leading Communists are interred. But today his grave could be seen just outside the wall, behind the Lenin tomb, alongside the graves of five other former Communist leaders.

Khrushchev and other speakers at the congress charged that Stalin was responsible for the slaughter of thousands of old Bolsheviks and top army officers in the late 1930s. It was the first time the Soviet people had been told what the Western world had known for years.

2 Newcomers In Mayor Bid At Wellsville

William Daugherty, Wayne Rose Spark Tuesday's Balloting

Two political newcomers are squared off for the mayorality race in Wellsville at Tuesday's general election.

They are Wayne J. Rose, Republican, and William Daugherty, Democrat. The Democrat ballot also will contain two names for councilman - at - large which did not appear in that slot at the May primary.

One of the successful candidates later died and another withdrew when he moved away. The name of a familiar Republican, William J. Shoub, will not appear on the ballot as he declined to seek another term. The mayor now is serving in his eighth consecutive year.

Rose, 1513 Lincoln Ave., is a kilnplacer at the Sterling China Co. He is 36, a native of Wellsville, a 1941 graduate of Wellsville High School, a member of the volunteer fire department, charger president of the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce, a basketball official, a member of the Hammond Park Commission and a member and trustee of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church.

Rose also is a member of Elks Lodge 1040 and president of IBOP Local 24. He is married and has three daughters.

Daugherty, 47, is manager of an insurance firm and resides at 973 Main St. He is treasurer of the Fraternal Order of Police Associates Lodge and president of the Pebco Corp. He is a former member of the Wellsville Board of Health, a past president of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club and East Liverpool Life Underwriters Association and past chairman of the Wellsville Red Cross Chapter.

A World War II Army veteran, he is a past post, county and division commander of the American Legion.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, incumbent, was unopposed on the Democrat ticket for Council president at the May primary. Her opponent at the election will be J. Frederick Russel, Republican, who served on Council previously. Mrs. Rahter has served two terms as president. She owns Rahter's Wallpa-

Firm To Stay At Palestine

Agreement Reached On Wage Cutbacks

EAST PALESTINE — Officials of the Kenmar Manufacturing Co. today announced that tentative plans to move their plant here have been dropped, and a new working agreement between the firm and its employes has been reached.

Robert Maurer, president, said the furniture concern has completed a reduction of costs on the management end of the operations, and the workers have accepted certain wage reductions.

He said employes have agreed to a 10 per cent cut in incentive earnings, a decrease of paid holidays from six to four, and a 25 per cent cut in vacation pay allowances.

Management, it was indicated, has trimmed certain "fixed costs."

The agreement was approved by the workers in the past few days and was effective today.

Maurer said the agreement restores a "common feeling of cooperation and trust between management and the workers."

The firm was hit by a three-week strike late in the summer, but a one-year extension of the previous work contract was signed with the union with the provision that the contract talks could be re-opened at the end of six months.

The firm, which had closed plants at Tyler, Tex., and Ottumwa, Iowa, in recent years, had considered moving its operations to the South.

Plant officials had cited the pressure of competition from southern firms in the furniture business as the reason for the need to cut operating costs. About 140 are employed.

Grand Jury Indicts Hancock Man's Killer

The October Grand Jury of Washington County has indicted on a general charge of murder Chester Hoffman, 53, of McDonald in the slaying June 16 of his business associate.

Leonard O. Bywaters, 51, of New Cumberland was shot six times by Hoffman at the defendant's home in McDonald, ending a running argument between the two partners in the Arroyo Sand & Gravel Co. south of Newell, authorities said.

Atty. Michael Hanna, Washington County district attorney, said the case will not be presented for trial this fall, but indicated it will be on the docket for the January term of court.

Vote 'No' To Retain

City Income Tax To Face 4th Test

The most controversial public question to face East Liverpool in a decade, the municipal income tax, will be decided for the fourth time in four years at the general election Tuesday.

The proposal was rejected in each of the three previous tests — in 1958, 1959 and 1960.

Except for the rate, the 1961 tax ordinance is identical to its predecessors.

THE CURRENT law imposes the lowest rate — 50 cents on each $100 of earnings and other income, including business and industrial profits.

Under the first tax in 1958, the city collected 80 cents on each $100. A tax voted by Council in 1959, but never collected, set a rate of 60 cents per $100.

A measure advocated by a citizens' committee in 1960, also rejected at the polls, would have set a rate of 80 cents on each $100.

Although the question has been on the ballot four times, the tax has been collected only on two occasions — under the 1958 ordinance and under the present measure.

The 1959 tax was enacted by Council subject to approval at the polls. With the voters' rejection, the city never realized a penny from it.

THE 1960 measure of the citizens' committee also was dependent upon voters' approval before any funds could be collected, so it also netted the treasury nothing.

As in the 1958 election, the public will be faced with the paradox that a "Yes" vote is in favor of repeal of the tax and a "No" means the voter favors retaining it.

That's because the question on the ballot is an initiative ordinance proposed by Trades and Labor Council to repeal the tax ordinance enacted by City Council.

Therefore, the question concerns adoption of the ordinance proposed by Trades Council. A "Yes" vote, to adopt the initiative ordinance, would repeal the tax law. A "No" vote, against the initiative ordinance, would retain the income tax.

VOTERS HAD the same situation in 1958, when the question also was an initiative measure to repeal a tax ordinance. But in 1959 and 1960, a "Yes" vote counted in favor of the tax and a "No" was in opposition because of the way in which the question was worded.

The last issue to stir up as much controversy was over a proposal in 1948 to switch to city manager government.

The tax made its best showing in 1958, when it lost by 1,900 out of a total vote of 9,050. Its worst showing was in 1960, when it lost by 2,491 votes out of the 8,957 cast. In 1959, it was turned down by a margin of 1,224 out of 7,296 votes cast.

In 1958, 3,475 voted in favor of the tax, with 5,375 against. In 1959, the question got 3,036 affirmative votes and 4,260 negative. In 1960, 3,233 voters favored the issue, but 5,724 were against.

As always, a majority will decide the issue Tuesday.

6,700 Will Receive Hike In Pay Period Due After Dec. 1

An early Christmas gift is due in December for an estimated 6,700 workers in 15 plants in the dinnerware and chinaware branches of the ceramic industry in Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and New York — thanks to two-year working agreements signed late in 1960.

The employes will draw 3-cent hourly pay increases, effective with the first full pay period after Dec. 1.

The provision is contained in two contracts signed by labor and management groups late last year. One covers 4,900 employes in nine dinnerware plants and the other about 1,800 workers in six chinaware plants — those producing hotel and restaurant ware.

The contract covering the semi-vitreous dinnerware industry was signed by the U. S. Potters Association and the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters. The other was signed by a group with the IBOP.

The dinnerware plant workers won what was termed an 8-cent package which included 5 cents that was to be earmarked for insurance and a health and welfare program. The settlement with the chinaware producers also involved a "package deal."

Under the dinnerware agreement, these East Liverpool area plants are affected: Homer Laughlin China Co., Edwin M. Knowles China Co., Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., Harker Pottery Co. and Hall China Co.

Also covered are: Salem China Co., Royal China Co. and French - Saxon China Co., both at Sebring, and Canonsburg Pottery Co. of Canonsburg. Royal China also operates a W. S. George Co. facility at East Palestine under lease.

Under the chinaware contract are Sterling China Co. and Wellsville China Co., both of Wellsville, Walker China Co. of Bedford, Buffalo China Co. of Buffalo, N. Y., Mayer China Co. of Beaver Falls and Jackson China Co. of Falls Creek, Pa.

Both the new contracts were negotiated late last November—first the chinaware agreement and then the semi-vitreous contract.

The chinaware contract was agreed upon Nov. 26 and the pact for the semi-vitreous industry was approved on Dec. 1.

Dying Man At Wheel

3 Die When Auto Rips Into Parade

ANOKA, Minn. (AP)—The noisy gaiety of costumed children and spectators drowned out warning cries as a car driven by a dying man plowed into rear ranks of a Halloween parade.

"I shouted as loud as I could but nobody could hear against the hubbub," said Joseph Lindberg, a Civil Defense worker helping police. He also made a futile effort to halt the car after he saw its stricken driver slumped across the wheel.

The careening car smashed into a parked car and stopped after leaving a trail of felled paraders and the adults Tuesday afternoon.

Two women died of their injuries.

Otto Erickson, 76, Anoka, was dead when police pulled him from the car. The car halted almost in front of a mortuary, the body slumped over the steering wheel to send out a continuous horn blast.

Eight were hospitalized, some in critical condition, and police estimated another score were treated.

It was the 42nd annual Halloween celebration staged by Anoka, a town of 10,000 just north of Minneapolis. Some 5,000 children from area schools were in the parade.

Police Chief Cliff Petrick estimated about 7,000 persons lined streets as the youngsters showed off witch, goblin and clown costumes.

A fire truck which had been at the rear of the parade was called away by an alarm.

"Nobody can say for sure," Petrick said, "but if that truck had been in place that car might have hit it first and nobody would even have been hurt."

Premier Re-Elected As Head

Red Congress Endorses Mr. K's 20-Year Plan

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party ended its 22nd congress Tuesday night with endorsement of Premier Khrushchev's 20-year plan to transform the Soviet Union into the world's greatest industrial power with the world's highest standard of living.

The resolution approved by the 4,400 wildly applauding delegates rang down the curtain on the eight-day session that also (1) underlined policy differences between Khrushchev and Communist China's leaders, (2) brought Albania near to expulsion from the Soviet bloc, (3) branded Stalin as a mass murderer and took his body out of the hallowed Lenin tomb on Red Square, and (4) completed the disgrace of V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov and Lazar Kaganovich.

Khrushchev, re-elected to head the most powerful Communist party in the world, promised a horn of plenty under communism, which he described as "the most influential political force of our time."

But he warned the delegates in a final address that only by hard work would the Soviet Union fulfill such goals as a production capacity of 250 million tons of steel—twice the present U.S. capacity—and rent-free apartments for every Russian family.

One part of the resolution got prompt action. At the delegates' "request" Stalin's body was removed from Lenin's big granite tomb in Red Square, communism's most hallowed shrine, and his name came off the slab over the door.

Pravda reported the dictator's body had been transferred to the Kremlin wall, where the ashes of most leading Communists are interred. But today his grave could be seen just outside the wall, behind the Lenin tomb, alongside the graves of five other former Communist leaders.

Khrushchev and other speakers at the congress charged that Stalin was responsible for the slaughter of thousands of old Bolsheviks and top army officers in the late 1930s. It was the first time the Soviet people had been told what the Western world had known for years.

2 Newcomers In Mayor Bid At Wellsville

William Daugherty, Wayne Rose Spark Tuesday's Balloting

Two political newcomers are squared off for the mayorality race in Wellsville at Tuesday's general election.

They are Wayne J. Rose, Republican, and William Daugherty, Democrat. The Democrat ballot also will contain two names for councilman - at - large which did not appear in that slot at the May primary.

One of the successful candidates later died and another withdrew when he moved away. The name of a familiar Republican, William J. Shoub, will not appear on the ballot as he declined to seek another term. The mayor now is serving in his eighth consecutive year.

Rose, 1513 Lincoln Ave., is a kilnplacer at the Sterling China Co. He is 36, a native of Wellsville, a 1941 graduate of Wellsville High School, a member of the volunteer fire department, charger president of the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce, a basketball official, a member of the Hammond Park Commission and a member and trustee of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church.

Rose also is a member of Elks Lodge 1040 and president of IBOP Local 24. He is married and has three daughters.

Daugherty, 47, is manager of an insurance firm and resides at 973 Main St. He is treasurer of the Fraternal Order of Police Associates Lodge and president of the Pebco Corp. He is a former member of the Wellsville Board of Health, a past president of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club and East Liverpool Life Underwriters Association and past chairman of the Wellsville Red Cross Chapter.

A World War II Army veteran, he is a past post, county and division commander of the American Legion.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, incumbent, was unopposed on the Democrat ticket for Council president at the May primary. Her opponent at the election will be J. Frederick Russel, Republican, who served on Council previously. Mrs. Rahter has served two terms as president. She owns Rahter's Wallpa-

Agreement Reached On Wage Cutbacks

EAST PALESTINE — Officials of the Kenmar Manufacturing Co. today announced that tentative plans to move their plant here have been dropped, and a new working agreement between the firm and its employes has been reached.

Robert Maurer, president, said the furniture concern has completed a reduction of costs on the management end of the operations, and the workers have accepted certain wage reductions.

He said employes have agreed to a 10 per cent cut in incentive earnings, a decrease of paid holidays from six to four, and a 25 per cent cut in vacation pay allowances.

Management, it was indicated, has trimmed certain "fixed costs."

The agreement was approved by the workers in the past few days and was effective today.

Maurer said the agreement restores a "common feeling of cooperation and trust between management and the workers."

The firm was hit by a three-week strike late in the summer, but a one-year extension of the previous work contract was signed with the union with the provision that the contract talks could be re-opened at the end of six months.

The firm, which had closed plants at Tyler, Tex., and Ottumwa, Iowa, in recent years, had considered moving its operations to the South.

Plant officials had cited the pressure of competition from southern firms in the furniture business as the reason for the need to cut operating costs. About 140 are employed.

Wellsville To Decide Renewal Of School And Police Levies

Two levies, both renewals, will be voted on by Wellsville residents at Tuesday's general election.

They are a 2.8-mill school levy and a 1-mill police levy. The school levy is for one year while the police levy is for five. Both require only a majority.

The police levy provides part of the salaries of the personnel. If defeated, it would mean at least two men and perhaps three would have to be cut from the force, according to officials, who said this would seriously curtail the city's protection. The levy has been in effect 10 years.

The school levy is a continuation of 2.8-mills voted in 1957. It is being placed on the ballot only for one year so that it can be combined in another year with other levies which will be up for renewal.

The combined levies then can be placed on the ballot for 10 years and will save the taxpayers much money in unnecessary election expenses, according to Earl Bake, Board of Education president.

When first passed, the board said 2 mills was for operating expenses which had increased and eight-tenths for general repairs. It was believed that state aid would be available for the repair work. But it was voted out by legislature and all the work has been done without the state aid.

Bake said the projects included improved heating and lighting, stadium and gymnasium repairs, window repairs, a cafeteria, purchase of school buses and an additional room for the industrial arts department.

Almost all the promised work and more has been done, he pointed out. All the schools now are heated with gas, three new buses have been purchased, new dressing rooms installed at the football stadium, repairs made to the center section of the stadium, which had been closed, and a new steel fence erected around the field. Roof repairs have been made along with other projects.

He said the board also installed automatic water coolers in the buildings to cut down on water consumption when the sewage disposal rates were added.

Bake said repairs now are needed to the windows at the High School, McKinley and Garfield. Roof work and new lights along with some work on the floor is needed at the gymnasium and the industrial arts room still needs to be constructed.

Beaver Road Plans Aired

The Beaver County Planning and Zoning Commission discussed proposed Pennsylvania State Highway Department projects at a meeting Tuesday night at the Brodhead Hotel in Beaver Falls.

There are about 65 projects and will include every municipality.

Major projects include the widening of Route 168 to 24 feet, costing about $1 million. The improvement will run from Route 251 in South Beaver Township to Midland. The sharp curve, where the route enters Midland, will be partially eliminated.

It was also reported that the State Highway Department plans to ask for construction bids for the Shippingport-Midland Bridge in the next 60 days.

The commission also approved plans for the improvement of the Beaver County Airport as recommended by Beaver County commissioners, who were commended for taking advantage of any federal or state funds available.

Reds Test 2 More Bombs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has exploded two more nuclear devices, both much smaller than the massive Soviet blast of Monday.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission announced the explosions were touched off Tuesday at an arctic test site. The first was reckoned at several megatons and the second was "probably below a megaton," the AEC reported.

A megaton represents the energy from one million tons of TNT.

The explosions were the 27th and 28th announced by the AEC since the Soviets resumed testing Sept. 1.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev told the Communist party congress that Monday's big blast exceeded 50 megatons, which he said was more powerful than expected.

In related developments:

1. Uruguay called on the Organization of American States to condemn nuclear tests.

2. The Voice of America announced an all-out attempt will be made Sunday to tell the Russian people about the Soviet tests—and their worldwide effects.

3. A group studying nuclear attack estimated that a 20-megaton bomb exploding in midtown New York City would kill six million of the city's eight million residents.

Carlos A. Clulow, Uruguay's ambassador, said his call for OAS condemnation of nuclear tests was prompted by fallout danger increased by the Soviet tests.

Pointing to a similar United Nations declaration — ignored by Khrushchev—Clulow said "a regional organization, such as the OAS, could well add its voice to show that we, too, in this hemisphere, are concerned about this situation."

Beaver Road Plans Aired

The Beaver County Planning and Zoning Commission discussed proposed Pennsylvania State Highway Department projects at a meeting Tuesday night at the Brodhead Hotel in Beaver Falls.

There are about 65 projects and will include every municipality.

Major projects include the widening of Route 168 to 24 feet, costing about $1 million. The improvement will run from Route 251 in South Beaver Township to Midland. The sharp curve, where the route enters Midland, will be partially eliminated.

It was also reported that the State Highway Department plans to ask for construction bids for the Shippingport-Midland Bridge in the next 60 days.

The commission also approved plans for the improvement of the Beaver County Airport as recommended by Beaver County commissioners, who were commended for taking advantage of any federal or state funds available.

Cabbie Counterparts

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Two Des Moines cab drivers were dispatched to a downtown office building almost simultaneously the other day. George Rule went to pick up a passenger named Rule; Ernest Davis was sent to get a fare named Davis.

Entirely Legal

MEMPHIS (AP) — Despite its unusual appearance, the will left by the late Mrs. Blanche T. Williams of Memphis was accepted without a quibble by probate court. Mrs. Williams had scrawled her will—covering an estate of about $40,000 — on a small paper towel.

The Long Nap

MEMPHIS (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Billy Van Winkle knew what they were doing when they named their son. Rip Van Winkle, 15 months old now, goes to bed early at night and sometimes sleeps until 10 the next morning. In addition, he enjoys a daily three-hour nap.

Reds Test 2 More Bombs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has exploded two more nuclear devices, both much smaller than the massive Soviet blast of Monday.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission announced the explosions were touched off Tuesday at an arctic test site. The first was reckoned at several megatons and the second was "probably below a megaton," the AEC reported.

A megaton represents the energy from one million tons of TNT.

The explosions were the 27th and 28th announced by the AEC since the Soviets resumed testing Sept. 1.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev told the Communist party congress that Monday's big blast exceeded 50 megatons, which he said was more powerful than expected.

In related developments:

1. Uruguay called on the Organization of American States to condemn nuclear tests.

2. The Voice of America announced an all-out attempt will be made Sunday to tell the Russian people about the Soviet tests—and their worldwide effects.

3. A group studying nuclear attack estimated that a 20-megaton bomb exploding in midtown New York City would kill six million of the city's eight million residents.

Carlos A. Clulow, Uruguay's ambassador, said his call for OAS condemnation of nuclear tests was prompted by fallout danger increased by the Soviet tests.

Pointing to a similar United Nations declaration — ignored by Khrushchev—Clulow said "a regional organization, such as the OAS, could well add its voice to show that we, too, in this hemisphere, are concerned about this situation."

200 Participate In Halloween

SALINEVILLE — Some 200 costumed adults and youngsters took part in a Halloween parade and fete held Tuesday night by the volunteer fire men and Ruritan Club.

The high school band led the procession.

Prize winners included Mrs. Carol Ann Earich and children, Miss Marilyn Sweeney, Danny Lewis, Miss Mayme Graubner, Donna Smith, Cathy Skinner.

Danny Bridge, Mrs. Edna Eisenbarth, Kanute Drugan, Terry Drugan, Miss Janice Lindner, Lana Bettis, Nancy Fraser and Sally and David Griffith.

Doughnuts and cider were served afterward.

Judges were Mrs. Blanch Baker, Mrs. Mabel O'Donnell, Mrs. Ruth Kerr, Mrs. Bea Hazlett and Mrs. Nina Melhorn.

Some bar cookies may be left uncut in the pan in which they were baked, then cut as needed and served. For storing, cover the pan tightly with its own cover, transparent plastic wrapping or foil.

Gray Ladies Plan Vet Hospital Duty

Plans to establish a schedule for future visits to the Oakland Veterans Hospital in Pittsburgh are being made by the Gray Ladies unit of the Red Cross Chapter.

Seven members visited the hospital Monday as part of Red Cross service to military installations and hospitals.

The chapter is making plans to participate in the "Voices from Home" project in which local residents may have their Christmas greetings recorded to be sent overseas to servicemen. Those interested are to contact the chapter headquarters in the Mary Patterson Memorial.

Those who visited the hospital included Miss Phyllis Crook, Mrs. Gladys Lemon, Mrs. Florence Gloeckner, Mrs. Eva Hilton, Mrs. Lena Palmisano, Mrs. Dorothy Davis and Mrs. Marion Thompson, chairman of volunteer services.

Holy Joe Had To Go

No American ever could hope to master the twistings and turnings of Marxist theology.

But it isn't necessary to be much of a twister and turner to know why Stalin had to be discredited as a holy figure of Marxism. Joe had to go. It is surprising that the Communists waited so long to get his remains out of Lenin's tomb on Red Square.

All his pictures had been turned to the wall. The streets named after him were renamed. The statues that commemorated his power had been toppled.

If all goes according to plan, the last of the living Stalinists in Russia's top echelon of the Communist party also will be drummed out of the regiment of sainthood before Nikita Khrushchev calls it a day. When Molotov finally gets his — wherever he's going to get it, perhaps at the base of the skull, perhaps in a vein, perhaps in a nasty tumble from a window — Stalinism will be over as completely as Trotskyism. Trotsky got his in the forehead with a hatchet.

THIS NEVER will be comprehensible to Americans.

It is as outlandish as African voodoo.

It is as obscure as the quarrels of dogmatists in religion.

It is as petty as the spats of a group of girls.

It is as terrible as the exclusionism men have practiced against each other since the beginning of time—man's inhumanity to man.

The keepers of the Marxist faith reached that station by a hard and tortuous road. Nikita Khrushchev, currently the high priest of Marxism, rivaled only by Mao Tse-tung of Red China, got there by working bloody hand in iron glove with the Russian man of steel—Stalin himself — the same Stalin he now calls a butcher.

What, then, makes Khrushchev better than Stalin's other evil companions. Simply the fact they never renounced him and Khrushchev did renounce him. That makes them traitors to the new keeper of the faith. They must be destroyed, therefore, along with their patron saint.

They say this doesn't weaken the Communist Conspiracy; that the party is stronger than its rising and falling personalities. We don't believe it.

Communists kid themselves with the idea that their creed goes on, though its disciples change. Marx, himself, and Engels wouldn't recognize what has been done to their historically discredited preachments.

STALIN WAS no more a Marxist than your Aunt Lavinia. Khrushchev, who is a lot of other things, is no more Marxist than Methodist. What the guy is, with all due disrespect, is a 100 per cent, stem-winding, inlaid, guaranteed color-fast opportunist trying to stretch out his power on earth as long as he can.

Holy Joe had to go. They've taken his mummy out of the tomb on Red Square, to make room for Nikita's mummy—when the time comes.

One day someone will take that mummy away too, man-worship being the nature of what the deceivers in the Kremlin call "communism."

Except for Lenin, who wasn't around long enough to have his head blown off, there's room for only one object of adoration at a time in man-worship.

Right-To-Eat Regulations

Newburgh, N.Y., has dropped out of the news. But the state of mind its revised policy on public relief brought into existence is continuing to make news in other places. Washington, for instance. More particularly the District of Columbia, whose relief expenditures rose 600 per cent between 1940 and 1960, though its population increased only a meager 100,000 inhabitants. What caused the discrepancy?

The Newburgh state of mind suggests it was caused because too many District of Columbia residents learned how to work the angles on public relief.

The Newburgh revised policy on public relief is to ask about these things. What about long-term reliefers—are they looking for jobs? What about unmarried mothers — are they making careers of having illegitimate children so they can collect money for dependent children?

AS IT TURNED OUT in Newburgh, nothing much came of the revised policy because there weren't enough people involved in the Newburgh situation to constitute a representative cross-section.

But the idea had a powerful impact in all cities where relief had become a major public responsibility. In these cities, too, there was lively curiosity about local relief conditions. Were outsiders moving in to take advantage of relief policy? Were relief clients making careers of living off the efforts of others?

In the District of Columbia, where relief is administered by the federal government, nothing had been done about relief until the Newburgh policy made news. Thereafter, second looks were taken. Sen. Robert C. Byrd, (D-W. Va.), chairman of the District appropriations subcommittee, said relief expenditures had gone up so fast they looked like the budget of a welfare state.

MINDFUL of the fact that New York State had sent home hundreds of out-of-state relief applicants who were trying to get on the rolls, the District of Columbia looked for free-loaders. It will give more thought to rehabilitating unemployed persons whose jobs disappeared and left them stranded. It will look hard at illegitimacy. And it is deeply curious about long-term relief clients, to be sure they don't want relief in preference to a payroll.

Newburgh's problem was not unique. It made news because one city finally did in a gloves-off manner what hundreds of cities had been itching to do—take off the gloves and get the real feel of a problem that has plagued Americans since the first American settlers made rules about earning the right to eat because some of them would have liked to eat without working.

Let's Tell What We're Testing

Gov. Rockefeller of New York is urging the United States to start testing nuclear explosions in the upper atmosphere. Since the Kennedy administration has been laying off this kind of testing, to let the Russians draw all the criticism from nations frightened of fallout damage, this puts the matter into partisan politics.

Perhaps this is where it belongs. This might be the way to develop discussion about a matter that has been smothered in so much hush-hush the American people think of everything about nuclear blasts as a combination of voodoo and science beyond their comprehension.

But if this is where it's going to be—in partisan politics — discussion should bring out this central fact about nuclear testing:

What's being tested?

The Russians have exploded upward of two dozen nuclear devices, with no regard for protests about poisoning the earth's atmosphere with radioactive debris. They have not revealed what they are testing.

In the absence of information they could be testing nothing but the composure and tolerance of their neighbor nations, all of which they ultimately intend to destroy, according to their own statements.

There are only two reasons to test a weapon like a nuclear bomb. One is to make sure it has not deteriorated in storage. The other is for experimentation with some new function, like a firing mechanism. This would include the mechanism of an antimissile missile in this instance.

The United States learned in the handling of its astronaut demonstrations that the American people appreciate full publicity and complete candor. It learned that world opinion could be formed in its favor by refusing to hide behind a veil of secrecy.

If there is a good reason to resume upper atmosphere testing of nuclear explosions, the United States should say so and resume testing. If there is no good reason, the United States should let the Russians continue to show their contempt for the safety of their international neighbors.

It wouldn't make sense to add to the sum total of radioactive fallout for the sake of keeping up with the Russian Joneskies. It wouldn't even be good partisan politics, which often makes no sense whatever.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

One of the least emotional men we know refused to turn the clocks back ending daylight saving. He really blew his stack as he stood guard over home clocks and defied anybody to touch them.

His viewpoint made some sense. "I am a warm supporter for more daylight, not less," he declared, "and have been all my life. It makes no sense whatever to permit more daylight through months when it is in plentiful supply and forbid it at the first sign of months when it is hard to get."

"You'd better turn the clock back just like everybody else," his wife argued. "I am a nonconformist," he snapped, "and do not follow the crowd."

He grew quite excited and continued, "I am the captain of my wristwatch and the master of my fireside clocks. The world needs more sunshine."

"You're going to feel, lonely in 5 o'clock darkness and insisting the 6 o'clock whistles are blowing," argued the missus.

"Winter comes early enough to suit me. I am against any earlier arrival. Sunset has never been too late to suit my demands. If that be, radicalism make the most of it," thundered the man.

OUTER MONGOLIA has been admitted to U.N. and its delegate will enter as soon as Russia convinces him he will have to leave his pony outside and check his yak in the yak-room. Up to last week Outer Mongolia hadn't been able to get into the visitors' gallery. Only the National Geographic magazine people know where it is.

It was admitted in a deal lower than the ones figuring in political scandals. Outer Mongolia got in because it was coupled with Mauritania as an entry. The question submitted to the U.N. should have been "Wanna buy a yak?"

Outer Mongolia is situated somewhere between Rand McNally and the Missing Persons Bureau. Its people live simply and are happy. This will all end when its natives begin to read of U.N. doings. The favorite drink is fermented mare's milk. United Nations position on mare's milk at cocktail parties is yet to be put to a vote. But a battle is certain if U.N. cocktail bar is asked to include it on list of drinks.

Electronic Brain Business Booms

By Victor Riesel

PHOENIX

Where once they grew fine lettuce and cotton some 12 miles north of here, they're now whipping together sensitive electronic brains (computers) which can total your checks and bank balances in 32 millionths of a second — really not much of a trick in my case.

Victor Riesel

What makes this good news to the visiting easterner is the upbeat fact that he can see a vast new "business" in birth — just as the old-timers did when they got out to "Hollywood" and Culver City in the nickelodeon days.

With one exception — this new business of automation will hit the $8 billion mark in less than a decade. And that will be twice the size of the motion picture and garment industries combined. And it will make new jobs in just that proportion.

Just walk in the sun here and you see living evidence that the electronic brain means boom not doom and gloom.

Already the national computer business is big enough to send 4,000 delegates to a Washington, D. C., "Computer Conference" some six weeks from now.

As soon as you arrive here you feel the electric touch of the electronic brain business.

SOME 50 FEET from the Sky Harbor runways is America's — the world's — first "fly-in" bank. Cattlemen, mining and business executives roll their private planes almost up to the door, hop out, make their deposits and take off quicker than they could get out of a traffic circle.

And if you keep this from the children, I'm able to report that this bank, the First National of Arizona, has an electronic brain which pays cowboys by automatically produced checks.

Phoenix is but a corner of the burgeoning electronic industry, but to profile it is to write the future for much of our land.

Five years ago there were but a few hundred workers in the field. At that time the General Electric Co. set up shop with 136 on its staff.

Today GE's computer system department has two thousand and is building big new installations. General Electric, Sperry Rand, Motorola and Kaiser Aircraft and Electronics are the biggest among the 42 electronics firms which employ 11,000 people.

LAST YEAR the Arizona electronics people in the state did a business of $120 million. This year they expect the total to hit $165 million.

It's fascinating to watch the baby grow — here as in 50 other communities, from San Diego in one corner of the land to New York's Long Island in the other.

Here, for example, the GE Computer Department gets up an electronic "bookkeeper" which will displace few people, if any, but will make life easier for white collar folks in banks and other financial houses.

It is a data processing system which reads and sorts bank checks, computes account balances and delivers printed statements automatically.

In addition to this first fully automated bank bookkeeping system, there are plants here which make electronic brains which control, supervise or monitor such industrial operations as tin line operations for steel mills, power plant control for public utilities and chemical processes.

There is no doubt that these thinking machines cut down the size of work forces in the big plants up north.

NEITHER is there any doubt that thousands of new jobs are being created — and not in the computer installation alone.

The GE Computer Department people here tell me that their section alone has triggered considerable other business in the community:

"Some 5,900 people," said a GE executive, "have been brought into the state by our department alone. It has taken 2,200 additional homes to house them. There are one thousand more school children. 80 new retail establishments to fill the newcomers' needs and 1,400 job openings outside the computer department."

This, for just one of the two score companies, means that orders for construction, for clothing, for appliances, etc., adding up to millions of dollars, have been placed out of state.

Obviously, jobs are being created in the northern garment and lumber industries by the consumer demand of the computer people in the South and West.

If that "Man," away over in the East of Europe doesn't start anything, our land long will have prosperity as well as peace. That's the Phoenix formula. We're a land on the upbeat.

Mr. Klaus, Mr. K

By Truman Twill

I think the mumbo-jumbo over ditching the remains of Joe Stalin that have been displayed in Moscow twittered me more than most because I am hipped on an idea.

People who saw what purported to be the mortal remains of Joe and the all-weather Communist saint, Lenin, in Red Square assured me they were in a remarkable state of preservation. It was too remarkable. No one keeps that long.

Everybody knows by this time that the gimmick was to let the dumb populace file past and see the corpselike visages of these two big shots under glass. This was supposed to confirm popular faith in communism.

Movements like communism rely heavily on illusion to keep the people fired up. For instance, they had Joe's picture hung up everywhere, until his one-time bully-boy, Khrushchev, ratted on him in 1956. Then they took it down. They still have Lenin's picture on display, along with statues, to keep the gillies from thinking about other things. They've finally run up a statue of old Karl Marx, whiskers and all.

They're afraid of what might happen if Big Brother quit watching, that's what it amounts to. Here in the United States we hang up public officials' pictures and name babies Franklin Roosevelt Jones and John Fitzgerald Goldfarb. We monkey with the names of streets and bicker over who should have a likeness in granite, but no one takes it seriously.

The way things are in Russia and the way they have been in Germany, Italy and other dictatorships, though, there's hell to pay. Things start to get out of hand if Big Brother doesn't stay on the job.

And that's the idea I've been hipped on.

Since the symbol counts for more than the real thing, the real thing ceased to be important.

I doubt that Joe Stalin's remains were in Red Square and that what was represented as Lenin's remains were there. I doubt that Stalin had been around for a long time before they said he was dead.

I think Hitler bit himself to death long before they put out the story that he and his playgirl had ended it in a flaming torch. The fellow who made public appearances in Germany wasn't the real Hitler but an actor made up to look like Hitler. That's what I think.

I think original Mussolini had been stuffed with sawdust and hung up to dry long before they finally hung him up in the filling station with HIS playgirl.

Tell me where people have been conned into man-worship and I'll tell you where they're getting extra mileage out of the object of adoration. It's like Santa Claus.

One Santa Claus wasn't enough so they stereotyped Santa Claus and put one in every block and department store.

They reproduced the old man's face in plastic and hung it on the walls. They overdid Santa Claus so completely he became farcical, though people continued to cling to the original myth.

And that brings this to the inner core of my idea. Round up 50 unemployed actors who look and talk like Khrushchev. Put them in circulation all over the world. Make sure they have their pictures taken. Start a rumor that the real Khrushchev fell out of a window and is no more.

By the time they're ready for Khrushchev in Red Square, the jig will be up. We'll have 50 Khrushchev masks under glass throughout the world — each one looking more like Mr. K than he looks, himself. And we'll still have the 50 actors. It will be very confusing.

Plucky Finland

Finland's lifeblood is commerce —selling what it produces to buy what it lacks.

The plucky country, whose president recently visited Washington, D.C., has limited natural resources. Little or no coal or iron lie beneath Finnish soil. Its few copper and iron deposits will not stretch beyond domestic needs.

Finland's one abundant resource is the forests of pine, fir, and spruce that cover two - thirds of the country.

With the profits from forest products such as paper, pulp, furniture, plywood, lumber and cellulose, Finns buy food, raw materials, machinery and the wool, flax and cotton to keep the great spinning and weaving mills of Tampere in business.

Finland is about the size of Minnesota and Mississippi combined, and it is one of the world's northernmost countries. Nearly a third of it extends beyond the Arctic Circle.

As the climate is tempered by an offshoot of the Gulf Stream System, however, the soil produces grains, sugar beets, potatoes and vegetables. About 41 per cent of Finland's 4,500,000 people live on small farms — always with a timber plot attached.

Unanswered Questions

By David Lawrence

Economizing On Defense Seen Hazardous

It's easy enough to applaud the saving of 780 million in the defense budget as a step in the direction of much needed economizing in government spending but the issue isn't as simple as it seems on the surface. Here are the real questions that have yet to be answered:

David Lawrence

1. Is the United States taking a chance on its security by putting an arbitrary limit on the number of manned bombers and on the future development of manned-bomber weapons?

2. Was there any other $780 million in the entire 89 billion budget that might have been saved instead and a decision made in favor of national security?

3. What right has a president to refuse to spend money appropriated by law for national defense?

Just 12 years ago—on Oct. 31, 1949—when Harry Truman was President, this correspondent wrote:

"Must a president of the United States obey the mandate of a law of Congress and spend the funds it authorizes for the armed services? Or may a president disregard the instructions given by Congress and withhold expenditures as he sees fit?

"A precedent of far-reaching importance is involved in Mr. Truman's announcement that, although he signed the military appropriation bill which provides funds for a 58-group Air Force, he will not spend the extra 648 million and will allow only a 48-group air force. . . .

"The Congress made a mistake in voting for a 58 instead of a 48-group Air Force, but the law is on the statute books and if the President didn't like it he should have made clear that he would veto the bill and Congress would have had the choice of overriding the veto or amending the bill to meet the President's wishes."

Less than nine months after the foregoing was written the Korean War broke out and America was in need of every bit of military strength in the air that it could mobilize.

Looking back now many a military expert in air power would say that the United States cut its budget too much before 1950 and handicapped itself.

THE POINT is that guessing what will or will not ensure national safety on the military side is a hazardous matter. The moment the budget cutters come into the picture they put the burden of proof on the military men, who possibly could get along without the extra strength but cannot be sure that war isn't coming. Yet they must take the risk in the planning and in the execution of defense policies approved by the president.

There are today 600 B-52 heavy bombers in inventory—the real backbone of the U.S. Strategic Air Command.

They fly 10,000 miles without refueling, carry bomb loads estimated at 50 megatons to targets in Russia. Production will reach 744 planes by August next and will be halted. Then there's the B-70 supersonic-bomber program. It is still in the development stage.

Congress has urged an all-out program for a "full weapons system"—in other words, bombers of this type to be built as soon as possible. But now the executive branch of the government has cut back this project. It involves $180 million.

Was there no other item in the 89 billion budget that could have been saved so that national security in an advanced field of air power might be assured?

THIS IS AN ERA of great uncertainty as to the prospect of war. The House Armed Services Committee last May said:

"Without in any way intending to minimize the importance of the intercontinental ballistic missile, and with full realization that it may represent our highest order of deterrent and offensive capability at some time in the future, the committee has posed to itself and poses the question to the House:

" 'Are we proceeding too rapidly in the area of what is essentially an unknown weapon at the cost of weapons whose capabilities are tried and known?' "

Congress decided not to take a chance. It reasoned that "it's better to be safe than sorry." Now the administration has returned to the risk-taking doctrines that were proved mistaken when the Korean War broke out in 1950.

Military men are not convinced that man will ever be replaced in war or that missiles can be absolutely depended on to hit their targets. Manned bombers can be turned around, can switch targets and can do their own reconnaissance.

Was there no other $780 million of appropriations in the non-defense budget that could have been impounded. And does the President have the right to impound any expenditure that has been specifically authorized by law?

Where, it may be asked, is such a right given in the Constitution, except in the provision which requires that the House and Senate be notified of a presidential veto within 10 days after legislation is passed so Congress, as a co-ordinate branch of the government, may express its will?

Letter To Editor

This is just a new gripe about an old subject. The city income tax is to be voted upon soon and I hope the voters look around and ask themsleves this question: "What has happened in the way of progress with the many thousands of dollars collected?" Then vote and let your conscience by your guide.

I would like to comment on Mr. Frank Miller's letter. It was very well written and brings to light some very interesting subjects concerning all of us.

The raising of additional money and having taxes imposed that people that have voted against three times.

I believe I read an ordinance in The Review concerning the raising of money for this freeway project. I believe one part of the ordinance said that money was to be raised by a special tax in addition to all other taxes on every piece of taxable real estate in the city. Please correct me if I am wrong.

This is the joker in the deck that we the voting public are asked by certain citizens to vote for the city income tax when we can't see many results. We are told some money was used to cover deficits left over and a large amount used to administer the tax and we must not forget the oil on the streets.

If we vote this tax in remember Mr. and Mrs. Voter we can look for an increase in the rate of taxation.

C. A. BOLEY
1049 Peake St.

(Editor's Note: The wording of any bond issue ordinance is substantially as noted in Paragraph 4 of Mr. Boley's letter, but the legalistic phrasing doesn't mean exactly what it says. The clause he cites allows the county auditor's office to withhold each year from tax settlements due the city the amount required to pay the installment of principal and interest due on the bond issue. It does not authorize any "special tax." General obligation bond issues are retired out of funds that normally would be used for operating expenses.)

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The soldiers' relief commissioner, Charles Marton of W. 6th St., left for a visit with former Army buddies at Louisville, Ky.

Holy Joe Had To Go

No American ever could hope to master the twistings and turnings of Marxist theology.

But it isn't necessary to be much of a twister and turner to know why Stalin had to be discredited as a holy figure of Marxism. Joe had to go. It is surprising that the Communists waited so long to get his remains out of Lenin's tomb on Red Square.

All his pictures had been turned to the wall. The streets named after him were renamed. The statues that commemorated his power had been toppled.

If all goes according to plan, the last of the living Stalinists in Russia's top echelon of the Communist party also will be drummed out of the regiment of sainthood before Nikita Khrushchev calls it a day. When Molotov finally gets his — wherever he's going to get it, perhaps at the base of the skull, perhaps in a vein, perhaps in a nasty tumble from a window — Stalinism will be over as completely as Trotskyism. Trotsky got his in the forehead with a hatchet.

THIS NEVER will be comprehensible to Americans.

It is as outlandish as African voodoo.

It is as obscure as the quarrels of dogmatists in religion.

It is as petty as the spats of a group of girls.

It is as terrible as the exclusionism men have practiced against each other since the beginning of time—man's inhumanity to man.

The keepers of the Marxist faith reached that station by a hard and tortuous road. Nikita Khrushchev, currently the high priest of Marxism, rivaled only by Mao Tse-tung of Red China, got there by working bloody hand in iron glove with the Russian man of steel—Stalin himself — the same Stalin he now calls a butcher.

What, then, makes Khrushchev better than Stalin's other evil companions. Simply the fact they never renounced him and Khrushchev did renounce him. That makes them traitors to the new keeper of the faith. They must be destroyed, therefore, along with their patron saint.

They say this doesn't weaken the Communist Conspiracy; that the party is stronger than its rising and falling personalities. We don't believe it.

Communists kid themselves with the idea that their creed goes on, though its disciples change. Marx, himself, and Engels wouldn't recognize what has been done to their historically discredited preachments.

STALIN WAS no more a Marxist than your Aunt Lavinia. Khrushchev, who is a lot of other things, is no more Marxist than Methodist. What the guy is, with all due disrespect, is a 100 per cent, stem-winding, inlaid, guaranteed color-fast opportunist trying to stretch out his power on earth as long as he can.

Holy Joe had to go. They've taken his mummy out of the tomb on Red Square, to make room for Nikita's mummy—when the time comes.

One day someone will take that mummy away too, man-worship being the nature of what the deceivers in the Kremlin call "communism."

Right-To-Eat Regulations

Newburgh, N.Y., has dropped out of the news. But the state of mind its revised policy on public relief brought into existence is continuing to make news in other places. Washington, for instance. More particularly the District of Columbia, whose relief expenditures rose 600 per cent between 1940 and 1960, though its population increased only a meager 100,000 inhabitants. What caused the discrepancy?

The Newburgh state of mind suggests it was caused because too many District of Columbia residents learned how to work the angles on public relief.

The Newburgh revised policy on public relief is to ask about these things. What about long-term reliefers—are they looking for jobs? What about unmarried mothers — are they making careers of having illegitimate children so they can collect money for dependent children?

AS IT TURNED OUT in Newburgh, nothing much came of the revised policy because there weren't enough people involved in the Newburgh situation to constitute a representative cross-section.

But the idea had a powerful impact in all cities where relief had become a major public responsibility. In these cities, too, there was lively curiosity about local relief conditions. Were outsiders moving in to take advantage of relief policy? Were relief clients making careers of living off the efforts of others?

In the District of Columbia, where relief is administered by the federal government, nothing had been done about relief until the Newburgh policy made news. Thereafter, second looks were taken. Sen. Robert C. Byrd, (D-W. Va.), chairman of the District appropriations subcommittee, said relief expenditures had gone up so fast they looked like the budget of a welfare state.

MINDFUL of the fact that New York State had sent home hundreds of out-of-state relief applicants who were trying to get on the rolls, the District of Columbia looked for free-loaders. It will give more thought to rehabilitating unemployed persons whose jobs disappeared and left them stranded. It will look hard at illegitimacy. And it is deeply curious about long-term relief clients, to be sure they don't want relief in preference to a payroll.

Newburgh's problem was not unique. It made news because one city finally did in a gloves-off manner what hundreds of cities had been itching to do—take off the gloves and get the real feel of a problem that has plagued Americans since the first American settlers made rules about earning the right to eat because some of them would have liked to eat without working.

Let's Tell What We're Testing

Gov. Rockefeller of New York is urging the United States to start testing nuclear explosions in the upper atmosphere. Since the Kennedy administration has been laying off this kind of testing, to let the Russians draw all the criticism from nations frightened of fallout damage, this puts the matter into partisan politics.

Perhaps this is where it belongs. This might be the way to develop discussion about a matter that has been smothered in so much hush-hush the American people think of everything about nuclear blasts as a combination of voodoo and science beyond their comprehension.

But if this is where it's going to be—in partisan politics — discussion should bring out this central fact about nuclear testing:

What's being tested?

The Russians have exploded upward of two dozen nuclear devices, with no regard for protests about poisoning the earth's atmosphere with radioactive debris. They have not revealed what they are testing.

In the absence of information they could be testing nothing but the composure and tolerance of their neighbor nations, all of which they ultimately intend to destroy, according to their own statements.

There are only two reasons to test a weapon like a nuclear bomb. One is to make sure it has not deteriorated in storage. The other is for experimentation with some new function, like a firing mechanism. This would include the mechanism of an antimissile missile in this instance.

The United States learned in the handling of its astronaut demonstrations that the American people appreciate full publicity and complete candor. It learned that world opinion could be formed in its favor by refusing to hide behind a veil of secrecy.

If there is a good reason to resume upper atmosphere testing of nuclear explosions, the United States should say so and resume testing. If there is no good reason, the United States should let the Russians continue to show their contempt for the safety of their international neighbors.

It wouldn't make sense to add to the sum total of radioactive fallout for the sake of keeping up with the Russian Joneskies. It wouldn't even be good partisan politics, which often makes no sense whatever.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

One of the least emotional men we know refused to turn the clocks back ending daylight saving. He really blew his stack as he stood guard over home clocks and defied anybody to touch them.

His viewpoint made some sense. "I am a warm supporter for more daylight, not less," he declared, "and have been all my life. It makes no sense whatever to permit more daylight through months when it is in plentiful supply and forbid it at the first sign of months when it is hard to get."

"You'd better turn the clock back just like everybody else," his wife argued. "I am a nonconformist," he snapped, "and do not follow the crowd."

He grew quite excited and continued, "I am the captain of my wristwatch and the master of my fireside clocks. The world needs more sunshine."

"You're going to feel, lonely in 5 o'clock darkness and insisting the 6 o'clock whistles are blowing," argued the missus.

"Winter comes early enough to suit me. I am against any earlier arrival. Sunset has never been too late to suit my demands. If that be, radicalism make the most of it," thundered the man.

OUTER MONGOLIA has been admitted to U.N. and its delegate will enter as soon as Russia convinces him he will have to leave his pony outside and check his yak in the yak-room. Up to last week Outer Mongolia hadn't been able to get into the visitors' gallery. Only the National Geographic magazine people know where it is.

It was admitted in a deal lower than the ones figuring in political scandals. Outer Mongolia got in because it was coupled with Mauritania as an entry. The question submitted to the U.N. should have been "Wanna buy a yak?"

Outer Mongolia is situated somewhere between Rand McNally and the Missing Persons Bureau. Its people live simply and are happy. This will all end when its natives begin to read of U.N. doings. The favorite drink is fermented mare's milk. United Nations position on mare's milk at cocktail parties is yet to be put to a vote. But a battle is certain if U.N. cocktail bar is asked to include it on list of drinks.

Electronic Brain Business Booms

By Victor Riesel

PHOENIX

Where once they grew fine lettuce and cotton some 12 miles north of here, they're now whipping together sensitive electronic brains (computers) which can total your checks and bank balances in 32 millionths of a second — really not much of a trick in my case.

Victor Riesel

What makes this good news to the visiting easterner is the upbeat fact that he can see a vast new "business" in birth — just as the old-timers did when they got out to "Hollywood" and Culver City in the nickelodeon days.

With one exception — this new business of automation will hit the $8 billion mark in less than a decade. And that will be twice the size of the motion picture and garment industries combined. And it will make new jobs in just that proportion.

Just walk in the sun here and you see living evidence that the electronic brain means boom not doom and gloom.

Already the national computer business is big enough to send 4,000 delegates to a Washington, D. C., "Computer Conference" some six weeks from now.

As soon as you arrive here you feel the electric touch of the electronic brain business.

SOME 50 FEET from the Sky Harbor runways is America's — the world's — first "fly-in" bank. Cattlemen, mining and business executives roll their private planes almost up to the door, hop out, make their deposits and take off quicker than they could get out of a traffic circle.

And if you keep this from the children, I'm able to report that this bank, the First National of Arizona, has an electronic brain which pays cowboys by automatally produced checks.

Phoenix is but a corner of the burgeoning electronic industry, but to profile it is to write the future for much of our land.

Five years ago there were but a few hundred workers in the field. At that time the General Electric Co. set up shop with 136 on its staff.

Today, GE's computer system department has two thousand and is building big new installations. General Electric, Sperry Rand, Motorola and Kaiser Aircraft and Electronics are the biggest among the 42 electronics firms which employ 11,000 people.

LAST YEAR the Arizona electronics people in the state did a business of $120 million. This year they expect the total to hit $165 million.

It's fascinating to watch the baby grow — here as in 50 other communities, from San Diego in one corner of the land to New York's Long Island in the other.

Here, for example, the GE Computer Department gets up an electronic "bookkeeper" which will displace few people, if any, but will make life easier for white collar folks in banks and other financial houses.

It is a data processing system which reads and sorts bank checks, computes account balances and delivers printed statements automatically.

In addition to this first fully automated bank bookkeeping system, there are plants here which make electronic brains which control, supervise or monitor such industrial operations as tin line operations for steel mills, power plant control for public utilities and chemical processes.

There is no doubt that these thinking machines cut down the size of work forces in the big plants up north.

NEITHER is there any doubt that thousands of new jobs are being created — and not in the computer installation alone.

The GE Computer Department people here tell me that their section alone has triggered considerable other business in the community:

"Some 5,900 people," said a GE executive, "have been brought into the state by our department alone. It has taken 2,200 additional homes to house them. There are one thousand more school children. 80 new retail establishments to fill the newcomers' needs and 1,400 job openings outside the computer department."

This, for just one of the two score companies, means that orders for construction, for clothing, for appliances, etc., adding up to millions of dollars, have been placed out of state.

Obviously, jobs are being created in the northern garment and lumber industries by the consumer demand of the computer people in the South and West.

If that "Man," away over in the East of Europe doesn't start anything, our land long will have prosperity as well as peace. That's the Phoenix formula. We're a land on the upbeat.

Mr. Klaus, Mr. K

By Truman Twill

I think the mumbo-jumbo over ditching the remains of Joe Stalin that have been displayed in Moscow twittered me more than most because I am hipped on an idea.

People who saw what purported to be the mortal remains of Joe and the all-weather Communist saint, Lenin, in Red Square assured me they were in a remarkable state of preservation. It was too remarkable. No one keeps that long.

Everybody knows by this time that the gimmick was to let the dumb populace file past and see the corpselike visages of these two big shots under glass. This was supposed to confirm popular faith in communism.

Movements like communism rely heavily on illusion to keep the people fired up. For instance, they had Joe's picture hung up everywhere, until his one-time bully-boy, Khrushchev, ratted on him in 1956. Then they took it down. They still have Lenin's picture on display, along with statues, to keep the gillies from thinking about other things. They've finally run up a statue of old Karl Marx, whiskers and all.

They're afraid of what might happen if Big Brother quit watching, that's what it amounts to. Here in the United States we hang up public officials' pictures and name babies Franklin Roosevelt Jones and John Fitzgerald Goldfarb. We monkey with the names of streets and bicker over who should have a likeness in granite, but no one takes it seriously.

The way things are in Russia and the way they have been in Germany, Italy and other dictatorships, though, there's hell to pay. Things start to get out of hand if Big Brother doesn't stay on the job.

And that's the idea I've been hipped on.

Since the symbol counts for more than the real thing, the real thing ceased to be important.

I doubt that Joe Stalin's remains were in Red Square and that what was represented as Lenin's remains were there. I doubt that Stalin had been around for a long time before they said he was dead.

I think Hitler bit himself to death long before they put out the story that he and his playgirl had ended it in a flaming torch. The fellow who made public appearances in Germany wasn't the real Hitler but an actor made up to look like Hitler. That's what I think.

I think original Mussolini had been stuffed with sawdust and hung up to dry long before they finally hung him up in the filling station with HIS playgirl.

Tell me where people have been conned into man-worship and I'll tell you where they're getting extra mileage out of the object of adoration. It's like Santa Claus.

One Santa Claus wasn't enough so they stereotyped Santa Claus and put one in every block and department store.

They reproduced the old man's face in plastic and hung it on the walls. They overdid Santa Claus so completely he became farcical, though people continued to cling to the original myth.

And that brings this to the inner core of my idea. Round up 50 unemployed actors who look and talk like Khrushchev. Put them in circulation all over the world. Make sure they have their pictures taken. Start a rumor that the real Khrushchev fell out of a window and is no more.

By the time they're ready for Khrushchev in Red Square, the jig will be up. We'll have 50 Khrushchev masks under glass throughout the world — each one looking more like Mr. K than he looks, himself. And we'll still have the 50 actors. It will be very confusing.

Plucky Finland

Finland's lifeblood is commerce —selling what it produces to buy what it lacks.

The plucky country, whose president recently visited Washington, D.C., has limited natural resources. Little or no coal or iron lie beneath Finnish soil. Its few copper and iron deposits will not stretch beyond domestic needs.

Finland's one abundant resource is the forests of pine, fir, and spruce that cover two - thirds of the country.

With the profits from forest products such as paper, pulp, furniture, plywood, lumber and cellulose, Finns buy food, raw materials, machinery and the wool, flax and cotton to keep the great spinning and weaving mills of Tampere in business.

Finland is about the size of Minnesota and Mississippi combined, and it is one of the world's northernmost countries. Nearly a third of it extends beyond the Arctic Circle.

As the climate is tempered by an offshoot of the Gulf Stream System, however, the soil produces grains, sugar beets, potatoes and vegetables. About 41 per cent of Finland's 4,500,000 people live on small farms — always with a timber plot attached.

Unanswered Questions

Economizing On Defense Seen Hazardous

It's easy enough to applaud the saving of 780 million in the defense budget as a step in the direction of much needed economizing in government spending but the issue isn't as simple as it seems on the surface. Here are the real questions that have yet to be answered:

David Lawrence

1. Is the United States taking a chance on its security by putting an arbitrary limit on the number of manned bombers and on the future development of manned-bomber weapons?

2. Was there any other $780 million in the entire 89 billion budget that might have been saved instead and a decision made in favor of national security?

3. What right has a president to refuse to spend money appropriated by law for national defense?

Just 12 years ago—on Oct. 31, 1949—when Harry Truman was President, this correspondent wrote:

"Must a president of the United States obey the mandate of a law of Congress and spend the funds it authorizes for the armed services? Or may a president disregard the instructions given by Congress and withhold expenditures as he sees fit?

"A precedent of far-reaching importance is involved in Mr. Truman's announcement that, although he signed the military appropriation bill which provides funds for a 58-group Air Force, he will not spend the extra 648 million and will allow only a 48-group air force. . . .

"The Congress made a mistake in voting for a 58 instead of a 48-group Air Force, but the law is on the statute books and if the President didn't like it he should have made clear that he would veto the bill and Congress would have had the choice of overriding the veto or amending the bill to meet the President's wishes."

Less than nine months after the foregoing was written the Korean War broke out and America was in need of every bit of military strength in the air that it could mobilize.

Looking back now many a military expert in air power would say that the United States cut its budget too much before 1950 and handicapped itself.

THE POINT is that guessing what will or will not ensure national safety on the military side is a hazardous matter. The moment the budget cutters come into the picture they put the burden of proof on the military men, who possibly could get along without the extra strength but cannot be sure that war isn't coming. Yet they must take the risk in the planning and in the execution of defense policies approved by the president.

There are today 600 B-52 heavy bombers in inventory—the real backbone of the U.S. Strategic Air Command.

They fly 10,000 miles without refueling, carry bomb loads estimated at 50 megatons to targets in Russia. Production will reach 744 planes by August next and will be halted. Then there's the B-70 supersonic-bomber program. It is still in the development stage.

Congress has urged an all-out program for a "full weapons system"—in other words, bombers of this type to be built as soon as possible. But now the executive branch of the government has cut back this project. It involves $180 million.

Was there no other item in the 89 billion budget that could have been saved so that national security in an advanced field of air power might be assured?

THIS IS AN ERA of great uncertainty as to the prospect of war. The House Armed Services Committee last May said:

"Without in any way intending to minimize the importance of the intercontinental ballistic missile, and with full realization that it may represent our highest order of deterrent and offensive capability at some time in the future, the committee has posed to itself and poses the question to the House:

" 'Are we proceeding too rapidly in the area of what is essentially an unknown weapon at the cost of weapons whose capabilities are tried and known?' "

Congress decided not to take a chance. It reasoned that "it's better to be safe than sorry." Now the administration has returned to the risk-taking doctrines that were proved mistaken when the Korean War broke out in 1950.

Military men are not convinced that man will ever be replaced in war or that missiles can be absolutely depended on to hit their targets. Manned bombers can be turned around, can switch targets and can do their own reconnaissance.

Was there no other $780 million of appropriations in the non-defense budget that could have been impounded. And does the President have the right to impound any expenditure that has been specifically authorized by law?

Where, it may be asked, is such a right given in the Constitution, except in the provision which requires that the House and Senate be notified of a presidential veto within 10 days after legislation is passed so Congress, as a coordinate branch of the government, may express its will?

Letter To Editor

This is just a new gripe about an old subject. The city income tax is to be voted upon soon and I hope the voters look around and ask themsleves this question: "What has happened in the way of progress with the many thousands of dollars collected?" Then vote and let your conscience by your guide.

I would like to comment on Mr. Frank Miller's letter. It was very well written and brings to light some very interesting subjects concerning all of us.

The raising of additional money and having taxes imposed that people that have voted against three times.

I believe I read an ordinance in The Review concerning the raising of money for this freeway project. I believe one part of the ordinance said that money was to be raised by a special tax in addition to all other taxes on every piece of taxable real estate in the city. Please correct me if I am wrong.

This is the joker in the deck that we the voting public are asked by certain citizens to vote for the city income tax when we can't see many results. We are told some money was used to cover deficits left over and a large amount used to administer the tax and we must not forget the oil on the streets.

If we vote this tax in remember Mr. and Mrs. Voter we can look for an increase in the rate of taxation.

C. A. BOLEY
1049 Peake St.

(Editor's Note: The wording of any bond issue ordinance is substantially as noted in Paragraph 4 of Mr. Boley's letter, but the legalistic phrasing doesn't mean exactly what it says. The clause he cites allows the county auditor's office to withhold each year from tax settlements due the city the amount required to pay the installment of principal and interest due on the bond issue. It does not authorize any "special tax." General obligation bond issues are retired out of funds that normally would be used for operating expenses.)

Income Tax Up 4th Time

IN EFFECT about six months, the 1958 tax produced approximately $160,000.

The current measure, expected to bring in about $130,000 by the end of the year, had produced $90,100 at the last accounting. In a full year at the current rate, the estimated yield of the present tax ranges between $163,000 and $170,000.

Council placed the tax in effect Jan. 27 by overriding Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's veto of legislation originally enacted Dec. 29. Trades and Labor Council announced it would circulate petitions to force a vote, as it did in 1958 and 1959. The central body filed its petitions in mid-summer, clearing the way for the fourth test.

Barring repeal, the tax ordinance is scheduled to remain in effect through Dec. 31, 1964.

IF THE INITIATIVE ordinance is approved Tuesday, the repeal will go into effect when the County Election Board officially certifies the result.

Both office - holders and candidates have kept silent on the tax question, well aware that feeling over the issue was credited with a clean sweep that changed Council's membership from Republican to Democratic in the 1959 elections and in the 1961 primaries was credited with defeat of six of the eight Democratic incumbents.

Feeling against the Republicans who voted the tax twice was seen as the major factor in the complete change - over in the city's official family two years ago.

And the Democrats who took office on Jan. 1, 1960, and voted an income tax in December of the same year blamed the income tax issue for their defeat in the primaries last May.

Terms of mayor, tax collector, councilmen and the judge and inspector of election are for four years, the others for six years.

Countywide, voters will elect a jury commissioner to a four-year term. Candidates are Sam Urick, Democrat, and George C. Hill, Republican, both of Aliquippa.

Statewide, voters will elect a judge to the State Supreme Court. Candidates are Anne X. Alpern, Democrat, and Henry X. O'Brien, Republican.

They will also vote on five proposed amendments to the Pennsylvania constitution:

(2-A) to allow a governor, other than the one in office, when the amendment is adopted, to succeed himself for one additional term.

(3-A) to change the term of the secretary of internal affairs to begin on the third Tuesday of January after his election.

(4-A) to permit qualified veterans exemption from payment of all real property taxes on their homes.

(5-A) to permit county treasurers to be elected to succeed themselves

Midland polls are unchanged and include: Borough Building, First Precinct; 7th St. School, Second; Croation Hall, Third; 4th St. School, Fourth, and Midland Community Building, Fifth.

Polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m., William B. Smith, director of the Bureau of Elections at Beaver, said.

The county has 94,797 eligible voters, including 52,735 Democrats, 41,281 Republicans and 781 of other parties, according to records of James Keifer, director of the county voter registration office at Beaver.

Smith urged all to vote and "do it early." He said the elections "are important to the voters since, as taxpayers, they will have the opportunity to choose who will administer their local tax dollars."

Candidates, committeemen and workers will attend a meeting Thursday evening at the Midland headquarters on Midland Ave. near 7th St.

Final plans for the election will be made at a meeting Sunday at 8 p. m. in the headquarters open to public.

IN EFFECT about six months, the 1958 tax produced approximately $160,000.

The current measure, expected to bring in about $130,000 by the end of the year, had produced $90,100 at the last accounting. In a full year at the current rate, the estimated yield of the present tax ranges between $163,000 and $170,000.

Council placed the tax in effect Jan. 27 by overriding Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's veto of legislation originally enacted Dec. 29. Trades and Labor Council announced it would circulate petitions to force a vote, as it did in 1958 and 1959. The central body filed its petitions in mid-summer, clearing the way for the fourth test.

Barring repeal, the tax ordinance is scheduled to remain in effect through Dec. 31, 1964.

IF THE INITIATIVE ordinance is approved Tuesday, the repeal will go into effect when the County Election Board officially certifies the result.

Both office - holders and candidates have kept silent on the tax question, well aware that feeling over the issue was credited with a clean sweep that changed Council's membership from Republican to Democratic in the 1959 elections and in the 1961 primaries was credited with defeat of six of the eight Democratic incumbents.

Feeling against the Republicans who voted the tax twice was seen as the major factor in the complete change - over in the city's official family two years ago.

And the Democrats who took office on Jan. 1, 1960, and voted an income tax in December of the same year blamed the income tax issue for their defeat in the primaries last May.

They will also vote on five proposed amendments to the Pennsylvania constitution:

(2-A) to allow a governor, other than the one in office, when the amendment is adopted, to succeed himself for one additional term.

(3-A) to change the term of the secretary of internal affairs to begin on the third Tuesday of January after his election.

(4-A) to permit qualified veterans exemption from payment of all real property taxes on their homes.

(5-A) to permit county treasurers to be elected to succeed themselves

Midland polls are unchanged and include: Borough Building, First Precinct; 7th St. School, Second; Croation Hall, Third; 4th St. School, Fourth, and Midland Community Building, Fifth.

Polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m., William B. Smith, director of the Bureau of Elections at Beaver, said.

The county has 94,797 eligible voters, including 52,735 Democrats, 41,281 Republicans and 781 of other parties, according to records of James Keifer, director of the county voter registration office at Beaver.

Smith urged all to vote and "do it early." He said the elections "are important to the voters since, as taxpayers, they will have the opportunity to choose who will administer their local tax dollars."

John Reider, chairman of the Midland Republican committee, said a number of members will attend the Beaver County rally tonight at 7:30 at New Brighton.

Candidates, committeemen and workers will attend a meeting Thursday evening at the Midland headquarters on Midland Ave. near 7th St.

Final plans for the election will be made at a meeting Sunday at 8 p. m. in the headquarters open to public.

Holy Joe Had To Go

No American ever could hope to master the twistings and turnings of Marxist theology.

But it isn't necessary to be much of a twister and turner to know why Stalin had to be discredited as a holy figure of Marxism. Joe had to go. It is surprising that the Communists waited so long to get his remains out of Lenin's tomb on Red Square.

All his pictures had been turned to the wall. The streets named after him were renamed. The statues that commemorated his power had been toppled.

If all goes according to plan, the last of the living Stalinists in Russia's top echelon of the Communist party also will be drummed out of the regiment of sainthood before Nikita Khrushchev calls it a day. When Molotov finally gets his — wherever he's going to get it, perhaps at the base of the skull, perhaps in a vein, perhaps in a nasty tumble from a window — Stalinism will be over as completely as Trotskyism. Trotsky got his in the forehead with a hatchet.

THIS NEVER will be comprehensible to Americans.

It is as outlandish as African voodoo.

It is as obscure as the quarrels of dogmatists in religion.

It is as petty as the spats of a group of girls.

It is as terrible as the exclusionism men have practiced against each other since the beginning of time—man's inhumanity to man.

The keepers of the Marxist faith reached that station by a hard and tortuous road. Nikita Khrushchev, currently the high priest of Marxism, rivaled only by Mao Tse-tung of Red China, got there by working bloody hand in iron glove with the Russian man of steel—Stalin himself — the same Stalin he now calls a butcher.

What, then, makes Khrushchev better than Stalin's other evil companions. Simply the fact they never renounced him and Khrushchev did renounce him. That makes them traitors to the new keeper of the faith. They must be destroyed, therefore, along with their patron saint.

They say this doesn't weaken the Communist Conspiracy; that the party is stronger than its rising and falling personalities. We don't believe it.

Communists kid themselves with the idea that their creed goes on, though its disciples change. Marx, himself, and Engels wouldn't recognize what has been done to their historically discredited preachments.

STALIN WAS no more a Marxist than your Aunt Lavinia. Khrushchev, who is a lot of other things, is no more Marxist than Methodist. What the guy is, with all due disrespect, is a 100 per cent, stem-winding, inlaid, guaranteed color-fast opportunist trying to stretch out his power on earth as long as he can.

Holy Joe had to go. They've taken his mummy out of the tomb on Red Square, to make room for Nikita's mummy—when the time comes.

One day someone will take that mummy away too, man-worship being the nature of what the deceivers in the Kremlin call "communism."

Right-To-Eat Regulations

Newburgh, N.Y., has dropped out of the news. But the state of mind its revised policy on public relief brought into existence is continuing to make news in other places. Washington, for instance. More particularly the District of Columbia, whose relief expenditures rose 600 per cent between 1940 and 1960, though its population increased only a meager 100,000 inhabitants. What caused the discrepancy?

The Newburgh state of mind suggests it was caused because too many District of Columbia residents learned how to work the angles on public relief.

The Newburgh revised policy on public relief is to ask about these things. What about long-term reliefers—are they looking for jobs? What about unmarried mothers — are they making careers of having illegitimate children so they can collect money for dependent children?

AS IT TURNED OUT in Newburgh, nothing much came of the revised policy because there weren't enough people involved in the Newburgh situation to constitute a representative cross-section.

But the idea had a powerful impact in all cities where relief had become a major public responsibility. In these cities, too, there was lively curiosity about local relief conditions. Were outsiders moving in to take advantage of relief policy? Were relief clients making careers of living off the efforts of others?

In the District of Columbia, where relief is administered by the federal government, nothing had been done about relief until the Newburgh policy made news. Thereafter, second looks were taken. Sen. Robert C. Byrd, (D-W. Va.), chairman of the District appropriations subcommittee, said relief expenditures had gone up so fast they looked like the budget of a welfare state.

MINDFUL of the fact that New York State had sent home hundreds of out-of-state relief applicants who were trying to get on the rolls, the District of Columbia looked for free-loaders. It will give more thought to rehabilitating unemployed persons whose jobs disappeared and left them stranded. It will look hard at illegitimacy. And it is deeply curious about long-term relief clients, to be sure they don't want relief in preference to a payroll.

Newburgh's problem was not unique. It made news because one city finally did in a gloves-off manner what hundreds of cities had been itching to do—take off the gloves and get the real feel of a problem that has plagued Americans since the first American settlers made rules about earning the right to eat because some of them would have liked to eat without working.

Let's Tell What We're Testing

Gov. Rockefeller of New York is urging the United States to start testing nuclear explosions in the upper atmosphere. Since the Kennedy administration has been laying off this kind of testing, to let the Russians draw all the criticism from nations frightened of fallout damage, this puts the matter into partisan politics.

Perhaps this is where it belongs. This might be the way to develop discussion about a matter that has been smothered in so much hush-hush the American people think of everything about nuclear blasts as a combination of voodoo and science beyond their comprehension.

But if this is where it's going to be—in partisan politics — discussion should bring out this central fact about nuclear testing:

What's being tested?

The Russians have exploded upward of two dozen nuclear devices, with no regard for protests about poisoning the earth's atmosphere with radioactive debris. They have not revealed what they are testing.

In the absence of information they could be testing nothing but the composure and tolerance of their neighbor nations, all of which they ultimately intend to destroy, according to their own statements.

There are only two reasons to test a weapon like a nuclear bomb. One is to make sure it has not deteriorated in storage. The other is for experimentation with some new function, like a firing mechanism. This would include the mechanism of an antimissile missile in this instance.

The United States learned in the handling of its astronaut demonstrations that the American people appreciate full publicity and complete candor. It learned that world opinion could be formed in its favor by refusing to hide behind a veil of secrecy.

If there is a good reason to resume upper atmosphere testing of nuclear explosions, the United States should say so and resume testing. If there is no good reason, the United States should let the Russians continue to show their contempt for the safety of their international neighbors.

It wouldn't make sense to add to the sum total of radioactive fallout for the sake of keeping up with the Russian Joneskies. It wouldn't even be good partisan politics, which often makes no sense whatever.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

One of the least emotional men we know refused to turn the clocks back ending daylight saving. He really blew his stack as he stood guard over home clocks and defied anybody to touch them.

His viewpoint made some sense. "I am a warm supporter for more daylight, not less," he declared, "and have been all my life. It makes no sense whatever to permit more daylight through months when it is in plentiful supply and forbid it at the first sign of months when it is hard to get."

"You'd better turn the clock back just like everybody else," his wife argued. "I am a nonconformist," he snapped, "and do not follow the crowd."

He grew quite excited and continued, "I am the captain of my wristwatch and the master of my fireside clocks. The world needs more sunshine."

"You're going to feel, lonely in 5 o'clock darkness and insisting the 6 o'clock whistles are blowing," argued the missus.

"Winter comes early enough to suit me. I am against any earlier arrival. Sunset has never been too late to suit my demands. If that be, radicalism make the most of it," thundered the man.

OUTER MONGOLIA has been admitted to U.N. and its delegate will enter as soon as Russia convinces him he will have to leave his pony outside and check his yak in the yak-room. Up to last week Outer Mongolia hadn't been able to get into the visitors' gallery. Only the National Geographic magazine people know where it is.

It was admitted in a deal lower than the ones figuring in political scandals. Outer Mongolia got in because it was coupled with Mauritania as an entry. The question submitted to the U.N. should have been "Wanna buy a yak?"

Outer Mongolia is situated somewhere between Rand McNally and the Missing Persons Bureau. Its people live simply and are happy. This will all end when its natives begin to read of U.N. doings. The favorite drink is fermented mare's milk. United Nations position on mare's milk at cocktail parties is yet to be put to a vote. But a battle is certain if U.N. cocktail bar is asked to include it on list of drinks.

That Next Step Is A Beaut!

Electronic Brain Business Booms

By Victor Riesel

PHOENIX

Where once they grew fine lettuce and cotton some 12 miles north of here, they're now whipping together sensitive electronic brains (computers) which can total your checks and bank balances in 32 millionths of a second — really not much of a trick in my case.

Victor Riesel

What makes this good news to the visiting easterner is the upbeat fact that he can see a vast new "business" in birth — just as the old-timers did when they got out to "Hollywood" and Culver City in the nickelodeon days.

With one exception — this new business of automation will hit the $8 billion mark in less than a decade. And that will be twice the size of the motion picture and garment industries combined. And it will make new jobs in just that proportion.

Just walk in the sun here and you see living evidence that the electronic brain means boom not doom and gloom.

Already the national computer business is big enough to send 4,000 delegates to a Washington, D. C., "Computer Conference" some six weeks from now.

As soon as you arrive here you feel the electric touch of the electronic brain business.

SOME 50 FEET from the Sky Harbor runways is America's — the world's — first "fly-in" bank. Cattlemen, mining and business executives roll their private planes almost up to the door, hop out, make their deposits and take off quicker than they could get out of a traffic circle.

And if you keep this from the children, I'm able to report that this bank, the First National of Arizona, has an electronic brain which pays cowboys by automatically produced checks.

Phoenix is but a corner of the burgeoning electronic industry, but to profile it is to write the future for much of our land.

Five years ago there were but a few hundred workers in the field. At that time the General Electric Co. set up shop with 136 on its staff.

Today, GE's computer system department has two thousand and is building big new installations. General Electric, Sperry Rand, Motorola and Kaiser Aircraft and Electronics are the biggest among the 42 electronics firms which employ 11,000 people.

LAST YEAR the Arizona electronics people in the state did a business of $120 million. This year they expect the total to hit $165 million.

It's fascinating to watch the baby grow — here as in 50 other communities, from San Diego in one corner of the land to New York's Long Island in the other.

Here, for example, the GE Computer Department gets up an electronic "bookkeeper" which will displace few people, if any, but will make life easier for white collar folks in banks and other financial houses.

It is a data processing system which reads and sorts bank checks, computes account balances and delivers printed statements automatically.

In addition to this first fully automated bank bookkeeping system, there are plants here which make electronic brains which control, supervise or monitor such industrial operations as tin line operations for steel mills, power plant control for public utilities and chemical processes.

There is no doubt that these thinking machines cut down the size of work forces in the big plants up north.

NEITHER is there any doubt that thousands of new jobs are being created — and not in the computer installation alone.

The GE Computer Department people here tell me that their section alone has triggered considerable other business in the community:

"Some 5,900 people," said a GE executive, "have been brought into the state by our department alone. It has taken 2,200 additional homes to house them. There are one thousand more school children, 80 new retail establishments to fill the newcomers' needs and 1,400 job openings outside the computer department."

This, for just one of the two score companies, means that orders for construction, for clothing, for appliances, etc., adding up to millions of dollars, have been placed out of state.

Obviously, jobs are being created in the northern garment and lumber industries by the consumer demand of the computer people in the South and West.

If that "Man," away over in the East of Europe doesn't start anything, our land long will have prosperity as well as peace. That's the Phoenix formula. We're a land on the upbeat.

Mr. Klaus, Mr. K

By Truman Twill

I think the mumbo-jumbo over ditching the remains of Joe Stalin that have been displayed in Moscow twittered me more than most because I am hipped on an idea.

People who saw what purported to be the mortal remains of Joe and the all-weather Communist saint, Lenin, in Red Square assured me they were in a remarkable state of preservation. It was too remarkable. No one keeps that long.

Everybody knows by this time that the gimmick was to let the dumb populace file past and see the corpselike visages of these two big shots under glass. This was supposed to confirm popular faith in communism.

Movements like communism rely heavily on illusion to keep the people fired up. For instance, they had Joe's picture hung up everywhere, until his one-time bully-boy, Khrushchev, ratted on him in 1956. Then they took it down. They still have Lenin's picture on display, along with statues, to keep the gillies from thinking about other things. They've finally run up a statue of old Karl Marx, whiskers and all.

They're afraid of what might happen if Big Brother quit watching, that's what it amounts to. Here in the United States we hang up public officials' pictures and name babies Franklin Roosevelt Jones and John Fitzgerald Goldfarb. We monkey with the names of streets and bicker over who should have a likeness in granite, but no one takes it seriously.

The way things are in Russia and the way they have been in Germany, Italy and other dictatorships, though, there's hell to pay. Things start to get out of hand if Big Brother doesn't stay on the job.

And that's the idea I've been hipped on.

Since the symbol counts for more than the real thing, the real thing ceased to be important.

I doubt that Joe Stalin's remains were in Red Square and that what was represented as Lenin's remains were there. I doubt that Stalin had been around for a long time before they said he was dead.

I think Hitler bit himself to death long before they put out the story that he and his playgirl had ended it in a flaming torch. The fellow who made public appearances in Germany wasn't the real Hitler but an actor made up to look like Hitler. That's what I think.

I think original Mussolini had been stuffed with sawdust and hung up to dry long before they finally hung him up in the filling station with HIS playgirl.

Tell me where people have been conned into man-worship and I'll tell you where they're getting extra mileage out of the object of adoration. It's like Santa Claus.

One Santa Claus wasn't enough so they stereotyped Santa Claus and put one in every block and department store.

They reproduced the old man's face in plastic and hung it on the walls. They overdid Santa Claus so completely he became farcical, though people continued to cling to the original myth.

And that brings this to the inner core of my idea. Round up 50 unemployed actors who look and talk like Khrushchev. Put them in circulation all over the world. Make sure they have their pictures taken. Start a rumor that the real Khrushchev fell out of a window and is no more.

By the time they're ready for Khrushchev in Red Square, the jig will be up. We'll have 50 Khrushchev masks under glass throughout the world — each one looking more like Mr. K than he looks, himself. And we'll still have the 50 actors. It will be very confusing.

Plucky Finland

Finland's lifeblood is commerce —selling what it produces to buy what it lacks.

The plucky country, whose president recently visited Washington, D.C., has limited natural resources. Little or no coal or iron lie beneath Finnish soil. Its few copper and iron deposits will not stretch beyond domestic needs.

Finland's one abundant resource is the forests of pine, fir, and spruce that cover two - thirds of the country.

With the profits from forest products such as paper, pulp, furniture, plywood, lumber and cellulose, Finns buy food, raw materials, machinery and the wool, flax and cotton to keep the great spinning and weaving mills of Tampere in business.

Finland is about the size of Minnesota and Mississippi combined, and it is one of the world's northernmost countries. Nearly a third of it extends beyond the Arctic Circle.

As the climate is tempered by an offshoot of the Gulf Stream System, however, the soil produces grains, sugar beets, potatoes and vegetables. About 41 per cent of Finland's 4,500,000 people live on small farms — always with a timber plot attached.

Economizing On Defense Seen Hazardous

It's easy enough to applaud the saving of 780 million in the defense budget as a step in the direction of much needed economizing in government spending but the issue isn't as simple as it seems on the surface. Here are the real questions that have yet to be answered:

David Lawrence

1. Is the United States taking a chance on its security by putting an arbitrary limit on the number of manned bombers and on the future development of manned-bomber weapons?

2. Was there any other $780 million in the entire 89 billion budget that might have been saved instead and a decision made in favor of national security?

3. What right has a president to refuse to spend money appropriated by law for national defense?

Just 12 years ago—on Oct. 31, 1949—when Harry Truman was President, this correspondent wrote:

"Must a president of the United States obey the mandate of a law of Congress and spend the funds it authorizes for the armed services? Or may a president disregard the instructions given by Congress and withhold expenditures as he sees fit?

"A precedent of far-reaching importance is involved in Mr. Truman's announcement that, although he signed the military appropriation bill which provides funds for a 58-group Air Force, he will not spend the extra 648 million and will allow only a 48-group air force. . . .

"The Congress made a mistake in voting for a 58 instead of a 48-group Air Force, but the law is on the statute books and if the President didn't like it he should have made clear that he would veto the bill and Congress would have had the choice of overriding the veto or amending the bill to meet the President's wishes."

Less than nine months after the foregoing was written the Korean War broke out and America was in need of every bit of military strength in the air that it could mobilize.

Looking back now many a military expert in air power would say that the United States cut its budget too much before 1950 and handicapped itself.

THE POINT is that guessing what will or will not ensure national safety on the military side is a hazardous matter. The moment the budget cutters come into the picture they put the burden of proof on the military men, who possibly could get along without the extra strength but cannot be sure that war isn't coming. Yet they must take the risk in the planning and in the execution of defense policies approved by the president.

There are today 600 B-52 heavy bombers in inventory—the real backbone of the U.S. Strategic Air Command.

They fly 10,000 miles without refueling, carry bomb loads estimated at 50 megatons to targets in Russia. Production will reach 744 planes by August next and will be halted. Then there's the B-70 supersonic-bomber program. It is still in the development stage.

Congress has urged an all-out program for a "full weapons system"—in other words, bombers of this type to be built as soon as possible. But now the executive branch of the government has cut back this project. It involves $180 million.

Was there no other item in the 89 billion budget that could have been saved so that national security in an advanced field of air power might be assured?

THIS IS AN ERA of great uncertainty as to the prospect of war. The House Armed Services Committee last May said:

"Without in any way intending to minimize the importance of the intercontinental ballistic missile, and with full realization that it may represent our highest order of deterrent and offensive capability at some time in the future, the committee has posed to itself and poses the question to the House:

" 'Are we proceeding too rapidly in the area of what is essentially an unknown weapon at the cost of weapons whose capabilities are tried and known?' "

Congress decided not to take a chance. It reasoned that "it's better to be safe than sorry." Now the administration has returned to the risk-taking doctrines that were proved mistaken when the Korean War broke out in 1950.

Military men are not convinced that man will ever be replaced in war or that missiles can be absolutely depended on to hit their targets. Manned bombers can be turned around, can switch targets and can do their own reconnaissance.

Was there no other $780 million of appropriations in the nondefense budget that could have been impounded. And does the President have the right to impound any expenditure that has been specifically authorized by law?

Where, it may be asked, is such a right given in the Constitution, except in the provision which requires that the House and Senate be notified of a presidential veto within 10 days after legislation is passed so Congress, as a coordinate branch of the government, may express its will?

I believe I read an ordinance in The Review concerning the raising of money for this freeway project. I believe one part of the ordinance said that money was to be raised by a special tax in addition to all other taxes on every piece of taxable real estate in the city. This is the joker in the deck that we the voting public are asked by certain citizens to vote for the city income tax when we can't see many results. (Editor's Note: The wording of any bond issue ordinance is substantially as noted in Paragraph 4 of Mr. Boley's letter, but the legalistic phrasing doesn't mean exactly what it says. The clause he cites allows the county auditor's office to withhold each year from tax settlements due the city the amount required to pay the installment of principal and interest due on the bond issue. It does not authorize any "special tax." General obligation bond issues are retired out of funds that normally would be used for operating expenses.)

Holy Joe Had To Go

No American ever could hope to master the twistings and turnings of Marxist theology.

But it isn't necessary to be much of a twister and turner to know why Stalin had to be discredited as a holy figure of Marxism. Joe had to go. It is surprising that the Communists waited so long to get his remains out of Lenin's tomb on Red Square.

All his pictures had been turned to the wall. The streets named after him were renamed. The statues that commemorated his power had been toppled.

If all goes according to plan, the last of the living Stalinists in Russia's top echelon of the Communist party also will be drummed out of the regiment of sainthood before Nikita Khrushchev calls it a day. When Molotov finally gets his — wherever he's going to get it, perhaps at the base of the skull, perhaps in a vein, perhaps in a nasty tumble from a window — Stalinism will be over as completely as Trotskyism. Trotsky got his in the forehead with a hatchet.

THIS NEVER will be comprehensible to Americans.

It is as outlandish as African voodoo.

It is as obscure as the quarrels of dogmatists in religion.

It is as petty as the spats of a group of girls.

It is as terrible as the exclusionism men have practiced against each other since the beginning of time—man's inhumanity to man.

The keepers of the Marxist faith reached that station by a hard and tortuous road. Nikita Khrushchev, currently the high priest of Marxism, rivaled only by Mao Tse-tung of Red China, got there by working bloody hand in iron glove with the Russian man of steel—Stalin himself — the same Stalin he now calls a butcher.

What, then, makes Khrushchev better than Stalin's other evil companions. Simply the fact they never renounced him and Khrushchev did renounce him. That makes them traitors to the new keeper of the faith. They must be destroyed, therefore, along with their patron saint.

They say this doesn't weaken the Communist Conspiracy; that the party is stronger than its rising and falling personalities. We don't believe it.

Communists kid themselves with the idea that their creed goes on, though its disciples change. Marx, himself, and Engels wouldn't recognize what has been done to their historically discredited preachments.

STALIN WAS no more a Marxist than your Aunt Lavinia. Khrushchev, who is a lot of other things, is no more Marxist than Methodist. What the guy is, with all due disrespect, is a 100 per cent, stem-winding, inlaid, guaranteed color-fast opportunist trying to stretch out his power on earth as long as he can.

Holy Joe had to go. They've taken his mummy out of the tomb on Red Square, to make room for Nikita's mummy—when the time comes.

One day someone will take that mummy away too, man-worship being the nature of what the deceivers in the Kremlin call "communism."

Right-To-Eat Regulations

Newburgh, N.Y., has dropped out of the news. But the state of mind its revised policy on public relief brought into existence is continuing to make news in other places. Washington, for instance. More particularly the District of Columbia, whose relief expenditures rose 600 per cent between 1940 and 1960, though its population increased only a meager 100,000 inhabitants. What caused the discrepancy?

The Newburgh state of mind suggests it was caused because too many District of Columbia residents learned how to work the angles on public relief.

The Newburgh revised policy on public relief is to ask about these things. What about long-term reliefers—are they looking for jobs? What about unmarried mothers — are they making careers of having illegitimate children so they can collect money for dependent children?

AS IT TURNED OUT in Newburgh, nothing much came of the revised policy because there weren't enough people involved in the Newburgh situation to constitute a representative cross-section.

But the idea had a powerful impact in all cities where relief had become a major public responsibility. In these cities, too, there was lively curiosity about local relief conditions. Were outsiders moving in to take advantage of relief policy? Were relief clients making careers of living off the efforts of others?

In the District of Columbia, where relief is administered by the federal government, nothing had been done about relief until the Newburgh policy made news. Thereafter, second looks were taken. Sen. Robert C. Byrd, (D-W. Va.), chairman of the District appropriations subcommittee, said relief expenditures had gone up so fast they looked like the budget of a welfare state.

MINDFUL of the fact that New York State had sent home hundreds of out-of-state relief applicants who were trying to get on the rolls, the District of Columbia looked for free-loaders. It will give more thought to rehabilitating unemployed persons whose jobs disappeared and left them stranded. It will look hard at illegitimacy. And it is deeply curious about long-term relief clients, to be sure they don't want relief in preference to a payroll.

Newburgh's problem was not unique. It made news because one city finally did in a gloves-off manner what hundreds of cities had been itching to do—take off the gloves and get the real feel of a problem that has plagued Americans since the first American settlers made rules about earning the right to eat because some of them would have liked to eat without working.

Let's Tell What We're Testing

Gov. Rockefeller of New York is urging the United States to start testing nuclear explosions in the upper atmosphere. Since the Kennedy administration has been laying off this kind of testing, to let the Russians draw all the criticism from nations frightened of fallout damage, this puts the matter into partisan politics.

Perhaps this is where it belongs. This might be the way to develop discussion about a matter that has been smothered in so much hush-hush the American people think of everything about nuclear blasts as a combination of voodoo and science beyond their comprehension.

But if this is where it's going to be—in partisan politics — discussion should bring out this central fact about nuclear testing:

What's being tested?

The Russians have exploded upward of two dozen nuclear devices, with no regard for protests about poisoning the earth's atmosphere with radioactive debris. They have not revealed what they are testing.

In the absence of information they could be testing nothing but the composure and tolerance of their neighbor nations, all of which they ultimately intend to destroy, according to their own statements.

There are only two reasons to test a weapon like a nuclear bomb. One is to make sure it has not deteriorated in storage. The other is for experimentation with some new function, like a firing mechanism. This would include the mechanism of an antimissile missile in this instance.

The United States learned in the handling of its astronaut demonstrations that the American people appreciate full publicity and complete candor. It learned that world opinion could be formed in its favor by refusing to hide behind a veil of secrecy.

If there is a good reason to resume upper atmosphere testing of nuclear explosions, the United States should say so and resume testing. If there is no good reason, the United States should let the Russians continue to show their contempt for the safety of their international neighbors.

It wouldn't make sense to add to the sum total of radioactive fallout for the sake of keeping up with the Russian Joneskies. It wouldn't even be good partisan politics, which often makes no sense whatever.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

One of the least emotional men we know refused to turn the clocks back ending daylight saving. He really blew his stack as he stood guard over home clocks and defied anybody to touch them.

His viewpoint made some sense. "I am a warm supporter for more daylight, not less," he declared, "and have been all my life. It makes no sense whatever to permit more daylight through months when it is in plentiful supply and forbid it at the first sign of months when it is hard to get."

"You'd better turn the clock back just like everybody else," his wife argued. "I am a nonconformist," he snapped, "and do not follow the crowd."

He grew quite excited and continued, "I am the captain of my wristwatch and the master of my fireside clocks. The world needs more sunshine."

"You're going to feel, lonely in 5 o'clock darkness and insisting the 6 o'clock whistles are blowing," argued the missus.

"Winter comes early enough to suit me. I am against any earlier arrival. Sunset has never been too late to suit my demands. If that be, radicalism make the most of it," thundered the man.

OUTER MONGOLIA has been admitted to U.N. and its delegate will enter as soon as Russia convinces him he will have to leave his pony outside and check his yak in the yak-room. Up to last week Outer Mongolia hadn't been able to get into the visitors' gallery. Only the National Geographic magazine people know where it is.

It was admitted in a deal lower than the ones figuring in political scandals. Outer Mongolia got in because it was coupled with Mauritania as an entry. The question submitted to the U.N. should have been "Wanna buy a yak?"

Outer Mongolia is situated somewhere between Rand McNally and the Missing Persons Bureau. Its people live simply and are happy. This will all end when its natives begin to read of U.N. doings. The favorite drink is fermented mare's milk. United Nations position on mare's milk at cocktail parties is yet to be put to a vote. But a battle is certain if U.N. cocktail bar is asked to include it on list of drinks.

Electronic Brain Business Booms

By Victor Riesel

PHOENIX

Where once they grew fine lettuce and cotton some 12 miles north of here, they're now whipping together sensitive electronic brains (computers) which can total your checks and bank balances in 32 millionths of a second — really not much of a trick in my case.

Victor Riesel

What makes this good news to the visiting easterner is the upbeat fact that he can see a vast new "business" in birth — just as the old-timers did when they got out to "Hollywood" and Culver City in the nickelodeon days.

With one exception — this new business of automation will hit the $8 billion mark in less than a decade. And that will be twice the size of the motion picture and garment industries combined. And it will make new jobs in just that proportion.

Just walk in the sun here and you see living evidence that the electronic brain means boom not doom and gloom.

Already the national computer business is big enough to send 4,000 delegates to a Washington, D. C., "Computer Conference" some six weeks from now.

As soon as you arrive here you feel the electric touch of the electronic brain business.

SOME 50 FEET from the Sky Harbor runways is America's — the world's — first "fly-in" bank. Cattlemen, mining and business executives roll their private planes almost up to the door, hop out, make their deposits and take off quicker than they could get out of a traffic circle.

And if you keep this from the children, I'm able to report that this bank, the First National of Arizona, has an electronic brain which pays cowboys by automatically produced checks.

Phoenix is but a corner of the burgeoning electronic industry, but to profile it is to write the future for much of our land.

Five years ago there were but a few hundred workers in the field. At that time the General Electric Co. set up shop with 136 on its staff.

Today, GE's computer system department has two thousand and is building big new installations. General Electric, Sperry Rand, Motorola and Kaiser Aircraft and Electronics are the biggest among the 42 electronics firms which employ 11,000 people.

LAST YEAR the Arizona electronics people in the state did a business of $120 million. This year they expect the total to hit $165 million.

It's fascinating to watch the baby grow — here as in 50 other communities, from San Diego in one corner of the land to New York's Long Island in the other.

Here, for example, the GE Computer Department gets up an electronic "bookkeeper" which will displace few people, if any, but will make life easier for white collar folks in banks and other financial houses.

It is a data processing system which reads and sorts bank checks, computes account balances and delivers printed statements automatically.

In addition to this first fully automated bank bookkeeping system, there are plants here which make electronic brains which control, supervise or monitor such industrial operations as tin line operations for steel mills, power plant control for public utilities and chemical processes.

There is no doubt that these thinking machines cut down the size of work forces in the big plants up north.

NEITHER is there any doubt that thousands of new jobs are being created — and not in the computer installation alone.

The GE Computer Department people here tell me that their section alone has triggered considerable other business in the community:

"Some 5,900 people," said a GE executive, "have been brought into the state by our department alone. It has taken 2,200 additional homes to house them. There are one thousand more school children, 80 new retail establishments to fill the newcomers' needs and 1,400 job openings outside the computer department."

This, for just one of the two score companies, means that orders for construction, for clothing, for appliances, etc., adding up to millions of dollars, have been placed out of state.

Obviously, jobs are being created in the northern garment and lumber industries by the consumer demand of the computer people in the South and West.

If that "Man," away over in the East of Europe doesn't start anything, our land long will have prosperity as well as peace. That's the Phoenix formula. We're a land on the upbeat.

Mr. Klaus, Mr. K

By Truman Twill

I think the mumbo-jumbo over ditching the remains of Joe Stalin that have been displayed in Moscow twittered me more than most because I am hipped on an idea.

People who saw what purported to be the mortal remains of Joe and the all-weather Communist saint, Lenin, in Red Square assured me they were in a remarkable state of preservation. It was too remarkable. No one keeps that long.

Everybody knows by this time that the gimmick was to let the dumb populace file past and see the corpselike visages of these two big shots under glass. This was supposed to confirm popular faith in communism.

Movements like communism rely heavily on illusion to keep the people fired up. For instance, they had Joe's picture hung up everywhere, until his one-time bully-boy, Khrushchev, ratted on him in 1956. Then they took it down. They still have Lenin's picture on display, along with statues, to keep the gillies from thinking about other things. They've finally run up a statue of old Karl Marx, whiskers and all.

They're afraid of what might happen if Big Brother quit watching, that's what it amounts to. Here in the United States we hang up public officials' pictures and name babies Franklin Roosevelt Jones and John Fitzgerald Goldfarb. We monkey with the names of streets and bicker over who should have a likeness in granite, but no one takes it seriously.

The way things are in Russia and the way they have been in Germany, Italy and other dictatorships, though, there's hell to pay. Things start to get out of hand if Big Brother doesn't stay on the job.

And that's the idea I've been hipped on.

Since the symbol counts for more than the real thing, the real thing ceased to be important.

I doubt that Joe Stalin's remains were in Red Square and that what was represented as Lenin's remains were there. I doubt that Stalin had been around for a long time before they said he was dead.

I think Hitler bit himself to death long before they put out the story that he and his playgirl had ended it in a flaming torch. The fellow who made public appearances in Germany wasn't the real Hitler but an actor made up to look like Hitler. That's what I think.

I think original Mussolini had been stuffed with sawdust and hung up to dry long before they finally hung him up in the filling station with HIS playgirl.

Tell me where people have been conned into man-worship and I'll tell you where they're getting extra mileage out of the object of adoration. It's like Santa Claus.

One Santa Claus wasn't enough so they stereotyped Santa Claus and put one in every block and department store.

They reproduced the old man's face in plastic and hung it on the walls. They overdid Santa Claus so completely he became farcical, though people continued to cling to the original myth.

And that brings this to the inner core of my idea. Round up 50 unemployed actors who look and talk like Khrushchev. Put them in circulation all over the world. Make sure they have their pictures taken. Start a rumor that the real Khrushchev fell out of a window and is no more.

By the time they're ready for Khrushchev in Red Square, the jig will be up. We'll have 50 Khrushchev masks under glass throughout the world — each one looking more like Mr. K than he looks, himself. And we'll still have the 50 actors. It will be very confusing.

(Editor's Note: The wording of any bond issue ordinance is substantially as noted in Paragraph 4 of Mr. Boley's letter, but the legalistic phrasing doesn't mean exactly what it says. The clause he cites allows the county auditor's office to withhold each year from tax settlements due the city the amount required to pay the installment of principal and interest due on the bond issue. It does not authorize any "special tax." General obligation bond issues are retired out of funds that normally would be used for operating expenses.)

Income Tax Up 4th Time

IN EFFECT about six months, the 1958 tax produced approximately $160,000.

The current measure, expected to bring in about $130,000 by the end of the year, had produced $90,100 at the last accounting. In a full year at the current rate, the estimated yield of the present tax ranges between $163,000 and $170,000.

Council placed the tax in effect Jan. 27 by overriding Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's veto of legislation originally enacted Dec. 29. Trades and Labor Council announced it would circulate petitions to force a vote, as it did in 1958 and 1959. The central body filed its petitions in mid-summer, clearing the way for the fourth test.

Barring repeal, the tax ordinance is scheduled to remain in effect through Dec. 31, 1964.

IF THE INITIATIVE ordinance is approved Tuesday, the repeal will go into effect when the County Election Board officially certifies the result.

Both office - holders and candidates have kept silent on the tax question, well aware that feeling over the issue was credited with a clean sweep that changed Council's membership from Republican to Democratic in the 1959 elections and in the 1961 primaries was credited with defeat of six of the eight Democratic incumbents.

Feeling against the Republicans who voted the tax twice was seen as the major factor in the complete change - over in the city's official family two years ago.

And the Democrats who took office on Jan. 1, 1960, and voted an income tax in December of the same year blamed the income tax issue for their defeat in the primaries last May.

(4-A) to permit qualified veterans exemption from payment of all real property taxes on their homes.

(5-A) to permit county treasurers to be elected to succeed themselves

Musical Mix-Up

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Identical twins Wynne and Wayne Harrell direct instrumental music at two Wichita high schools. In a switch, the kind the 29-year-old twins once used to fool their teachers, Wayne directed Wynne's band in a Kansas centennial parade. And the students didn't know the difference.

Razing Order Hearing's Set

Basil Mangano, operator of East Liverpool Central Service, is scheduled for a Municipal Court hearing Friday morning on a charge alleging he has failed to comply with an order of a deputy state fire marshal instructing him to repair or tear down structures at 2101-2105 Michigan Ave. which he owns.

The affidavit was signed by George Boston of Washingtonville, deputy marshal for this area, alleging that the order was drawn up July 29, 1960, and served on Mangano Aug. 4, 1960, but that he has failed to comply with the alternatives of repairing the property to meet the state's requirements or tearing it down.

The property consists of buildings made up of several apartments and a nearby garage.

The state law in such cases provides a fine of $10 a day for each day of non-compliance, the fire department said.

The case originally had been set for a hearing today, but was continued until Friday because Atty. Donald E. Smith, defense counsel, is busy with another trial in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon. Acting Municipal Judge Paul Tobin will hear the case.

The affidavit alleges that Mangano did "wilfully fail, neglect and refuse" to comply with the order.

He is a veteran politician, having served on Council and as clerk. Kevan, who resides at 1504 Clark Ave., is an Ohio Bell Telephone Co. employe. He is making his first bid for public office.

Atty. William L. Bush, Republican, is unopposed in his bid for another term as solicitor.

In the Council - at - large race, the Democrats are pitting three veterans against the Republicans. The Democratic candidates are Allen C. Baldwin, 1708 Maple Ave., Donald E. Miller, 496 14th St., and Robert E. Taggart, 1927 Chester Ave. The Republican candidates are Aguin Bowling, 421 Broadway, C. William Stoddard, 1014 Center St., and Meryle D. Bowling, present First Ward councilman, is owner of the Busy Bee Lunch on Main St. Stoddard and Kenney are newcomers to politics. Stoddard is the owner of McGeehan's Restaurant while Kenney, an employe of Sterling China Co., is exalted ruler of Elks Lodge 1040.

Two other political newcomers are opposed in the First Ward—Elmer A. Daniels, Democrat, and Donald L. Stoll, Republican. Daniels, 307 2nd St., is a potter while Stoll, 427 Riverside Ave., is an employe of the H. K. Porter Co.

Clarence T. Cartwright, Democrat, and Dwight MacLean, Republican, are contesting in the Second Ward. Cartwright, the incumbent, is seeking a second term. He is a potter. MacLean, 800 Main St., is a retired school custodian.

In the Third Ward, Frank R. DeLonzo, Democrat, and Paul T. Todd, Republican, are opposed. Both are making their first bid for office. DeLonzo, who resides at 1200 Buckeye Ave., is a Pennsylvania Railroad counductor. Todd is a salesman for the Milliron Co. He resides at 1105 Center St.

In the Fourth Ward, incumbent William R. Stroble, Democrat, is opposed by Norman L. Haught, Republican. ## Musical Mix-Up

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Identical twins Wynne and Wayne Harrell direct instrumental music at two Wichita high schools. In a switch, the kind the 29-year-old twins once used to fool their teachers, Wayne directed Wynne's band in a Kansas centennial parade. And the students didn't know the difference.

Razing Order Hearing's Set

Basil Mangano, operator of East Liverpool Central Service, is scheduled for a Municipal Court hearing Friday morning on a charge alleging he has failed to comply with an order of a deputy state fire marshal instructing him to repair or tear down structures at 2101-2105 Michigan Ave. which he owns.

The affidavit was signed by George Boston of Washingtonville, deputy marshal for this area, alleging that the order was drawn up July 29, 1960, and served on Mangano Aug. 4, 1960, but that he has failed to comply with the alternatives of repairing the property to meet the state's requirements or tearing it down.

The property consists of buildings made up of several apartments and a nearby garage.

The state law in such cases provides a fine of $10 a day for each day of non-compliance, the fire department said.

The case originally had been set for a hearing today, but was continued until Friday because Atty. Donald E. Smith, defense counsel, is busy with another trial in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon. Acting Municipal Judge Paul Tobin will hear the case.

The affidavit alleges that Mangano did "wilfully fail, neglect and refuse" to comply with the order.

October Marked By Above Normal Rain, Temperatures

Above normal temperatures and rainfall marked October, according to Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, and a similar pattern is expected for the remainder of 1961.

Copeland pointed out that the year has been lagging some in temperature and precipitation, so that the overall average should be balanced out by the end of December.

Temperatures last month averaged 53 degrees, compared to the norm of 51.4. The temperature in October 1960 averaged 51.2.

The mercury hit a high of 83 Oct. 12 and dipped to a low of 27 Oct. 17 and Oct. 28. There were 10 cloudy days, six partly cloudy days and 15 clears days, making the sunshine average 58 per cent, compared to the norm of 50 per cent.

Rainfall amounted to 2.62 inches, slightly above the normal 2.52 for the month. There was 1.64 inches in October 1960.

Copeland said there still is a need for more rainfall in coming months to raise the water table in the district.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Is there anything at all I can do about my wooden desk in the office in which I work? It is inclined to splinter on the edges, and I am constantly snagging my stockings.

A. You can often cure this trouble by covering the offending edges with some colorless fingernail polish.

Q. How can I improvise an ink blotter when the real thing is not at hand?

A. Reach into your box of cleansing tissues. The loosely packed fibers of the tissues absorb ink even faster than some blotters.

Q. What can I do, when I am hanging new wallpaper and bubbles start to show in the new paper?

A. Clamp down on them immediately with a piece of tissue paper held in place with a warm iron.

Group To Study Need Of 'Super' Research In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The appointment of a committee to study the need for a super-research center in Ohio was announced Tuesday by Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, chairman of the Ohio Legislative Service Commission.

Sen. Kenneth F. Berry, R-Coshocton, will head the 11-member committee. Other members are Sens. Ray T. Miller Jr., D-Cuyahoga; Kline L. Roberts, R-Franklin; Eugene J. Sawicki, D-Cuyahoga, and Reps. # Evacuation Of City People Ahead Of Attack Abandoned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal govrnment has abandoned, for all practical purposes, the idea of evacuating city dwellers ahead of any oncoming nuclear bombs and missiles.

The Pentagon will not discourage local and state Civil Defense authorities from making evacuation plans if they choose, said a spokesman for the Office of Civil Defense.

But he added, "Evacuation certainly takes second place to fallout shelters in Washington's planning."

The fact now recognized, but never clearly acknowledged previously, is that fleeing into open countryside—even if there was ample warning time—would not protect populations from the major nuclear hazard, radioactive fallout.

One member of Congress, Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier, D-Wis., has demanded the removal of the blue "Civil Defense Route" signs that mark the highways of his state and others.

The signs are dangerous and misleading, Kastenmeier said in a letter to OCD Director Steuart L. Pittman, because they breed false hopes of escape by flight and "deceive people as to the real danger they would face in nuclear war."

While Kastenmeier waited for a reply, an OCD spokesman called attention to a little-noted talk by Pittman at a conference of local Civil Defense officials on Oct. 19. It amounted to a repudiation of evacuation as a basis for national protective planning.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Is there anything at all I can do about my wooden desk in the office in which I work? It is inclined to splinter on the edges, and I am constantly snagging my stockings.

A. You can often cure this trouble by covering the offending edges with some colorless fingernail polish.

Q. How can I improvise an ink blotter when the real thing is not at hand?

A. Reach into your box of cleansing tissues. The loosely packed fibers of the tissues absorb ink even faster than some blotters.

Q. What can I do, when I am hanging new wallpaper and bubbles start to show in the new paper?

A. Clamp down on them immediately with a piece of tissue paper held in place with a warm iron.

BPW Club Board Arranges For Visit Of South American

Further plans for entertaining a woman educator from Latin America were discussed at the meeting of the Executive Board of the Business & Professional Women's Club Tuesday night in the conference room of The Review. Three have been chosen to tour Ohio and one will visit here.

Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, chairman of the international relations committee arranging the events, said she will be here Nov. 17-23. She will tour several business houses and civic and government offices and visit several schools.

A reception will be held in her honor Nov. 19 at the Mary Patterson Memorial. This project is sponsored by the Pan - American Union in co-operation with the State Department and the National BPW Federation.

Miss Frances Jones, president, presided. Miss Helen Bibbee, treasurer, read the financial report and reported on the expenses of the recent district meeting.

The next dinner meeting is Nov. 8 when the national security committee will have charge of arrangements.

Evacuation Of City People Ahead Of Attack Abandoned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal govrnment has abandoned, for all practical purposes, the idea of evacuating city dwellers ahead of any oncoming nuclear bombs and missiles.

The Pentagon will not discourage local and state Civil Defense authorities from making evacuation plans if they choose, said a spokesman for the Office of Civil Defense.

But he added, "Evacuation certainly takes second place to fallout shelters in Washington's planning."

The fact now recognized, but never clearly acknowledged previously, is that fleeing into open countryside—even if there was ample warning time—would not protect populations from the major nuclear hazard, radioactive fallout.

One member of Congress, Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier, D-Wis., has demanded the removal of the blue "Civil Defense Route" signs that mark the highways of his state and others.

The signs are dangerous and misleading, Kastenmeier said in a letter to OCD Director Steuart L. Pittman, because they breed false hopes of escape by flight and "deceive people as to the real danger they would face in nuclear war."

While Kastenmeier waited for a reply, an OCD spokesman called attention to a little-noted talk by Pittman at a conference of local Civil Defense officials on Oct. 19. It amounted to a repudiation of evacuation as a basis for national protective planning.

School Bond Issue Awaits Test At Lisbon

LISBON — Village voters will cast ballots for the second time this year on a proposed operating levy and a $350,000 school bond issue in Tuesday's general election, which also features mayoralty and Council contests.

Up for consideration again is a proposed 3-mill operating levy which fell only 16 votes short of passage in the May primary.

The levy would provide about $18,000 annually towards operations of village government which has felt a financial pinch since Ohio Highway Patrol cases were transferred to County Courts a few years ago, reducing revenue from fines.

Also due for reconsideration by voters is the school bond issue, which would build a 14-classroom addition at the McKinley School. The bond issue failed by a mere 12 votes in May.

The levy requires 60 per cent approval, and the school measure 55 per cent.

Mayor Dean Stockman, 38, of N. Market St. heads a Republican ticket of incumbents which is challenged from Democrats for every village post.

Stockman, operator of a typesetting concern at Salem, seeks a second term against Robert Harrold, 436 W. Lincoln Way. Harrold (D), 52, is a theater manager.

Ray A. Hempstead (R) is after a second term as clerk-treasurer, and is opposed by Mrs. Mary E. Sowards of W. Lincoln Way, a beautician. Hempstead served as clerk before the two posts were merged.

All six Republican Council members are seeking re-election. They are Raymond Dixon, Joseph Dornon, Robert Kelm, Mrs. Blanch Neill, Clyde Pike and Alfred Steele.

They are opposed by Democrats, Russell Albright, Paul A. Brownfield. Walter J. Kampfer, C. Robert McNally, Matthias C. O'Brien and Rex Teagarden.

Incumbent GOP members of the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs, Paul S. Kuhns and Russell J. Shaw, are seeking new terms.

Also seeking the three board posts are Alfred J. Smith, (R), and Dale Kodrich. John C. Thompson and Walter Zeitler (D). Deane Beck, incumbent, is not running.

Also seeking re-election are three members of the Lisbon Board of Education — William Morgan, Edwin L. Kauffman and William J. Haifley. William F. Hiel of Garfield St., employe of the R. Thomas Works of the H.K. Porter Co., is also seeking a board post.

Driver Cited After Crash

A charge of drunk driving was filed by Hancock County sheriff's deputies against Ronnie James Daniels, 20, of Boise, Idaho, after a traffic crash Tuesday at 10:50 p. m. on Route 66.

Deputies said the Waterford Park employe lost control while driving south and crashed into a utility pole on the Newell Bend near the Newell Bridge.

Daniels' 1952 model sedan climbed the guardrails and smashed into the utility pole, causing some power lines to fall, deputies said.

He was treated at Weirton General Hospital for second degree burns of the hands suffered when he apparently grabbed a "hot" wire, the sheriff's office reported.

Deputies accused Daniels of driving with excessive speed and filed the drunk driving charge. Daniels is in County Jail in New Cumberland awaiting a hearing.

The mishap was the 110th of the year in the county, deputies said.

One Of Injured Quartet 'Critical'

Two city couples remain in Butler (Pa.) Hospital with injuries received in an auto crash Sunday night in East Brady as they were returning from a brief vacation.

Thomas Clark, 60, of Calcutta, driver of the auto that plunged down a steep hill and over an embankment when the brakes failed, remains in "critical" condition with severe chest injuries.

His wife, Mrs. Eva Clark, 53, and LeRoy Clark, 53, and Mrs. Bernice Clark, 46, the latter pair of Lincoln Ave., are listed in "fairly good" condition.

The brothers and their wives were returning from a vacation in Jamestown, N. Y. when the brakes on their car failed as they proceeded down a steep grade in East Brady, about 21 miles from Butler.

Missing Man Found Dead In Farm Field

The body of an elderly Hancock County man missing since Oct. 23 was found Tuesday afternoon at 4:20 by a neighbor searching for a cow on his adjoining farm at Pughtown.

Authorities believe Thomas Minesinger, 79, died of a heart attack last week while attempting to climb out of a gully into which he had fallen.

The body was discovered about a mile and a quarter from his home by Shields Mayhew, operator of the County Infirmary.

The cow which Mayhew had been looking for had given birth to a calf in a thicket about eight feet from where the body was discovered.

Mr. Minesinger, former county surveyor for many years, had been the object of an intensive search by sheriff's deputies, firemen and Pughtown area residents since he was reported missing.

He resided alone and had been afflicted with arthritis. Deputies said he apparently had walked through a wooded area to the point where the body was found.

Dr. J. E. Hall ruled death was caused by heart failure brought about by exhaustion and exertion.

Mr. Minesinger was born at Pughtown in September 1882 to George and Mariah Pittenger Minesinger. He was an only child.

He had been a school teacher in Pughtown for several years. He was a graduate of Ohio University and was a state officer of the West Virginia Grange and a member of Fairview Grange and the Pughtown Presbyterian Church.

The only close survivors are four cousins.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Turley Funeral Home in New Cumberland by the Rev. William H. Flurkey. Burial will be in Union Cemetery in Pughtown.

Friends may call at the funeral home any time.

Union Strikes Salem Firm

SALEM — Pickets were stationed today at the Deming Division of the Crane Co. as some 350 production workers struck after expiration of their work contract Tuesday midnight.

The pickets were posted at the S. Broadway entrance of the pump manufacturing concern, but did not interfere with office workers entering the plant.

Ed Hilland, district representative of the United Steelworkers, said the union and company management were unable to work out satisfactory provisions for a new contract about which they have been negotiating for 30 days.

The union, he said, asked for what amounts to a 3-per cent wage boost along with improved fringe benefits. He said union representatives yesterday offered a profit-share proposal which management turned down.

Workers met today at the CIO Hall and Hilland said it is hoped negotiations will resume later this afternoon or Thursday.

Civic Interests Of Rotary Aired

Interest in community projects was underscored by Fred W. Lyons of Youngstown, governor of the 665th district, in addressing the Rotary Club at Tuesday afternoon's meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

"Our slogan of 'Service Above Self' is now a formula for world survival, rather than a code of high personal conduct," he declared.

Making an official visit as district governor, Lyons met with club officers in an assembly at 11 a. m. before the general meeting at noon.

He is president of the Lyons Physician Supply Co. and past president of the Youngstown Club. He was introduced by Dr. R. Jay Kinsey, president.

Boats, Planes Speed Aid To Wrecked City

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Boats and planes rushed aid today toward Belize, a British Honduras city devastated by Hurricane Hattie's fierce winds, high tides and torrential rains.

Hal Holler, operator of radio station HR3HH for the Standard Fruit Co. at La Cieba, Honduras, said only two known casualties had been reported but that Belize, with 31,000 population, was virtually destroyed.

The government radio station and the tower at the air field were smashed, Holler reported, but a police emergency radio was in operation.

"The damage is appalling" said a radio message from the governor of the crown colony.

"Hurricane Hattie struck Belize with great severity. Damage to property is devastating. The sea invaded the town to depths of 9 to 10 feet," he said in an appeal for help intercepted by a ham radio operator.

It was reported that 30,000 Belize residents had been evacuated.

British Honduras, which is about the size of Massachusetts, has 60,000 inhabitants. The country's chief export is mahogany and lignum vitae.

Hurricane Hattie destroyed herself in the mountainous terrain after striking Belize with winds up to 200 miles per hour in gusts.

Driver-Less Auto Has Remarkable Run

SPRING VALLEY, Minn. (AP) — Mrs. John Kenning wonders if she could have done as well in the car. After she fell out on a turn, the car: crossed a highway, skimmed through a lot without touching some 1962 models, slipped between a pole and guy wire and went down an alley.

Only blotch on its record — the car crashed into a garage at the end of its weird run.

Missing Man Found Dead In Farm Field

The body of an elderly Hancock County man missing since Oct. 23 was found Tuesday afternoon at 4:20 by a neighbor searching for a cow on his adjoining farm at Pughtown.

Authorities believe Thomas Minesinger, 79, died of a heart attack last week while attempting to climb out of a gully into which he had fallen.

The body was discovered about a mile and a quarter from his home by Shields Mayhew, operator of the County Infirmary.

The cow which Mayhew had been looking for had given birth to a calf in a thicket about eight feet from where the body was discovered.

Mr. Minesinger, former county surveyor for many years, had been the object of an intensive search by sheriff's deputies, firemen and Pughtown area residents since he was reported missing.

He resided alone and had been afflicted with arthritis. Deputies said he apparently had walked through a wooded area to the point where the body was found.

Dr. J. E. Hall ruled death was caused by heart failure brought about by exhaustion and exertion.

Mr. Minesinger was born at Pughtown in September 1882 to George and Mariah Pittenger Minesinger. He was an only child.

He had been a school teacher in Pughtown for several years. He was a graduate of Ohio University and was a state officer of the West Virginia Grange and a member of Fairview Grange and the Pughtown Presbyterian Church.

The only close survivors are four cousins.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Turley Funeral Home in New Cumberland by the Rev. William H. Flurkey. Burial will be in Union Cemetery in Pughtown.

Friends may call at the funeral home any time.

Union Strikes Salem Firm

SALEM — Pickets were stationed today at the Deming Division of the Crane Co. as some 350 production workers struck after expiration of their work contract Tuesday midnight.

The pickets were posted at the S. Broadway entrance of the pump manufacturing concern, but did not interfere with office workers entering the plant.

Ed Hilland, district representative of the United Steelworkers, said the union and company management were unable to work out satisfactory provisions for a new contract about which they have been negotiating for 30 days.

The union, he said, asked for what amounts to a 3-per cent wage boost along with improved fringe benefits. He said union representatives yesterday offered a profit-share proposal which management turned down.

Workers met today at the CIO Hall and Hilland said it is hoped negotiations will resume later this afternoon or Thursday.

Civic Interests Of Rotary Aired

Interest in community projects was underscored by Fred W. Lyons of Youngstown, governor of the 665th district, in addressing the Rotary Club at Tuesday afternoon's meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

"Our slogan of 'Service Above Self' is now a formula for world survival, rather than a code of high personal conduct," he declared.

Making an official visit as district governor, Lyons met with club officers in an assembly at 11 a. m. before the general meeting at noon.

Boats, Planes Speed Aid To Wrecked City

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Boats and planes rushed aid today toward Belize, a British Honduras city devastated by Hurricane Hattie's fierce winds, high tides and torrential rains.

Hal Holler, operator of radio station HR3HH for the Standard Fruit Co. at La Cieba, Honduras, said only two known casualties had been reported but that Belize, with 31,000 population, was virtually destroyed.

The government radio station and the tower at the air field were smashed, Holler reported, but a police emergency radio was in operation.

"The damage is appalling" said a radio message from the governor of the crown colony.

"Hurricane Hattie struck Belize with great severity. Damage to property is devastating. The sea invaded the town to depths of 9 to 10 feet," he said in an appeal for help intercepted by a ham radio operator.

It was reported that 30,000 Belize residents had been evacuated.

British Honduras, which is about the size of Massachusetts, has 60,000 inhabitants. The country's chief export is mahogany and lignum vitae.

Driver-Less Auto Has Remarkable Run

SPRING VALLEY, Minn. (AP) — Mrs. John Kenning wonders if she could have done as well in the car. After she fell out on a turn, the car crossed a highway, skimmed through a lot without touching some 1962 models, slipped between a pole and guy wire and went down an alley.

Only blotch on its record — the car crashed into a garage at the end of its weird run.

Dentistry Solves Bright Gold Fillings

BUFFALO, N. Y., (AP) — Dentistry has solved the problem of using gold for its good filling qualities without making a patient's mouth look like a jewelry store window.

Dr. John F. Johnson of the Indiana University School of Dentistry told a dental meeting here recently that porcelain veneers baked to the gold filling surface cover the gold and closely resemble the color and surface texture of natural teeth.

The new process is based on a natural binding that exists between gold and porcelain when they are baked together.

Dentistry Solves Bright Gold Fillings

BUFFALO, N. Y., (AP) — Dentistry has solved the problem of using gold for its good filling qualities without making a patient's mouth look like a jewelry store window.

Dr. John F. Johnson of the Indiana University School of Dentistry told a dental meeting here recently that porcelain veneers baked to the gold filling surface cover the gold and closely resemble the color and surface texture of natural teeth.

The new process is based on a natural binding that exists between gold and porcelain when they are baked together.

Cause For Concern, Not Yet For Alarm

Fallout From Bomb Tests Can Be Lion Or Mosquito

(Soviet weapons testing has set off a world-wide wave of concern over radioactive fallout. Can the hazards, to you and your family, be accurately assessed? What's the best scientific consensus? This is the first of three articles on the subject.)

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The scariest word of the day is fallout.

But experts say no one can point to any human being and declare: "He's been hurt by fallout from bomb tests." Or: "That woman's baby will be born defective because of fallout, or her grandchildren will."

The odds are practically nil that present amounts of fallout will hurt you as an individual.

Yet it is equally true that some people somewhere will be damaged or will die too soon—possibly ultimately thousands of people—from fallout already loosed by bomb tests.

The Soviet 50-megaton bomb test could add perhaps hundreds or even thousands of potential victims to the list.

But one fact must be made clear. All such estimates mean thousands out of hundreds of millions or even billions of persons who would be born in the next 30, 50 to 100 years or more.

"Fallout" triggers a host of other scary words: Radioactivity. Mystery. Bone cancer. "Poisoned milk" for babies. Children doomed from bad genes. Leukemia. Strontium. Ashes of death.

Fallout stirs vast emotions, including worry that testing of weapons increases chances of nuclear war.

For 15 years, scientists have been gathering the story about fallout.

But they cannot yet answer a key question: Exactly how little radiation does it take to cause human cancer or leukemia? Or to damage the genes which determine the inheritance of our children?

This is one basis for statements by scientists which seem confusing often to the public.

Some say the effects from past and present fallout are too tiny even to measure. They do not deny there will not be some effects.

Others estimate numbers.

Thus Dr. Linus Pauling, Nobel Prize-winning chemist, estimates 40,000 children would be born with physical and mental defects as a direct consequence of a single 50-megaton bomb. He says this would happen during the next several generations—60 to 90 years or more—among an estimated 100 million children born each year all around the world.

Fallout even from the Soviet tests, says a U. S. Public Health Service official. "is a cause for concern, but not yet for alarm."

Look at the significant details in the fallout story, and you can judge better for yourself what the hazards are.

First, fallout can be a lion or a mosquito, relatively speaking.

The lion-sized danger would come in H-bomb warfare.

Bombs striking cities and missile bases would suck up millions of tons of dirt, making it highly radioactive, carrying it perhaps 20 miles high.

In an hour, it would start falling down, carpeting great areas with radioactivity if they did not have shelter.

In 48 hours, it would lose 99 per cent of its intensity, and become safe enough so you could move about, or get out of the area.

Fallout from bomb testing is a mosquito compared with war bombings.

Scientists generally agree that all the radioactivity from testing —until the Soviets resumed—had increased by only a few per cent the amount of natural radioactivity in which all humans have always lived.

Current Soviet tests could increase the added amount by two-thirds. But that still means perhaps a total over-all of 5 to 6 per cent more radiation than has always existed naturally.

What, first of all, is the natural or background radiation?

It means that every minute, 5,400 potassium atoms break down and emit rays in the body of a 130-pound person.

Every minute, more than 2,000 radioactive carbon-14 atoms explode also.

You get in food the radioactive potassium, which has always been on the earth. Carbon-14 atoms, created by cosmic rays, drift down from the atmosphere to enter living plants, animals, and human beings.

Cosmic rays zip through the human body at a rate of about 1,000 per minute, and some might cause genetic changes. If you live at an altitude of one mile, as in Denver, you are hit by twice as many cosmic rays as persons at sea level.

We all breathe radioactive gases from radium and thorium.

Uranium, radium and thorium in the ground, and in rocks, in cement and in bricks, shoot at you constantly with X rays.

All of this unavoidably adds up to an average exposure of about 4½ roentgens of radiation in 30 years of living. Roentgens are a measure of radiation intensity. An efficient X ray of the chest exposes you to 1-10th to 1-25 of one roentgen.

A 5 per cent increase in radiation due to bomb test fallout means that in 30 years, the average person would get exposed to about 1-5th of a roentgen more.

But there are other important considerations beyond this.

Next: Fallout and effects on heredity.

4 From District Due Tax Refunds

The names of two city residents and one each from East Palestine and Weirton are included in a list of 506 taxpayers whose 1960 income tax refund checks have been returned by the Post Office as undeliverable, according to Melvin J. Burton, district director for the Internal Revenue Service office at Cleveland.

The undeliverable checks for the district total $32,579.77 and range from 60 cents to $4,521.31. Most of the checks are undeliverable because of failure to provide a forwarding address, illegible writing on the tax return and incorrect or incomplete address supplied by the taxpayer.

Listed in East Liverpool are Mary L. Cielo, 1005 May St., and Cliford Shultz, 203½ W. 3rd St. Also listed are Mary L Mussi of East Palestine R. D. 1 and V. & M. A. Colaianni Jr. of Weirton R. D. 1.

All personal contacts, telephone calls or correspondence regarding the checks should be directed to the District Director's Office, 626 Huron Rd., Cleveland 15.

Today, the department is reading results of TB tests given at United Local School to seniors and eighth graders Monday. Thursday the staff will read Franklin's tests, Dr. Palmer said.

Complaints Over New Mail Plan Seen Lessening

"Bugs" gradually are disappearing from the new sectional mailing system as it starts its second month of operation today, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said.

Brown said complaints about late deliveries are dwindling as regional field officers visit various post offices to seek remedies.

Mail apparently is being processed faster in the 20 sectional centers established throughout Ohio, the postmaster explained.

Brown said there were some complaints regarding late arrival of first class mail but said actually there were very few. The majority of complaints concerned the late arrival of out-of-town newspapers, he said.

Under the sectional mailing plan, designed to provide next-day delivery anywhere in Ohio, all mail from East Liverpool is sent to Steubenville, eliminating five "star routes" which formerly served the city.

Income Tax Refund Checks Are Unclaimed

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service district office here is holding checks for 506 taxpayers whose refunds on 1960 income taxes remain unclaimed. The checks, returned by the post office as undeliverable, range from 60 cents to $4,521 and total $32,579.

Melvin J. Burton, district IRS director, said applications for reissuance of the checks must be made in person or by mail at his office.

Leaders Are Due Latest Picture On Ohio Finances

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he wants to present leaders of the legislature an up-to-date picture of state revenues and expenditures.

He said Tuesday he would ask the legislative leaders to meet with him before the Nov. 14 financial session of the General Assembly scheduled because of his veto of second-year appropriations he termed inadequate to run the state.

The governor said revenues will be down because of tax exemptions granted by the legislature.

Leaders of the Republican-dominated legislature have not contacted him or Finance Director James H. Maloon for any figures, DiSalle said.

Indications are the legislature probably will act on a new appropriations bill to run the state for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1962, instead of trying to override the Democratic executive's budget veto.

Ohio Congressmen Seen Opposed To Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP)—An undercurrent of opposition exists among Ohio's congressmen of both parties to a proposed state constitutional amendment permitting state senators to make appointments to fill vacancies in their own ranks.

Members of Congress cite the usual objection to substituting appointments for elections, but there's a much more basic political reason for their opposition.

As one Republican congressman explained it, some feel if the amendment is approved in the Nov. 7 statewide election it would amount to a blanket invitation for any state senator to run for congress without jeopardizing his legislative seat.

The congressman, declining to be quoted by name, explained it this way:

Since state Senate terms recently were raised from two to four years, a senator could make an off-year campaign for a two-year term in Congress without giving up his Senate seat and without being subject to criticism for making an expensive special election necessary in case he won.

If he won, his vacant senate seat would simply be filled by senators of the party to which he belonged, under the proposed amendment.

If he lost, he would have risked nothing and would still have his legislative seat, opponents argue.

This theory is also recognized by some state election officials, one of whom wrote a congressman pointing it out.

The GOP congressmen said, "You just can't put that much power in the hands of those affected." A Democrat agreed, saying the amendment would undermine the elective process.

One congressman said Ohio's Washington delegation — Republicans and Democrats—"have never before been so united as they are against this thing."

Congressional sources also say the proposal would lead to extreme political pressure on prospective appointees for vacant Senate seats.

For instance, one said, if a vacancy occurred at the time of a close Senate battle on a controversial bill, party leaders considering an appointment to fill the vacancy "are going to have interviews" to make sure the appointee will vote with them.

And, opponents say, "The voters would have nothing to say about a caucus in which they pick a buddy."

The proposed amendment, No. 1 on the ballot, would provide that in case of a Senate vacancy caused by "death, resignation or otherwise, the remaining members of the Senate who are of the same political party as the person last elected to the vacated seat shall choose a successor to fill such vacancy."

Supporters of the amendment argue that it would serve to eliminate the expense of special elections, but congressional opponents say this would be a strong point in favor of state senators running for Congress in mid-term.

They wouldn't have to face the "valid criticism" that they would cost the taxpayers an extra election if they won, said the GOP congressman.

Several Weeks Seen For Ruling In Ouster Case

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — Special Commissioner John L. Davis says it will be several weeks before he makes any recommendations in the Campbell County ouster case.

Davis was here Tuesday to listen to defense and character witnesses for Sheriff Norbert Roll. Roll and Harry Stuart, county police chief, face ouster proceedings on neglect of duty charges.

Davis said state and defense attorneys will receive transcripts of Tuesday's testimony in about a week. The attorneys will then have two weeks to submit briefs. Davis said he will present his findings to Gov. Bert Combs soon after that.

Chief defense witness Tuesday was Deputy Sheriff Stanley Kemmerling, who testified he had never seen any gambling in the county. The deputy said he knew little about gambling devices except what he had seen on television.

National Authority On Hunting Dogs Dies

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—J. Horace Lytle, a national authority on hunting dogs, died Tuesday in Miami Valley Hospital. He was 77.

Lytle, who had his own advertising agency here from 1919 to 1945, gave up that business to devote full time to dogs. He was a member of the editorial staff of "Field and Stream" magazine from 1925 to 1946 and later was associate editor of "Sports Afield." Last August he was elected to the Field Trial Hall of Fame.

Cleveland Concern To Be Second Largest

CLEVELAND (AP) — Stockholders of the M.A. Hanna Co. have voted to make the firm the second largest closed-end investment company in the country, with assets of more than $500 million.

Under a plan approved overwhelmingly by shareholders Tuesday, a new class of common stock has been established and 14 million shares authorized. It is to be exchanged on a 4-for-1 basis for the existing 2,057,374 Class A and 1,030,066 Class B shares.

Invites GOP Primary Fight

Nixon Puts Rockefeller And Goldwater 'On Spot'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard M. Nixon has put Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., on the spot by inviting them to fight in the primaries for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

Nixon, seeking the California governorship in 1962, has declared himself out of the presidential primaries and has implied that his support will go to the man who proves to be the best vote-getter in the period before the national convention.

Any such support would be vital if Nixon were elected governor of California and resisted a movement which would be sure to spring up then to draft him for a second presidential nomination.

But his "let's you and him fight" invitation to Rockefeller and Goldwater to mix it up in the primaries has some built-in drawbacks for both of his possible rivals for the nomination.

Rockefeller needs to get re-elected next year before he can even start thinking about such primaries. These contests, which President Kennedy demonstrated in 1960 can build a man up for the nomination and knock others down, come at an inconvenient time for a New York governor to be away from his job. He has a legislature on his hands during much of the time when he might need to be beating the bushes in other states for support.

Goldwater's problem is somewhat different. He has to decide whether he wants to run for president -- or vice president — or whether he wants another term in the Senate. Goldwater has the feeling that if he ventures into presidential primaries the home folk will conclude he is tired of his Senate job.

While he could wait out the national convention to announce that he was running again for the Senate, he has the idea that it might be too late to get the ball rolling fast enough for re-election. In Arizona, he can't run for both the Senate and a national office as Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson did in Texas.

'Trick, Treat' Night Termed Very Orderly

Safety - Service Director Robert Owen and Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi today thanked East Liverpool youngsters for the "orderly and sensible" way in which they made their Halloween "trick-or-treat" rounds Tuesday night.

"I am very well pleased with the way in which the children conducted themselves," the chief said. "Apparently they were very orderly and the department received no complaints of destructive pranks."

"There was no rowdyism and the crowds were mannerly and orderly," the director said.

Owen said he received several telephone calls this morning from householders complimenting him on the stand the administration took to limit the "trick-or-treat" rounds — asking youngsters to restrict their forays to Monday and Tuesday nights between 6 and 9.

Several householders commented that the youngsters were conscious of the 9 p. m. "curfew" on Halloween rounds, Owens said. They said the Halloweeners asked the time when the deadline neared, apparently anxious to clear the streets on time.

Owen said he noted a few instances in which groups from far outside the city limits came to East Liverpool to make the rounds. He passed on one complaint to the police department—that a number of children were making rounds on lower St. George St., transported in an auto with Pennsylvania license plates.

The director and the chief jointly thanked both youngsters and their parents for the way in which the observance was held.

One more report of vandalism was filed with police, but it dated back to Monday night. Charles Aikens, 415 Prospect St., told police vandals removed flowers and stones from his flower garden and threw them into an alley nearby.

Industry CD Unit Will Issue Forms

Civil Defense literature and information blanks will be distributed at the Industry Borough building Saturday from 10 a. m. to noon and 1 to 2:30 p. m. by area Girl Scouts, it was announced at a meeting of the Industry Civil Defense Committee Monday night.

Mrs. Paul Udon, representing the Industry Borough Women's Club, was installed as a new member.

Reports were given by Harold McMillen on the warning system and Mrs. Jack M. Peck on the sale of first aid kits. The kits will be available as soon as a new supply is received, Mrs. Peck said.

Noah Luster spoke on the CD program concerning benefits to be received by the fire department.

Vance Crossland was appointed publicity chairman.

Next meeting is Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Pranksters Set Fire

NEW CUMBERLAND —Volunteer firemen were called Tuesday night at 10 to douse a barrier of burning hay ignited by Halloween pranksters on Hardins Run Rd. near the Pennsylvania state line. James Carson, who alerted firemen, reported eight bales of hay were taken from his barn and set afire on the road.

Woman Hurt Fatally

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Norma Eckhart, 20, of Cleveland was injured fatally in nearby Willowick Tuesday when her car struck a utility pole after it was forced off Lake Shore Boulevard by another auto, which did not stop.

Yule Parade Plans Pushed

Plans are progressing for the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Christmas parade Friday, Nov. 24, according to Paul Seckman, chairman.

The parade is being presented by the Jaycees in conjunction with the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

Seckman said 25 units have been signed to date. They include bands, floats and marching groups.

The parade last year was termed one of the largest ever held in the city.

Seckman said the parade will begin at 6 p. m. His committee has held three meetings and will meet again each Monday night to keep abreast of the developments.

The next will be Monday at 7 p. m. at the Chamber of Commerce office, preceding the Jaycee Board of Directors meeting.

Santa Claus will serve as the grand marshal. The event will mark the opening of the Christmas shopping season.

Set Demonstration

CINCINNATI (AP) — About a dozen Cincinnati women, accompanied by some children and students, will demonstrate against nuclear testing this afternoon. The action is part of a "Women Strike for Peace" movement.

Hancock Low In Number On Relief Work

The healthy employment rate in Hancock County was emphasized today in figures compiled by the State Welfare Department's new aid for dependent children work program for the first three months.

The County Welfare Department in New Cumberland reported less than 30 persons in the program and payment of checks totaling less than $10,000 for the first three months of the ADC program.

This compares to Logan County, where $217,921 was paid in benefits to 696 persons for August, September and October.

McDowell County was second with 529 persons receiving $170,813, and Fayette County third, with payments of $161,721 to 520.

Miss Adda Hindman, welfare department director in New Cumberland, said the number of men receiving ADC benefits in Hancock County has never exceeded 50 since the program was started.

The ADC program covers eligible employable men with dependent children who are out of work, and whose unemployment benefits and the 13-week extension of benefits have expired.

The men are assigned work such as cutting brush and improving roads at the rate of $1 an hour. They work a number of hours equal to their checks. Men with large families receive a $165 check accordingly work 165 hours on the various jobs.

'Trick, Treat' Night Termed Very Orderly

Safety - Service Director Robert Owen and Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi today thanked East Liverpool youngsters for the "orderly and sensible" way in which they made their Halloween "trick-or-treat" rounds Tuesday night.

"I am very well pleased with the way in which the children conducted themselves," the chief said. "Apparently they were very orderly and the department received no complaints of destructive pranks."

"There was no rowdyism and the crowds were mannerly and orderly," the director said.

Owen said he received several telephone calls this morning from householders complimenting him on the stand the administration took to limit the "trick-or-treat" rounds — asking youngsters to restrict their forays to Monday and Tuesday nights between 6 and 9.

Several householders commented that the youngsters were conscious of the 9 p. m. "curfew" on Halloween rounds, Owens said. They said the Halloweeners asked the time when the deadline neared, apparently anxious to clear the streets on time.

Owen said he noted a few instances in which groups from far outside the city limits came to East Liverpool to make the rounds. He passed on one complaint to the police department—that a number of children were making rounds on lower St. George St., transported in an auto with Pennsylvania license plates.

The director and the chief jointly thanked both youngsters and their parents for the way in which the observance was held.

One more report of vandalism was filed with police, but it dated back to Monday night. Charles Aikens, 415 Prospect St., told police vandals removed flowers and stones from his flower garden and threw them into an alley nearby.

Industry CD Unit Will Issue Forms

Civil Defense literature and information blanks will be distributed at the Industry Borough building Saturday from 10 a. m. to noon and 1 to 2:30 p. m. by area Girl Scouts, it was announced at a meeting of the Industry Civil Defense Committee Monday night.

Francis Crytzer, director, presided.

Mrs. Paul Udon, representing the Industry Borough Women's Club, was installed as a new member.

Reports were given by Harold McMillen on the warning system and Mrs. Jack M. Peck on the sale of first aid kits. The kits will be available as soon as a new supply is received, Mrs. Peck said.

Noah Luster spoke on the CD program concerning benefits to be received by the fire department.

Vance Crossland was appointed publicity chairman.

Next meeting is Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Pranksters Set Fire

NEW CUMBERLAND —Volunteer firemen were called Tuesday night at 10 to douse a barrier of burning hay ignited by Halloween pranksters on Hardins Run Rd. near the Pennsylvania state line. James Carson, who alerted firemen, reported eight bales of hay were taken from his barn and set afire on the road.

Yule Parade Plans Pushed

Plans are progressing for the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Christmas parade Friday, Nov. 24, according to Paul Seckman, chairman.

The parade is being presented by the Jaycees in conjunction with the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

Seckman said 25 units have been signed to date. They include bands, floats and marching groups.

The parade last year was termed one of the largest ever held in the city.

Seckman said the parade will begin at 6 p. m. His committee has held three meetings and will meet again each Monday night to keep abreast of the developments.

The next will be Monday at 7 p. m. at the Chamber of Commerce office, preceding the Jaycee Board of Directors meeting.

Santa Claus will serve as the grand marshal. The event will mark the opening of the Christmas shopping season.

Hancock Low In Number On Relief Work

The healthy employment rate in Hancock County was emphasized today in figures compiled by the State Welfare Department's new aid for dependent children work program for the first three months.

The County Welfare Department in New Cumberland reported less than 30 persons in the program and payment of checks totaling less than $10,000 for the first three months of the ADC program.

This compares to Logan County, where $217,921 was paid in benefits to 696 persons for August, September and October.

McDowell County was second with 529 persons receiving $170,813, and Fayette County third, with payments of $161,721 to 520.

Miss Adda Hindman, welfare department director in New Cumberland, said the number of men receiving ADC benefits in Hancock County has never exceeded 50 since the program was started.

The ADC program covers eligible employable men with dependent children who are out of work, and whose unemployment benefits and the 13-week extension of benefits have expired.

The men are assigned work such as cutting brush and improving roads at the rate of $1 an hour. They work a number of hours equal to their checks. Men with large families receive a $165 check accordingly work 165 hours on the various jobs.

Slow, Steady Climb Seen In Steel Industry

NEW YORK (AP)—The head of the nation's largest steel firm sees a slow and steady climb ahead for his industry and the nation's economy into the spring of 1962.

Even so, Roger M. Blough, chiarman of United States Steel Corp., was cagey about any specific forecasts—except that the January - March steel output next year will top any quarter of 1961.

And Blough foresaw a moderate and gradual improvement in steel prospects for November and December over mediocre results for the past few months. Signs of it could become clear any day now, he said.

Blough, a top echelon figure in the private sector of the economy, was questioned by newsmen Tuesday about the disappointing third quarter showing of U.S. steel.

"Big steel" disclosed Tuesday that sales, shipment and profits all declined during that period, a time when most steelmakers registered gains.

Blough, whose company in the first nine months earned only four cents more than enough to cover the regular 75-cents a quarter common stock dividend, said profits were far too low.

Mayor Aspirants To Be Unopposed

Mayoralty candidates in five of Columbiana County's smaller villages are without opposition in Tuesday's general election, which shows Council candidates ranging from write-ins to as many as 11 after six posts.

A new law will also go into effect for the first time in the election, providing for four-year terms for the four candidates with the highest number of votes and two - year terms for those with the lesser amounts.

HERETOFORE all such villages named councilmen for two years, but the Ohio Assembly of 1959 authorized four - year terms for village councilmen, but set the two-year terms for some this year in order to have staggered terms.

In 1963, those two-year terms filled Tuesday will be elected for four years.

The new law applies to the smaller villages — with populations under 2,000 — and to the villages of population ranging between 2,000 and 5,000.

At Rogers, Robert McCreary of College St., employe of the Kaiser Chemical Co. plant at Columbiana, is unopposed for the mayor post currently held by Mayor Harold McCall, county dog warden.

GLENN R. Baker, who had been a candidate, was ruled ineligible in August by the Board of Elections because two signatures on his petition were invalid, leaving him without the required minimum number of signatures.

George Long and Glenn Rhodes, appointed to Council, are seeking election as the only candidates on the ballot. Write-in votes are expected to fill the remaining posts.

Mrs. Maine Hall, clerk, and Arnold Green, treasurer, are unopposed.

Mayor William Ferguson of New Waterford, who was appointed when Earl Welch resigned, is without opposition for election to his first full term. Ferguson is an insurance man.

—:—

RUNNING for Council posts are Howard Webber along with the six incumbents — Carl J. Bretz, Gilbert J. Mackall, Joseph J. Fittante, Glen Seachrist, Daniel J. Percy and Robert Hisey.

Edward R. Bretz, veteran clerk, is unopposed.

Also seeking re-election without contest are the three incumbents on the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs: Robert Myers, Robert George and Eugene H. Walton, who was appointed to succeed the late Frank Colella.

Eleven candidates are seeking six Council seats at Hanoverton, where contests are scheduled for all but the mayoralty post.

HOWARD HART, who served four previous terms as mayor, is unopposed to succeed Henry Loudon, incumbent. Louden had been a candidate, but his petition was ruled out by the Board of Elections in August because two signatures were termed invalid, and he lacked the required minimum of 25.

Incumbent Clerk Lee Bowman is opposed by Mrs. Jean Hillyer, and incumbent Treasurer Leland Falloon faces a contest with Mrs. Betty Garlock.

The six present members of Council — Melvin McKarns, John D. Lindesmith, Herman Ziegler, William R. McGranahan, George H. Wilson and J. A. Marquis — are opposed by Harry Drake, Joseph F. Wilson, Arthur Kibler, Raymond E. Russell and Harry M. Reeder.

AT SUMMITVILLE, there are no contests for village posts.

Mayor Ernest T. Phillips, road foreman for Franklin Township, is without opposition for a second term. Mrs Marjorie Roberts, clerk, is unopposed.

Mrs. Evelyn Rogers, treasurer, is unopposed for another term.

The six candidates for Council are Raymond Arsuffi and Howard P. Speirs, incumbents, and Dominic Sabatino, Clair Fraser, William Swinger and Dean T. Dowdell.

Washingtonville Mayor Donald W. Vignon and clerk, Thelma Grindle, are also unopposed.

HOWARD Crumbacher, Benjamin Snow and William Radler are the only three candidates for Council, with write-ins expected to fill the remaining three posts.

A write-in vote is also expected to fill the treasurer post, for which there is no candidate on the ballot.

Donald Weikart, Carl Vignon and Arden Llewellyn are unopposed for election to the Board of Public Affairs.

$53,000 Bond Issue Sought For Leetonia

LEETONIA — A proposed $53,000 bond issue for a new fire station and truck, along with a mayoralty contest and Council and school board races, will highlight the general election Tuesday.

The bond issue would be used to construct a one-story concrete block fire station and purchase a new truck and equipment. A 55 per cent approval is required for passage, because it is considered a special election.

Mayor Ralph B. Kennedy, (R), is running for his third term against James L. Blackwood (D), store operator.

Daniel A. Butch (D) is unopposed for clerk.

Seeking the treasurer post are Elizabeth E. Kegelmyer (D) and DeErla Smith (R).

Leetonia is the only "larger" village in Columbiana County to designate terms for Council candidates, under a new Ohio law which begin four-year terms for councilmen. This year there will be two councilmen named to two-year terms to provide for staggered terms.

In other villages the four candidates with the most votes will get the four-year terms, and the remaining two the lesser terms.

However, the Leetonia ballot designates eight candidates for four-year terms — Mildred Arfman, Paul Casey, Daniel J. Cullinan and John Grunick, Democrats, and Orrin G. Deffenbaugh, Elby A. Morris, Joseph Weikart and Chester F. Whitacre, Republicans.

Four are seeking the two two-year terms: Homer Kridler and Dale McCormick, (R), and Frank J. Citino and Frank Gotti, (D).

In the race for three posts on the Board of Public Affairs, candidates are Victor P. Billet, Francis R. Eskay and Michael T. Mancuso, (D), and Clarence Bricker, Clyde Stratton and William L. Woodall, (R).

Five are running for three Board of Education seats — Paul W. Conrad, Philip A. Coseno, Wayne J. Holloway, A. W. Ripley Jr. and Joseph E. Woods.

Ashland Oil Reports High Earnings, Sales

Ashland Oil Co. reported Tuesday at Ashland, Ky., that its sales and earnings for the fiscal year ended Sept. 30 were the second highest in company history.

Sales were $312,875,460, not including $65,355,002 in tax collections in connection with the sale of gasoline and other products. Earnings totaled $15,251,456. Last year the company's sales were $303,673,338 and earnings were $14,926,916.

Ashland Board Chairman Rexford S. Blazer said the increased earnings from crude oil producing operations more than offset reduced earnings in other departments of the company.

Ashland operates a terminal facility at Wellsville.

U.S. Traffic Deaths Down 2% From 1960

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic deaths in the first nine months this year—27,110—were two per cent lower than for the same period in 1960, the National Safety Council said today.

The mileage death rate for the nine-month period was a record low, the council said.

475 Will Lose Jobs Following Firm's Purchase

CLEVELAND (AP) — The purchase Tuesday of Cletrac Corp. of Euclid by the White Motor Co. will cause jobs for about 475 employes at Cletrac to be discontinued, White Motor announced.

The $5.5 million purchase price included Cletrac inventories, engineering and designs and numerous machine tools, but not the plant.

Formerly the Oliver Corp., which White purchased for nearly $32 million last year, Cletrac continued to produce crawler - type tractors made previously by Oliver. White had the option to buy Cletrac if it sold $12 million worth of Cletrac machinery.

The plant has ceased production and inventory is now being taken. Samuel W. White Jr., president of Oliver, said the Cletrac operation would be consolidated with Oliver's tractor plant in Charles City, Iowa.

City Passes Law, Man Can Keep Lion

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Thor, a 200-pound African lion, may remain in Woodrow W. Woodhouse's basement.

The city commission went to Woodhouse's aid Tuesday and passed a law allowing wild animals inside the city limits providing the owners get a permit. Woodhouse purchased the lion from a zoo.

News that Woodhouse was keeping Thor leaked out recently when the jungle cat bit his owner. The county's prosecutor's office received a complaint about wild animals being allowed inside the city.

Apple-Hungry Thief

MOSCOW, Mich. (AP) — Mrs. Bertha Smith, teacher at the elementary school here, will think twice before she leaves a big, shiny apple on her desk overnight again. She reported Tuesday that someone broke into the school Monday night. The apple was the only item missing.

Cincinnati Local Votes To Quit Teamster Union

By JAAN KANGILASKI

CINCINNATI (AP) — In the wake of his 99.5 per cent election victory, rebel union leader James T. Luken had this to say about the vote's effect on further rebellion against Teamsters President James R. Hoffa:

" It isn't gonna hurt it."

Members of the Independent Milk and Dairy Drivers Union voted 1,664 to 12 Tuesday to quit the Teamsters and join the AFL-CIO. The secret ballot voting was supervised by the National Labor Relations Board.

"If I had run this election, they would be yelling to high heaven about it," Luken said.

When the Cincinnati Teamsters revolt started Aug. 16, members of Luken's union (then Teamsters Local 98) voted 1,798 to 2 to leave the International. This was a stand-up vote and Teamsters officials charged Luken railroaded it through and that the results would have been different if they had had a chance to explain their position.

Luken and the heads of three other locals who joined him said they revolted against the policies of Hoffa and his aides. The rebel leaders still say the same thing.

Not all of the members of Luken's union have had their NLRB election yet. Tuesday's balloting was for 1,729 workers employed by members of the Greater Cincinnati Milk and Ice Cream Dealers Association.

The local has about 2,200 members, and for the rest of them elections are still pending.

Teamsters Vice President Harold Gibbons said after the election that the International "will continue to organize the workers . . . It doesn't make any change in our long range plans for the Cincinnati area."

Gibbons came here after the revolt started. Hoffa had named him trustee for the rebel locals but the courts refused to recognize his authority.

Tuesday's election came only after disputes at NLRB hearings and last-minute attempts of the Teamsters to block the balloting by mandamus actions in federal courts.

"The Teamsters are actualy fighting harder on the small units," Luken says. "They have been able to put on a man for a man in those—a full-time business agent on each driver."

None of the small-unit elections have been held so far.

The three locals who joined Luken's revolt—Taxi Drivers Local 954, Soft Drink Drivers Local 152 and Funeral and Livery Chauffeurs Local 793 have had no elections yet either.

Luken, who was assured by AFL-CIO officials he could get a charter after winning the NLRB election, says he will go to Washington to pick it up "as soon as I am physically able to—probably Thursday."

The AFL-CIO and its regional director here, William Kircher, supported the revolt from the beginning.

A number of lawsuits—Teamsters attempts to tie up union funds and to keep employers from turning dues money over to the rebels — are still pending. But Luken has had luck in the courts. When the Teamsters tried to tie up the dairy drivers' funds, the court would not uphold the rebels all the way but allowed them "normal operating expenses."

Since the success of the anti-Hoffa revolt here, Teamsters at Columbus, 100 miles away, have also become restive. On Oct. 11, dissatisfied members of Local 413 formed a new group that applied for AFL-CIO recognition and reportedly petitioned for a NLRB election.

"Elections are pending there now," Luken said. "Sorry, I haven't been able to keep up with them very closely the last week or so. But it's quite obvious the people there have had enough of Hoffa's Teamsters.

"It takes about three months to carry one of those things through. They've had less than a month now."

The Columbus local includes truck drivers for chain stores as well as locally employed Teamsters. It has about 4,500 members.

Pacifist Pastor Faces Trial For Breach Of Peace

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Rev. Maurice McCrackin will go on trial today in Brownsville, Tenn. on a charge of threatening breach of the peace, the Cincinnati Enquirer reported Tuesday night.

The pacifist Presbyterian minister, suspended by the local Presbytery for violating church law, was arrested Sunday. He had gone to Tennessee about a week ago with a trailer load of clothes for evicted Negro tenant farmers in Fayette and Haywood counties.

The Rev. McCrackin is treasurer of Operation Freedom, an organization to help tenants who allegedly were evicted for registering to vote last fall.

The Rev. McCrackin has been in trouble with federal authorities for refusing to pay income taxes. He contends part of the money is used for warlike purposes, and it is impossible for him as a Christian to support this. In 1959, he served a six-months jail term for his refusal to pay.

His suspension by the Cincinnati Presbytery is due for a review by the U.S. Synod next year.

Cincinnati Woman Left $7 Million Estate

CINCINNATI (AP) — An inventory filed in probate court shows Mrs. Louise Taft Semple left an estate of $7,042,273. Mrs. Semple, daughter of the late Charles Phelps Taft who founded the old Cincinnati Times-Star, died March 28.

Surviving is her husband, Dr. William T. Semple, professor emeritus of classics at the University of Cincinnati.

Pike Revenue Up

CLEVELAND (AP) — Estimated revenue of $2,093,000 from operation of the Ohio Turnpike last month was the highest for an October since the toll road was opened six years ago. James W. Shocknessy, Ohio Turnpike Commission chairman, reports.

Lion 'Relaxes' In Cage After Causing 'Uproar'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Caesar, an amiable 16-month-old lion, relaxed in a temporary cage in Brookside Park unaware of all the excitement he had caused.

The 250-pound lion was on display in a drug story window at East 9th Street and Euclid Avene Tuesday when he suddenly turned around and broke the plate-glass window.

Caesar, owned by animal trainer Lou Gaeta, was making the first of a week-long series of personal appearances on behalf of the $2.5 million bond issue sought by the Cleveland Zoo.

The lion was headed away from the glass when it broke and made no attempt to escape, but Gaeta quickly grasped Caesar's chair collar and led him to a cage.

No one was hurt, not even Caesar, but the incident gave a lunchtime crowd at the busy downtown intersection something to talk about.

Hospital Injury Case Near Jury

The $5,115 personal injury suit of Mrs. Pearl Wardles, 1806 Danbury Ave., Wellsville, against City Hospital may go to the jury in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon today. She alleges she received a broken arm Aug. 31, 1960, when she fell out of bed at the hospital after spilling a cup of coffee.

Mrs. Wardles claims the hospital was negligent in not providing adequate safeguards on her bed.

Testifying for the hospital were Mrs. Senja Vaughn, head nurse, and Mrs. Sarah Davis, director of nurses and assistant administrator.

Judge Joel H. Sharp swore in the jury Tuesday morning and will charge the panel this morning.

The jury includes Betty Ensinger, Verna G. Schneider and Geraldine Myler of East Liverpool; Mary Jane MacLean, Patsy Sabbatto, Betty McCready and Joan Kornbau of Wellsville; Mabel Crook, Joseph J. Chestnut and William Figley of Lisbon and Carmen Chick and Helen Lumley of East Palestine. Lois Hughes of Wellsville is alternate.

Prizes For Costumes Given At Scout Party

Costume prizes were awarded at the annual Halloween party of Boy Scout Troop 19 of Wellsville Monday night in the First Methodist Church. Some 18 members and their leaders attended.

Winners were Tommy Davidson, Cheryl Glover, James Porter and Timmy O'Hara. Judges were the Rev. Arden Beck, Willard Havelock and Clarence Bell.

Games were played and lunch was served by Marvin and Paul Burroughs, Bud Hanselman and Jack Glover, scoutmaster.

For a closing ceremony, certificates of junior leaders' training were presented to Buddy Hanselman, Harold Neville, James Porter and James Clark.

PUC Action Broadens Ohio Power's Service

COLUMBUS — The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio has granted the Ohio Power Co. permission to offer to thousands of additional customers its outdoor lighting service, called "dusk to dawn lighting."

Ohio Power, for a fixed monthly charge, provides outdoor lights which automatically are turned on at dusk and off at dawn by a photo-electric eye, but until now has been able to make the service available only to customers located outside incorporated communities. The new PUCO authorization enables the company to offer the service to customers inside municipal corporate limits.

The PUCO also has authorized Ohio Power to offer one-year contracts to commercial customers for outdoor lights instead of three-year contracts.

Crushed To Death

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP) — Elgar T. Randleman, 63, of Grafton Road was removing a motor from a truck Tuesday when the vehicle slipped off a jack and he was crushed to death.

Cincinnati Local Votes To Quit Teamster Union

By JAAN KANGILASKI

CINCINNATI (AP) — In the wake of his 99.5 per cent election victory, rebel union leader James T. Luken had this to say about the vote's effect on further rebellion against Teamsters President James R. Hoffa:

" It isn't gonna hurt it."

Members of the Independent Milk and Dairy Drivers Union voted 1,664 to 12 Tuesday to quit the Teamsters and join the AFL-CIO. The secret ballot voting was supervised by the National Labor Relations Board.

"If I had run this election, they would be yelling to high heaven about it," Luken said.

When the Cincinnati Teamsters revolt started Aug. 16, members of Luken's union (then Teamsters Local 98) voted 1,798 to 2 to leave the International. This was a stand-up vote and Teamsters officials charged Luken railroaded it through and that the results would have been different if they had had a chance to explain their position.

Luken and the heads of three other locals who joined him said they revolted against the policies of Hoffa and his aides. The rebel leaders still say the same thing.

Not all of the members of Luken's union have had their NLRB election yet. Tuesday's balloting was for 1,729 workers employed by members of the Greater Cincinnati Milk and Ice Cream Dealers Association.

The local has about 2,200 members, and for the rest of them elections are still pending.

Teamsters Vice President Harold Gibbons said after the election that the International "will continue to organize the workers . . . It doesn't make any change in our long range plans for the Cincinnati area."

Gibbons came here after the revolt started. Hoffa had named him trustee for the rebel locals but the courts refused to recognize his authority.

Tuesday's election came only after disputes at NLRB hearings and last-minute attempts of the Teamsters to block the balloting by mandamus actions in federal courts.

"The Teamsters are actualy fighting harder on the small units," Luken says. "They have been able to put on a man for a man in those—a full-time business agent on each driver."

None of the small-unit elections have been held so far.

The three locals who joined Luken's revolt—Taxi Drivers Local 954, Soft Drink Drivers Local 152 and Funeral and Livery Chauffeurs Local 793 have had no elections yet either.

Luken, who was assured by AFL-CIO officials he could get a charter after winning the NLRB election, says he will go to Washington to pick it up "as soon as I am physically able to—probably Thursday."

The AFL-CIO and its regional director here, William Kircher, supported the revolt from the beginning.

A number of lawsuits—Teamsters attempts to tie up union funds and to keep employers from turning dues money over to the rebels — are still pending. But Luken has had luck in the courts. When the Teamsters tried to tie up the dairy drivers' funds, the court would not uphold the rebels all the way but allowed them "normal operating expenses."

Since the success of the anti-Hoffa revolt here, Teamsters at Columbus, 100 miles away, have also become restive. On Oct. 11, dissatisfied members of Local 413 formed a new group that applied for AFL-CIO recognition and reportedly petitioned for a NLRB election.

"Elections are pending there now," Luken said. "Sorry, I haven't been able to keep up with them very closely the last week or so. But it's quite obvious the people there have had enough of Hoffa's Teamsters.

"It takes about three months to carry one of those things through. They've had less than a month now."

The Columbus local includes truck drivers for chain stores as well as locally employed Teamsters. It has about 4,500 members.

Tigers Must Crack Beavers' Defenses

Can Wellsville's hard - running backfield crack the superior defense forces of Beaver Local when the two backyard rivals meet Saturday night at East Liverpool's Patterson Field?

When the Beavers take the gridiron Saturday their defensive record will show they have given up only an average of 5.2 points per game.

The average is computed over eight games and Beaver opponents have netted 42 points. "Fourteen" seems to be all any one opponent can score on the Beavers.

In three different games Beaver Local foes have netted 14 points. The Beavers have recorded five shutouts on consecutive weekends.

Coach Jack O'Rourke, an ex-Wellsville athlete who is at the helm at Beaver Local, has led the Beavers to a 5-1-2 record so far.

The only loss was a 14-8 decision to Carrollton on a "fluke" touchdown in the fourth quarter. Two games have ended in 14-14 ties. They came in the opener with Leetonia and last Saturday night when the Beavers came from behind to tie a strong West Branch squad.

Beaver Local's offense, led by Carl Hoppel, leading scorer in the district, and Francis Possage, has netted 199 points in eight games. Their high was against winless Salineville, 46-0.

Dave Myers, a 160-pound junior guard and an all-state candidate, leads the charge for Beaver Local's defensive wrecking crew.

Meanwhile, Wellsville's opponents have outscored the Tigers this season. Coach Ken Woods squad has tallied 99 points in eight games, while the opposition has netted 114.

Beaver Local Jayvees To Play Thursday

Beaver Local's reserve squad will meet the Canfield jayvees Thursday at 6 p. m. at the Beaver Local field. Proceeds will go towards the scoreboard fund.

Tickets Moving Fast For Saturday's Game

Principal Lee Kirkland of Beaver Local High School said that tickets for Saturday night's Beaver Local - Wellsville game at East Liverpool were going "fast" and the game will likely be a sellout. Reserve seat tickets for $1.25 are on sale at Heimie's in East Liverpool and at Beaver Local High School. Tickets will be picked up Friday morning and if there are any left, will be sold at the high school, Kirkland said.

HERE IS BEAVER LOCAL'S defensive line which has limited opponents to six touchdowns or 42 points in eight games so far this season. This unit will receive its "acid test" of the season Saturday night when it attempts to stop rival Wellsville. The defensive line includes: front row, left-to-right, John Detchon (165), Roger Walker (175), Gary Rambo (150), Keith Berger (220), and Gary Berhar (185). Second row standing, Dave Stacey (160), Dave Myers (165) and Gary Bookman (150).

Stanton Nears Title; Hoppel Raises Total

McBride's Team Flashes 7-1 Record

Stanton Local moved a notch closer to the team title and fullback Carl Hoppel of Beaver Local padded his scoring lead in weekend action in the district.

The top record Irons (7-1) have a weekend off from the competition this week due to an open date. Coach Don McBride's squad will meet Malvern in the season finale Nov. 10 at Irondale.

Hoppel, 140-pound senior, managed one touchdown last weekend to maintain his slight edge in the district scoring race that has settled down to a two-man battle.

Hoppel leads with 79 points, but has a spread of only three over Stanton Local halfback Stan Wickham with 76.

The Beaver Local standout could increase his lead this week while the Irons are resting and perhaps clinch the district scoring crown.

But Hoppel will be a marked man as the Beavers go against arch-rival Wellsville (4-4) in the game of the week Saturday night at Patterson Field.

The game was previously scheduled for the Beaver Local gridiron but was switched to the East Liverpool stadium because of its larger seating capacity.

Coach Jack O'Rourke's Beavers (5-1-2) are rated a one-touchdown underdog against Coach Ken Woods' Tigers, but anything can happen in this one.

Hoppel's feat of having scored in every Beaver Local game this season adds a little more interest to an already highly - publicized game boomed as a prestige battle.

Second - ranked team in the district, New Cumberland, takes its surprising 6-1-1 record to Jefferson Union to battle the Class AA Yellow Jackets. The Blue Raiders are underdogs in this one Friday night.

The district's two squads without a win thus far — Salineville and Newell — clash Friday night at Newell. Salineville has scored only twice in seven games, and Newell four times in eight games.

East Liverpool's Potters entertain rival Salem in a bid for an upset, Louisville visits East Palestine, Lisbon travels to Columbiana, and Leetonia invades Sebring in other Friday night games.

The Tri-County League crown will be at stake as Minerva (8-0) meets Poland (6-0) Friday night.

Other games Saturday find Midland (3-4-1) at Freedom, United Local at Canfield and Crestview at Greenford.

MSU, Ole Miss Picked

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Every so often it pays to be reminded of the late Bob Zuppke's statement that a football is a prolate spheroid filled with crazy bounces. Last week there were 17 crazy bounces that were not anticipated in 55 chances. That's .691.

Now for this week's bounces:

Michigan State over Minnesota: Sandy Stephens has been as good a quarterback as there is in the country for the Gophers these past two weeks but he hasn't encountered such a horde of talent as Michigan State will display.

Mississippi over Louisiana State: The Ole Miss defense is so stingy it has given up only 13 points to a total of six foes.

Texas over Southern Methodist: The nation's best offensive team won't miss fullback Ray Poage.

Alabama over Mississippi State: Pat (Trammell) and Mike (Fracchia) give Alabama a big edge.

Ohio State over Iowa: Bob Ferguson, the Ohio State fullback, is the difference.

Elsewhere in other major games:

Georgia Tech over Florida, Colorado over Missouri, Notre Dame over Navy, Purdue over Illinois, Utah State over Brigham Young, Northwestern over Indiana, Kansas over Nebraska, Penn State over Maryland, Syracuse over Pitt, Washington over Southern Cal, Miami (Fla.) over Georgia.

Bowling Green over West Texas State, Oklahoma over Kansas State, Cincinnati over Tulsa, Wichita over Oklahoma State, Xavier over Louisville and Holy Cross over Dayton.

Wellsville Places Grid Tickets On Sale

Tickets for the Tiger-Beaver Local game Saturday night at Patterson Field in East Liverpool have gone on sale in Wellsville at Culp's, McMorrow's, Bloor's and the News & Gifts Shop, Don Lowe, faculty manager, announced. Reserved seat tickets are $1.25, he added.

East Meets West Thursday

THE RIVAL CO-CAPTAINS from East Junior High and Westgate are quite friendly now as they shake hands but they will be battling each other Thursday when the two city schools meet in their annual contest at Patterson Field. The co-captains, left - to - right are quarterback Bob Maltarich and halfback Mike Snowden or East Junior and halfbacks Denny Burke and Dick Deem of Westgate. Kickoff for Thursday's game is set for 4:30.

Cup Holders Continue To Slip In NHL

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Black Hawks look like anything but defending Stanley Cup champions in the National Hockey League.

They have but one victory to show in 10 starts this season and slumped to a 4-2 defeat at the hands of the New York Rangers Tuesday night.

Only once were the Hawks able to forge ahead and that was early in the third period when Ab McDonald snapped a 1-1 tie with a goal at 1:47.

Less than two minutes later Vic Hadfield tied the count and some two minutes later player-coach Doug Harvey slammed home the winning goal. Andy Hebenton scored an additional goal in the final minute of play.

The Rangers pulled within one point of league-leading Montreal while the Hawks remained in a fourth-place tie with Detroit following the only game scheduled Tuesday night.

Montreal is at Toronto in tonight's only game. Two contests are on tap Thursday with Boston at Montreal and New York at Detroit.

Potters Down Leavittsburg

EL 'Runs' Wild In Warmup

East Liverpool's cross country team, warming up for the state meet Saturday in Columbus, routed Leavittsburg, the Boardman district champ, 17-44, Tuesday over the Boardman course.

Bruce McCoy, a junior who led the Potters to the District title at St. Clairsville Saturday, was first across the line Tuesday in 11:09. This lowered his time by 21 seconds from the last running over the same course.

Gary McKee and Joe Ingram were second and third, respectively, with McKee recording a 11:16 clocking and Ingram 11:26.

Jim Pillar finished fifth, Ed Loy, sixth, Paul Jarvis eighth and Butch Steffen ninth.

These seven boys will represent East Liverpool in the state meet Saturday. The squad, a manager and coach Frank Chan will leave Friday morning and stay at the Downtown Motel in Columbus.

Coach Jack O'Rourke's Beavers (5-1-2) are rated a one-touchdown underdog against Coach Ken Woods' Tigers, but anything can happen in this one.

Hoppel's feat of having scored in every Beaver Local game this season adds a little more interest to an already highly - publicized game boomed as a prestige battle.

Second - ranked team in the district, New Cumberland, takes its surprising 6-1-1 record to Jefferson Union to battle the Class AA Yellow Jackets. The Blue Raiders are underdogs in this one Friday night.

The district's two squads without a win thus far — Salineville and Newell — clash Friday night at Newell. Salineville has scored only twice in seven games, and Newell four times in eight games.

East Liverpool's Potters entertain rival Salem in a bid for an upset, Louisville visits East Palestine, Lisbon travels to Columbiana, and Leetonia invades Sebring in other Friday night games.

The Tri-County League crown will be at stake as Minerva (8-0) meets Poland (6-0) Friday night.

MSU, Ole Miss Picked

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Every so often it pays to be reminded of the late Bob Zuppke's statement that a football is a prolate spheroid filled with crazy bounces. Last week there were 17 crazy bounces that were not anticipated in 55 chances. That's .691.

Now for this week's bounces:

Michigan State over Minnesota: Sandy Stephens has been as good a quarterback as there is in the country for the Gophers these past two weeks but he hasn't encountered such a horde of talent as Michigan State will display.

Mississippi over Louisiana State: The Ole Miss defense is so stingy it has given up only 13 points to a total of six foes.

Texas over Southern Methodist: The nation's best offensive team won't miss fullback Ray Poage.

Alabama over Mississippi State: Pat (Trammell) and Mike (Fracchia) give Alabama a big edge.

Ohio State over Iowa: Bob Ferguson, the Ohio State fullback, is the difference.

Elsewhere in other major games:

Bowling Green over West Texas State, Oklahoma over Kansas State, Cincinnati over Tulsa, Wichita over Oklahoma State, Xavier over Louisville and Holy Cross over Dayton.

Wellsville Places Grid Tickets On Sale

Tickets for the Tiger-Beaver Local game Saturday night at Patterson Field in East Liverpool have gone on sale in Wellsville at Culp's, McMorrow's, Bloor's and the News & Gifts Shop, Don Lowe, faculty manager, announced. Reserved seat tickets are $1.25, he added.

East Meets West Thursday

Cup Holders Continue To Slip In NHL

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Black Hawks look like anything but defending Stanley Cup champions in the National Hockey League.

They have but one victory to show in 10 starts this season and slumped to a 4-2 defeat at the hands of the New York Rangers Tuesday night.

Only once were the Hawks able to forge ahead and that was early in the third period when Ab McDonald snapped a 1-1 tie with a goal at 1:47.

Less than two minutes later Vic Hadfield tied the count and some two minutes later player-coach Doug Harvey slammed home the winning goal. Andy Hebenton scored an additional goal in the final minute of play.

The Rangers pulled within one point of league-leading Montreal while the Hawks remained in a fourth-place tie with Detroit following the only game scheduled Tuesday night.

Montreal is at Toronto in tonight's only game. Two contests are on tap Thursday with Boston at Montreal and New York at Detroit.

EL 'Runs' Wild In Warmup

East Liverpool's cross country team, warming up for the state meet Saturday in Columbus, routed Leavittsburg, the Boardman district champ, 17-44, Tuesday over the Boardman course.

Bruce McCoy, a junior who led the Potters to the District title at St. Clairsville Saturday, was first across the line Tuesday in 11:09. This lowered his time by 21 seconds from the last running over the same course.

Gary McKee and Joe Ingram were second and third, respectively, with McKee recording a 11:16 clocking and Ingram 11:26.

Jim Pillar finished fifth, Ed Loy, sixth, Paul Jarvis eighth and Butch Steffen ninth.

These seven boys will represent East Liverpool in the state meet Saturday. The squad, a manager and coach Frank Chan will leave Friday morning and stay at the Downtown Motel in Columbus.

Is Ferguson Unstoppable? Hawkeyes Will Find Out On Saturday

Fifth Ranked Buckeyes Face Crucial Big 10 Tilt

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

To say that Ohio State fullback Bob Ferguson is unstoppable may be a slight exaggeration but it is closer to the truth than the Iowa Hawkeyes would like to believe.

Iowa has to face the fifth-ranked Buckeyes this Saturday in a crucial Big Ten game that earlier had the implications of a showdown for the conference title and perhaps national championship honors. But Iowa was upset last week by Purdue while Ferguson powered the Buckeyes to a 30-21 victory over Wisconsin.

So now the Hawkeyes, ranked ninth nationally, get their turn to try and check the 216-pound senior All-America from Troy, Ohio.

Last week against Wisconsin, he gained 124 yards, getting 52 in 7 carries on the Buckeyes second touchdown drive.

In another crucial Big Ten clash Saturday, pitting top-ranked Michigan State against Minnesota, the latter will have its top backfield intact now that Bill Munsey is back at right halfback after being injured. Michigan State still isn't sure if backs Gary Ballman and Herman Johnson will be ready.

Army hit the injury doldrums when Joe Blackgrove, its speedy halfback who can also take a turn as a quarterback, was idled by a sprained ankle. The Cadets already have lost No. 1 signal-caller Dick Eckert for two weeks and will use soph Jim Beierschmitt against the University of Detroit this week.

Missouri, prepping for its key Big Eight contest against Colorado, lost Larry Nichols, its top pass receiver, for the season. He had been advised to drop football because of evidence of organic heart disease.

Syracuse's veteran backfield was reunited for its battle against Pitt when co-captain Dick Easterly returned at right half after being injured three weeks ago. Soph quarterback Tom O'Grady was elevated to the No. 1 spot at Northwestern for his work against Notre Dame while the Irish may have lost center Tom Hecomovich for the season with a neck injury.

Michigan tackle John Schopf will miss this week's game against Duke because of injuries.

POINTING FOR SALEM. Potter tackle Jeff Hayes hopes to add a Salem tag to the one he got for standout performance against New Philadelphia earlier this year, qualifying him for the "Extra Effort Club." Hayes points to his name on the roster while halfback Allen Douglas and guard Jim Ferrello, left, and fullback Jerry Bell (next to Hayes) looks on. The "Extra Effort Club" was organized by Coach Bob Hedmond to help promote team spirit. The Potters are pointing for an upset victory against Salem Friday night.

Oregon's 'Baby Buffalo' Named Lineman Of Week

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Steve Barnett, known as the "Baby Buffalo" to his University of Oregon teammates, was selected as the Lineman of the Week today by The Associated Press.

Barnett, a 252-pound tackle, won the honor in the weekly Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters for his sterling play that helped Oregon beat Washington 7-6 last Saturday.

Gifted with exceptional speed and agility, he played a terrific defensive game. Len Casanova, Oregon coach, reportedly said after the game that Barnett played a "perfect defensive game."

Steve is a 20-year-old junior from Fremont, Calif. He stands 6 feet, 1 inch and is very durable. He played 378 minutes last year as a sophomore and is regarded as one of the best tackles on the Pacific Coast.

Barnett beat out his teammate, Kent Petersen, a senior end from Long Beach, Calif. Petersen caught several key passes and, like Barnett, played a bangup game on defense.

Two other ends, Hal Bedsole of Southern California and Pat Richter of Wisconsin, were cited for their fine play.

Sox's Larsen, Simmons Are Tops With Bat

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Larsen of the Chicago White Sox and Curt Simmons of the St. Louis Cardinals topped the major league pitchers in batting during the 1961 baseball season.

Larsen, who started the campaign with Kansas City, led the American League hurlers at bat with a .311 average, statistics compiled by The Associated Press showed today. The big righthanded swinger collected 14 hits in 45 at bats.

Simmons, a southpaw hitter, batted .303 in pacing National League pitchers. A former Philadelphia whiz kid who found the comeback trail with the Cards, Simmons delivered 20 hits in 66 trips.

Kansas City's Joe Nuxhall ranked second in the American League with a .292 average on 19 for 65. Frank Baumann of the White Sox was third with .262. He had 16 hits in 61 at bats.

Ray Sadecki of St. Louis was runnerup to Simmons with a .253 average, going 22-for-87. Los Angeles' Johnny Podres wound up third with 16 for 60 and a .232 mark.

Watkins Takes Mitchell's Post In Brown Lineup

CLEVELAND (AP)—Tom Watkins will be at left halfback today when the Cleveland Browns start preparations for their game with the Pittsburgh Steelers here Sunday afternoon.

The rookie from Iowa State also will start against the Sellers if Bobby Mitchell is not permitted to play.

Mitchell checked in at Fort Meade, Md., Tuesday, but probably won't know until Thursday or Friday whether or not he will be permitted to play against the Steelers.

National Football League rules permit service personnel to participate in league games, and the Browns will continue with only 35 players on the rosters, leaving a vacancy for Mitchell if he gets an okay from the Army.

Watkins, a slashing runner, has an impressive five-yard average in 33 carries this season, but doesn't have Mitchell's quick takeoff for the outside run.

Mitchell May Receive Permission From Army To Play On Sundays

When head coach Paul Brown tossed the game ball to Bobby Mitchell after the Browns 21-10 win over St. Louis he spoke for football fans everywhere as he added, "I hope it won't be the last one".

Whether the elusive halfback will be wearing khaki or brown next Sunday remains an unanswered question as the Browns start girding for their return match against the Pittsburgh Steelers at Cleveland Stadium. Kickoff will be at 2:05 p. m.

Mitchell will report for Army duty with the 354th Hospital Medical unit at Fort Meade, Md., Thursday but Brown officials are hopeful that his military schedule will enable him to join the team for most of the final seven games.

If permission is granted, Mitchell would fly to Cleveland this Sunday. The following week - end he'd have only a short drive to Washington where the Browns are scheduled against the Redskins.

If Mitchell can't play, the left halfback job will go to rookie Tom Watkins, a hard running youngster from Iowa State. Size - wise, Watkins and Mitchell could be mistaken for twins. However, the veteran Bobby has a slight edge in speed and shiftiness while Tom gets the nod on power.

Watkins has already had several chances in key spots and responded with important contributions. His grab of a touchdown pass and 18 yard run from scrimmage made possible the Browns first win over St. Louis. Then, last Sunday, he electrified the crowd with a 47 yard kick-off return that just missed going all the way.

But, promising as Watkins is, Mitchell would be sorely missed. His brilliant outside running has been a perfect compliment to Jim Brown's blasts through the middle since 1958. Through three seasons and part of a fourth Mitchell has ranked just behind Brown as the team's best touchdown getter.

At the halfway point this year Mitchell had hit pay dirt eight times, three of them from more than 50 yards out. His 48 points peg him just under Lou Groza who leads the Browns in scoring with 50.

Should Mitchell not be free to play it'll put an end to a kidding challenge he tossed at Jim Brown during summer training at Hiram.

"You better bear down this year," he warned Brown. "I'm gonna beat that touchdown record of yours." As it turned out, Mitchell could make good the boast as Brown's club and league record total is 18 and Mitchell has already counted eight despite sitting out the better part of two games.

Honor Goes To Stephens

Gophers' New Bridegroom Is Named Back Of Week

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Sandy Stephens of Minnesota, a brand new bridegroom picked as Back of the Week in The Associated Press poll, isn't quite ready to fully credit his new-found foootball fortunes to his week-old marriage.

"I don't know yet," said the mild-mannered young man with the bruising style of play. "If things don't go right with Michigan State Saturday, the experts just may reverse themselves."

The Gophers coaching staff has kiddingly attributed, Stephens' spurt to his marriage to an attractive St. Paul, Minn., girl two days before the Michigan victory last Saturday.

In that game, the 215-pound whirling dervish passed and ran the Gophers from seemingly sure defeat to a 23-20 come-from-behind victory. Despite legging 63 yards for one touchdown, passing 45 yards for another and throwing for four points on two pass-conversions, Stephens still was pressed for the weekly AP honor.

Close behind him were John Hadl of Kansas, Dave Hoppman of Iowa State, Galen Hall of Penn State, Bob Ferguson of Ohio State, Ron Miller of Wisconsin, Larry Benz of Northwestern, Pat Trammell of Alabama and Jay Wilkinson of Duke.

"I'm just happy I guess," said the Uniontown, Pa., youth when told of his selection.

Coach Says Chargers Could Win Anywhere

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sid Gillman claims his unbeaten San Diego Chargers would "do all right" in any pro football league and could win the championship anywhere with about six more players.

Gillman's Chargers, winners of eight straight, can clinch a tie for the Western Division title of the American Football League this weekend. If the second-place Dallas Texans (3-4) lose to Boston Friday night, and San Diego (8-0) thumps the New York Titans in a rematch Sunday, the Chargers could lose them all and still wind up in a playoff.

The Chargers' coach, who bossed the Los Angeles Rams in the National Football League from 1955 to 1959, said in San Diego today that he was not concerned about throwing the new league out of balance.

"I don't care how many we win," he said. "As far as I'm concerned the kind of balance I'd like to see in this league is underneath with the Chargers way out front.

"We think we have a good football team. Give us about six more good football players and we'd win anywhere."

Gillman couldn't say enough nice things about Jack Kemp, his 26-year-old passer who has been bothered by an injury to his left shoulder.

Is Ferguson Unstoppable? Hawkeyes Will Find Out On Saturday

Fifth Ranked Buckeyes Face Crucial Big 10 Tilt

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

To say that Ohio State fullback Bob Ferguson is unstoppable may be a slight exaggeration but it is closer to the truth than the Iowa Hawkeyes would like to believe.

Iowa has to face the fifth-ranked Buckeyes this Saturday in a crucial Big Ten game that earlier had the implications of a showdown for the conference title and perhaps national championship honors. But Iowa was upset last week by Purdue while Ferguson powered the Buckeyes to a 30-21 victory over Wisconsin.

So now the Hawkeyes, ranked ninth nationally, get their turn to try and check the 216-pound senior All-America from Troy, Ohio. Last week against Wisconsin, he gained 124 yards, getting 52 in 7 carries on the Buckeyes second touchdown drive.

In another crucial Big Ten clash Saturday, pitting top-ranked Michigan State against Minnesota, the latter will have its top backfield intact now that Bill Munsey is back at right halfback after being injured. Michigan State still isn't sure if backs Gary Ballman and Herman Johnson will be ready.

Army hit the injury doldrums when Joe Blackgrove, its speedy halfback who can also take a turn as a quarterback, was idled by a sprained ankle. The Cadets already have lost No. 1 signal-caller Dick Eckert for two weeks and will use soph Jim Beierschmitt against the University of Detroit this week.

Missouri, prepping for its key Big Eight contest against Colorado, lost Larry Nichols, its top pass receiver, for the season. He had been advised to drop football because of evidence of organic heart disease.

Syracuse's veteran backfield was reunited for its battle against Pitt when co-captain Dick Easterly returned at right half after being injured three weeks ago. Soph quarterback Tom O'Grady was elevated to the No. 1 spot at Northwestern for his work against Notre Dame while the Irish may have lost center Tom Hecomovich for the season with a neck injury.

Michigan tackle John Schopf will miss this week's game against Duke because of injuries.

Oregon's 'Baby Buffalo' Named Lineman Of Week

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Steve Barnett, known as the "Baby Buffalo" to his University of Oregon teammates, was selected as the Lineman of the Week today by The Associated Press.

Barnett, a 252-pound tackle, won the honor in the weekly Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters for his sterling play that helped Oregon beat Washington 7-6 last Saturday.

Gifted with exceptional speed and agility, he played a terrific defensive game. Len Casanova, Oregon coach, reportedly said after the game that Barnett played a "perfect defensive game."

Steve is a 20-year-old junior from Fremont, Calif. He stands 6 feet, 1 inch and is very durable. He played 378 minutes last year as a sophomore and is regarded as one of the best tackles on the Pacific Coast.

Barnett beat out his teammate, Kent Petersen, a senior end from Long Beach, Calif. Petersen caught several key passes and, like Barnett, played a bangup game on defense.

Two other ends, Hal Bedsole of Southern California and Pat Richter of Wisconsin, were cited for their fine play.

Sox's Larsen, Simmons Are Tops With Bat

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Larsen of the Chicago White Sox and Curt Simmons of the St. Louis Cardinals topped the major league pitchers in batting during the 1961 baseball season.

Larsen, who started the campaign with Kansas City, led the American League hurlers at bat with a .311 average, statistics compiled by The Associated Press showed today. The big righthanded swinger collected 14 hits in 45 at bats.

Simmons, a southpaw hitter, batted .303 in pacing National League pitchers. A former Philadelphia whiz kid who found the comeback trail with the Cards, Simmons delivered 20 hits in 66 trips.

Kansas City's Joe Nuxhall ranked second in the American League with a .292 average on 19 for 65. Frank Baumann of the White Sox was third with .262. He had 16 hits in 61 at bats.

Ray Sadecki of St. Louis was runnerup to Simmons with a .253 average, going 22-for-87. Los Angeles' Johnny Podres wound up third with 16 for 60 and a .232 mark.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

Someone said, "Show me a fisherman and I will show you a liar!"

Well, let's not go overboard with that statement. All fishermen are not liars, even if some stretch the truth a little bit. They have fun in their own way.

Did you ever give any thought to the hunters? For some reason they like to think of themselves as being big outdoor he-men, Quick-draw McGraws or Deadeye Dick's.

A recent "spy" in the Ohio Division of Wildlife concealed himself in a blind at McGee's Marsh during the opening day of migratory waterfowl season. With the aid of binoculars, he could watch all their movements and observe the shooting. After the day closed he presented the hunters with a questionnaire as to how many ducks were crippled, how many were taken, etc. The answers were not near the observed facts.

It seems that some hunters reported they wasted less than a box of shells to limit out when in reality they shot away five boxes of shells. There is more to this story, but space limits the details.

To get to the point which I am trying to bring out: The run-of-mine hunters are not expert riflemen. If they were, they probably would be competing on the firing line in Vandalia during the national clay target shoot and bringing home a lot of loot.

HERE IS AN opportunity for adult hunters. The Salem Hunting Club is sponsoring a "Sighting In Day" for hunters who would like to know more about their deer rifles and shotguns.

Next Saturday and Sunday from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. experts will be on hand at the clubhouse grounds to assist the gunners under NRA rules, to show hunters how to sight in their firearms and give some instructions in hunter safety that will help anyone, regardless of age. It boils down to this, you have a lot to learn about firearms. And so does this writer, who never has been called an authority on anything.

Keep in mind, the Salem Hunting Club is a genuine sportsman's organization that is always trying to help the hunters, regardless of age, to keep hunting a sportsman-like activity, with safety being foremost among the things stressed. It won't hurt you one bit to swallow your pride and attend one of these sessions with an open mind.

This is an opportunity for you to learn more about your gun and more about your personal safety and the safety of other hunters when you take to the fields with a weapon made to kill.

AMONG OTHER activities of this club is the juvenile hunter safety course offered to youngsters from 10 years up. Parents should encourage their youngsters to attend.

You may say, "But my boy doesn't hunt." That may be true, but at some time during his young life he will be around some other youngster with a firearm in his hand and he should know about safety in handling firearms for his own protection.

Not only that, but as things stand now, your son will be in the armed services sooner or later and he should know something about guns.

The Salem Hunting Club deserves a lot of credit for the effort it puts forth. And it doesn't ask one penny from anyone. The club obtains funds from normal club activities. I don't think they would turn down a contribution of a "buck" or so, but the membership "pays the freight".

Attorney General Of U.S. Asked To Investigate Union

CLEVELAND (AP) — A group of employes of the Kaase Bake Shops here, represented by the Independent American Bakery and Confectionary Workers Local 219, have asked Robert F. Kennedy, U.S. attorney general, to investigate a rival AFL-CIO union.

In a letter to Kennedy, the employes charged corruption, intimidation and coercion by the Bakery and Confectionary Workers Local 19. The group, which says it represents the majority of the 48 employes, charged that 10 members of Local 219 had been fired because they had refused to sign cards authorizing Local 19 to act for them.

The contract at the plant expired Sept. 30. Local 19 claims the Kaase officers refused improvements in wages and insisted the employes take a $10 a week cut instead.

McDonald Moving To Top

NEW YORK (AP) — Philadelphia's Tommy McDonald is moving toward the top among pass receivers in the National Football League.

McDonald jumped two notches Sunday in the Eagles' 27-24 triumph over the Washington Redskins and pulled into second place behind the Los Angeles Rams' Jim Phillips.

The NFL's weekly statistical report released today shows McDonald has caught 34 passes for 519 yards and 5 touchdowns. Phillips snared 38 for 660 yards and 3 touchdowns.

Sonny Jurgensen clung to the lead as the No. 1 passer with 111 completions in 191 tosses for 1,724 yards and 14 touchdowns. All of Philadelphia's three touchdowns against the Redskins came on Jurgensen's aerial strikes.

Green Bay's Jim Taylor remained at the top among the ground gainers, rushing for 618 yards in 111 thrusts. Cleveland's Jimmy Brown is right behind him with 610 yards on 153 plays.

Paul Hornung of Green Bay added 10 points to his scoring total in the Packers' 28-10 victory over the Minnesota Vikings and has 102 points, 36 more than runner-up Lenny Moore of Baltimore.

Detroit's Yale Lary tops the punters with an average of 47.9 yards; Green Bay's Willie Wood, punt returns, with 8 for 184 yards; Detroit's Pat Studstill, kickoff returns, with a 40.1-yard average, and Pittsburgh's Johnny Sample, pass interceptions, with 8 for 141 yards.

Favorites Find Tough Going In Richest Race

By FRANK ECK
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The fact that only three of eight favorites have won the Garden State stakes, the world's richest horse race, does not faze the owner or trainer of Donut King, the 6-5 prerace favorite.

The 2-year-old classic will be run over a mile and a sixteenth at the Garden State track in Camden, N.J., Saturday. The names of 12 juveniles probably will be placed in the entry box on Friday. If 12 run, the gross purse will be $302,365 with $181,419 going to the winner.

"I think we have the best horse," said owner Verne H. Winchell Jr., of Alhambra, Calif., today. "We're worried about only one horse. That's Crimson Satan."

Crimson Satan, who runs in the colors of the Crimson King Farm of Lexington, Ky., owned by Peter Salmens Sr., of Detroit, was listed as the 8-5 second choice. Willie Shoemaker will be his rider. Donald Pierce will ride Donut King, replacing the suspended Manuel Ycaza, who rode Donut King to a head decision over favored Jaipur in the mile Champagne at Aqueduct Jaipur has been retired for the year.

"Donut King really likes the Garden State track," said trainer Ron McAnally. "We don't really know how Donut King can run in the mud but he had a 4-furlong breeze in 48 seconds last Friday and won the Garden State Trial by 9 lengths last Saturday."

In taking the second division of the trial Donut King's time was 1:44 4-5. Crimson Satan won the first division, the first time he was handled by Shoemaker, by 7 lengths in 1:44 1-5.

Coroner's Jury Rules Fatal Fall Accidental

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A coroner's jury Tuesday attributed the death of multimillionaire Adolph B. Spreckels II to an accidental fall.

Spreckels, 49, died last week after striking his head against a stone column at a Phoenix motel. An autopsy showed he suffered a brain hemorrhage.

Rules On Trainees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Juvenile delinquents working one temporary basis for the Cleveland Metropolitan Park District should belong to the Public Employes Retirement System, Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy has ruled.

Plane Hijacker Says He'll Appeal Sentence

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Airplane hijacker Leon Bearden, 38, sentenced to life in a federal prison, says he will appeal.

The Coolidge, Ariz., resident and his son, Cody, were sentenced Tuesday for the Aug. 3 hijacking of a Continental Airlines jet over southern New Mexico.

Bearden drew the life sentence on a kidnaping count. He got another 25 years on two other charges.

Cody, who will be 17 Nov. 13, was sentenced to a federal correctional institution until he is 21. He pleaded guilty to taking a stolen vehicle across a state line.

Hayes Disregards Iowa's 9-0 Loss

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes says he is disregarding Iowa's 9-0 loss to Purdue last week in a game played in mud.

Hayes, in a telephone interview with Chicago football writers, said:

"Good backs just can't operate on that kind of a field, and Iowa has plenty of them. I don't think we'll be able to run against Iowa as we have other teams and we probably will have to pass more than we have all season. This is our homecoming and we expect to make a good account of ourselves."

The fifth-ranked Buckeyes collide with the Hawkeyes here Saturday.

Tuesday Hayes ran his charges through a sharp offensive practice. Sophomore halfback Paul Warfield ran better than he has at any time since he injured a toe three weeks ago. All - America fullback Bob Ferguson sat out the workout because of a head bump suffered in last Saturday's game with Wisconsin, but he is scheduled to return to action today.

Crime Conferences Planned By McElroy

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy said today he would open a series of crime conferences next January.

Aiding in the conference, he said, will be the FBI, the Buckeye Sheriffs Association and the Ohio Association of Chiefs of Police.

The attorney general said the conferences were designed to help enforcement of tough new Ohio laws against gambling.

McElroy made his announcement in a speech prepared for a meeting of the Steubenville Ministerial Association.

Naulls Leads Knicks' Rally

By The Associated Press

The New York Knickerbockers, who won only 21 of 79 games last season, made it four victories in six starts Tuesday night, beating the Cincinnati Royals 131-127 on a fourth-quarter binge sparked by Willie Naulls.

In the second game of the doubleheader at St. Louis, the St. Louis Hawks continued in their tailspin—taking a 107-90 drubbing from the Syracuse Nationals. This from a club that has lost only back courtman Lenny Wilkens from a veteran squad that rolled to its fifth straight Western Division title last season.

The Knicks made up a four-point deficit in the last period. Naulls scored 37 points, 12 in the fourth quarter, when New York poured in 34 points.

The Hawks trailed throughout in the nightcap of the only other NBA activity and finally fell apart, scoring but 16 points in the last period. Hal Greer's jump shooting—he hit 8-for-8 and scored 18 points in the third quarter alone—did the big job for Syracuse.

Ex-Oregon U. Coach Is Claimed Suddenly

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP) — Jim Aiken, former University of Oregon football coach, collapsed suddenly and died after speaking at a banquet in Medford Tuesday.

Aiken, presently athletic director of Roseburg, Ore., High School, had just addressed a meeting of the Medford Linebackers Club. He was pronounced dead a few minutes later.

A graduate of Washington and Jefferson University in Pennsylvania, Aiken coached at several Ohio high schools, then went to the University of Nevada before coming to Oregon.

DETROIT (AP) — Two "trick-or-treaters" in clown costumes produced a pistol at the front door of Garland Deshazer's home in suburban Ecorse Tuesday night.

2 Ohio Hunters, Stranded 4 Days In Snow, Safe

CASPER, Wyo. (AP)—Two Ohio hunters, stranded since Saturday in the slow-clogged Big Horn Mountains northwest of here, drove their car to safety Tuesday and promptly announced they may hunt some more before heading home.

Rodney Blake, a Sidney attorney, and David Christman, a Shelby County farmer, finally managed to get their car out after ranchers and state highway department workers dug through drifts as high as eight feet. Both were in good condition.

Two companions, Shelby County Probate Court Judge Lydell Bower and Harley T. Knoop, also of Sidney, walked to safety Monday night. The 10 mile trip to the nearest ranch took the men and their guide eight hours.

Blake said, "Dave and I weren't a bit scared out there. We knew help would reach us soon."

He said he and Christman decided to stay with the car because "we figured either we could flag an airplane or the other three would walk to safety and call for help."

A plane did reach the snowbound pair Tuesday and dropped supplies.

Talks Scheduled In Bid To Settle Building Tieup

CLEVELAND (AP) — Representatives of Ironworkers Local 17 and contractor associations will meet with federal mediators Thursday in an attempt to settle a dispute that has tied up more than $50 million worth of construction projects in a 10-county area.

The dispute began here Oct. 9 and spread to nine other nearby counties. Only four projects were involved in the original dispute, but contractors called a halt on other jobs, contending a strike against one is a strike against all.

The union is seeking eight hours' pay for its stewards even though Ironworkers are unable to work because of bad weather. It says stewards are needed on the job to protect the union's jurisdiction.

Affected by the strike-lockout are members of Local 17 and the Building Trades Employers Association and Associated General Contractors of America.

Contractor spokesmen say that in addition to the 600 members of Local 17, 1,200 other members of the building trades have been laid off and that another 600 tradesmen will be without work by the end of this week.

The union says only 225 Ironworkers are involved.

Boy Killed By Rig

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — William Kelly Carter, 3, of North Lima was killed by a tractor-trailer rig Tuesday after being thrown from a runaway pickup truck. The Ohio Highway Patrol said the boy got into the pickup truck owned by his father and apparently released the emergency brake. The truck rolled out onto Ohio 7, throwing the boy under the wheels of the tractor-trailer.

Love Triangle Leads To Wounding, Arrest

CINCINNATI (AP)—Simultaneous visits by two suitors to a girl friend Tuesday night resulted in the wounding of one and the arrest of the other. Suburban Lincon Heights police said they were holding William Howard Owens for the shooting.

Police said Owens told them he was visiting his girl friend when Henry Martin arrived. Martin pulled a pistol, Owens said, so he also drew a pistol and fired. Martin was wounded in the left side and left elbow.

Martin is 80 years old. Owens is 88.

"1" DIAL "1" for Direct Distance Dialing

Now in effect

In East Liverpool—now—whenever you direct dial a long distance call, please dial the numeral "1" first, before dialing the out-of-town number.

Here's how it works. To dial a long distance call within northeastern Ohio—Cleveland, for example—first dial "1" and then dial the telephone number.

To dial a call to a place outside northeastern Ohio—Columbus, for example—first dial "1", then 614 (Area Code for Columbus) and then the telephone number.

This method of placing direct distance calls will soon be introduced through the nation. The purpose is to have a simple, uniform way of getting connected to the Direct Distance Dialing network, so that eventually anyone, anywhere, will be able to dial long distance calls the same way.

So, please remember to dial the numeral "1" first on all direct dialed long distance calls. It's a step toward the future.

Complete instructions are on page 9 of your new telephone directory.

"1" DIAL "1" for Direct Distance Dialing

Now in effect

In East Liverpool—now—whenever you direct dial a long distance call, please dial the numeral "1" first, before dialing the out-of-town number.

Here's how it works. To dial a long distance call within northeastern Ohio—Cleveland, for example—first dial "1" and then dial the telephone number.

To dial a call to a place outside northeastern Ohio—Columbus, for example—first dial "1", then 614 (Area Code for Columbus) and then the telephone number.

This method of placing direct distance calls will soon be introduced through the nation. The purpose is to have a simple, uniform way of getting connected to the Direct Distance Dialing network, so that eventually anyone, anywhere, will be able to dial long distance calls the same way.

So, please remember to dial the numeral "1" first on all direct dialed long distance calls. It's a step toward the future.

Complete instructions are on page 9 of your new telephone directory.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Occasionally in your column women write about husbands who won't bathe and refuse to brush their teeth. These wives have to sneak their husband's underwear away at night to put it in the laundry.

You have pointed out, and correctly so, that such people are sick.

You seldom say anything, however, about the people who are at the opposite end of the behavioral pole. I refer to the crazy - clean women who make a fetish of cleanliness. They are sick, too.

My mother was one. She never would shake hands with anyone because she was afraid of "germs." Her home was antiseptic. She even polished the telephone mouthpiece with disinfectant twice a day.

These clinical perfectionists use such techniques to bolster their egos. They try to be so flawless that no one can find fault with them. In reality, they are dissatisfied with themselves — and unsure.

The well-balanced personality is somewhere in the middle. He wants things to be reasonably clean, but he can stand a little dirt, too. I wish you'd say so. — A PHYSICIAN.

-:-

Dear Physician: You did. And I thank you.

No Invitation Needed

Dear Ann: I am marrying a swell guy soon. Before he started to date me he went steady with a girl I couldn't stand. She tried everything in the book to get him away from me but failed. Finally she gave up and moved out of town.

I want her to know that Russ and I are getting married, but I don't want her to attend the wedding. Would it be too unheard of to send her a wedding invitation and write on it, "This is just for your information. Please do not attend."

Thank you for your answer, whatever it is.—LUCKY LOUISE.

-:-

Dear Lucky Louise: Don't send her an invitation. Someone will be only too happy to give her the "news."

Muddying A Name

Dear Ann: How come a smart tomato like you was taken in by that Big Noise From Winnetka who signed himself "On to Her?"

He claimed he was just about to give his girl a ring when word drifted back from his pals that she had been chummy with almost every guy in town.

Honestly, how dumb can you get? Don't you know this world is full of lousy men who, when they can't get what they want from a girl, make up vicious lies about her to get even?

These same men cooperate beautifully with the easy-marks. It's sort of a "thank you for the favor" arrangement. I've heard many men protect tramps and then run some virtuous girl into the ground. So why don't you get with it, Sister? — HIP HELEN.

Dear Helen: Sorry, I don't buy your neatly packaged theory.

Of course there are some heels who cheerfully will muddy a girl's name when they can't get to first base. But this kind of guy fools no one. Whatever ily resemblance to the kind of salt.

It's a safe bet that a girl's reputation bears at least a family resemblance tothe kind of person she really is. You can count on it.

---

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Overweight Youngsters Need Help

"I am 11 years old and in the 7th grade. I weigh 145 pounds and I am 5 feet 1¼ tall. I would like to get down to 95 pounds, if possible. Please send me a diet and some exercises that will help me to lose this ugly fat."

Ida Jean Kain

All preteens in the same overweight shape, tune in. Have a heart-to-heart talk with your mother. Tell her you are in earnest about reducing, then prove it by cutting out in-between meal sweets. You can reduce on three good meals a day, if you will leave off the fattening extras.

You don't believe it? Here is the calorie score? An ice cream soda, 260 to 350 calories; a sundae between 300 and 500 calories, depending on trimmings; a large chocolate bar with nuts, 630 calories. Sweets are habit-forming.

ONE MOTHER made a bargain with her chubby pre-teener. She promised to cook with fewer calories and to serve some foods at each meal which the young lady could eat without fear of gaining, provided the daughter would cut out the "junk" foods.

This story had surprising results. Both the mother and the daughter slimmed down.

To the mothers of overweight youngsters, let me say this: Dieting is not really a child's business, she can't do it without your help. It is one thing to repeatedly tell a youngster that she is too fat, and quite another thing to help her acquire new eating habits.

Many overweight children skip breakfast, due to lack of time. With little or no food at the start of the day, a child is starved by late morning and fills up on candy or peanut-butter crunchy crackers. This takes away her appetite for eating the right kind of food at lunch. Thus wrong food habits are established.

Overweight pre - teens, when your mother takes the trouble to try to help you to reduce, cooperate wholeheartedly. Have one helping of everything served at the main course of the meal, but no seconds.

If the family dessert is high in calories, ask if you may have fruit. How to stop your young brother from teasing you about being on a diet? Offer him your rich dessert.

The most reducing action you can take is to walk away from the table before you feel stuffed! That walk of a dozen steps is wonderfully effective. It's the only way to cut your appetite down to size. Later when you help clear the table—keep your mouth shut.

—:—

AFTER SCHOOL you'll feel hungry. Eat a big, juicy apple. Taste the crisp goodness. . .really enjoy it. Then whip through a few shape-ups before you get down to the books.

It's not what you intend to do about your weight, or how you talk about it. Only action counts!

Send a stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for "Teen-Age Slimming Challenge," also "slim Hips In A Hurry." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Fairborn Man Held In Probe Of Forgery

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A 40-year-old Fairborn man was being held for investigation of forgery by Fairborn police in an $8,000 embezzlement case.

Fairborn police said they arrested John Edward Morrill, a former office manager of the Peerless Pattern Co. of Dayton, at the request of Dayton Detective Sgt. G. A. Young.

Young says Morrill forged checks and used false invoices to embezzle $8,000 while he was employed by the company.

He was to be transferred from Fairborn to Dayton today, officials said.

Ohio Corn Growers Harvest Record Yield

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio corn growers are harvesting an all-time high yield estimated at 72 bushels per acre, says Ferris S. Owen of Newark, former president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

But, Owen adds, some of the state's most profitable corn fields are those not planted under the government's new feed program.

Ferris said Ohio farmers will receive about $50 million for not growing corn this year, and they call their land retired from production "Freeman's acres, a reference to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Occasionally in your column women write about husbands who won't bathe and refuse to brush their teeth. These wives have to sneak their husband's underwear away at night to put it in the laundry.

You have pointed out, and correctly so, that such people are sick.

You seldom say anything, however, about the people who are at the opposite end of the behavioral pole. I refer to the crazy - clean women who make a fetish of cleanliness. They are sick, too.

My mother was one. She never would shake hands with anyone because she was afraid of "germs." Her home was antiseptic. She even polished the telephone mouthpiece with disinfectant twice a day.

These clinical perfectionists use such techniques to bolster their egos. They try to be so flawless that no one can find fault with them. In reality, they are dissatisfied with themselves — and unsure.

The well-balanced personality is somewhere in the middle. He wants things to be reasonably clean, but he can stand a little dirt, too. I wish you'd say so. — A PHYSICIAN.

-:-

Dear Physician: You did. And I thank you.

No Invitation Needed

Dear Ann: I am marrying a swell guy soon. Before he started to date me he went steady with a girl I couldn't stand. She tried everything in the book to get him away from me but failed. Finally she gave up and moved out of town.

I want her to know that Russ and I are getting married, but I don't want her to attend the wedding. Would it be too unheard of to send her a wedding invitation and write on it, "This is just for your information. Please do not attend."

Thank you for your answer, whatever it is.—LUCKY LOUISE.

-:-

Dear Lucky Louise: Don't send her an invitation. Someone will be only too happy to give her the "news."

Muddying A Name

Dear Ann: How come a smart tomato like you was taken in by that Big Noise From Winnetka who signed himself "On to Her?"

He claimed he was just about to give his girl a ring when word drifted back from his pals that she had been chummy with almost every guy in town.

Honestly, how dumb can you get? Don't you know this world is full of lousy men who, when they can't get what they want from a girl, make up vicious lies about her to get even?

These same men cooperate beautifully with the easy-marks. It's sort of a "thank you for the favor" arrangement. I've heard many men protect tramps and then run some virtuous girl into the ground. So why don't you get with it, Sister? — HIP HELEN.

Dear Helen: Sorry, I don't buy your neatly packaged theory.

Of course there are some heels who cheerfully will muddy a girl's name when they can't get to first base. But this kind of guy fools no one. Whatever ily resemblance to the kind of salt.

It's a safe bet that a girl's reputation bears at least a family resemblance tothe kind of person she really is. You can count on it.

---

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

Overweight Youngsters Need Help

"I am 11 years old and in the 7th grade. I weigh 145 pounds and I am 5 feet 1¼ tall. I would like to get down to 95 pounds, if possible. Please send me a diet and some exercises that will help me to lose this ugly fat."

Ida Jean Kain

All preteens in the same overweight shape, tune in. Have a heart-to-heart talk with your mother. Tell her you are in earnest about reducing, then prove it by cutting out in-between meal sweets. You can reduce on three good meals a day, if you will leave off the fattening extras.

You don't believe it? Here is the calorie score? An ice cream soda, 260 to 350 calories; a sundae between 300 and 500 calories, depending on trimmings; a large chocolate bar with nuts, 630 calories. Sweets are habit-forming.

ONE MOTHER made a bargain with her chubby pre-teener. She promised to cook with fewer calories and to serve some foods at each meal which the young lady could eat without fear of gaining, provided the daughter would cut out the "junk" foods.

This story had surprising results. Both the mother and the daughter slimmed down.

To the mothers of overweight youngsters, let me say this: Dieting is not really a child's business, she can't do it without your help. It is one thing to repeatedly tell a youngster that she is too fat, and quite another thing to help her acquire new eating habits.

Many overweight children skip breakfast, due to lack of time. With little or no food at the start of the day, a child is starved by late morning and fills up on candy or peanut-butter crunchy crackers. This takes away her appetite for eating the right kind of food at lunch. Thus wrong food habits are established.

Overweight pre - teens, when your mother takes the trouble to try to help you to reduce, cooperate wholeheartedly. Have one helping of everything served at the main course of the meal, but no seconds.

If the family dessert is high in calories, ask if you may have fruit. How to stop your young brother from teasing you about being on a diet? Offer him your rich dessert.

The most reducing action you can take is to walk away from the table before you feel stuffed! That walk of a dozen steps is wonderfully effective. It's the only way to cut your appetite down to size. Later when you help clear the table—keep your mouth shut.

AFTER SCHOOL you'll feel hungry. Eat a big, juicy apple. Taste the crisp goodness. . .really enjoy it. Then whip through a few shape-ups before you get down to the books.

It's not what you intend to do about your weight, or how you talk about it. Only action counts!

Send a stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for "Teen-Age Slimming Challenge," also "slim Hips In A Hurry." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Fairborn Man Held In Probe Of Forgery

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A 40-year-old Fairborn man was being held for investigation of forgery by Fairborn police in an $8,000 embezzlement case.

Fairborn police said they arrested John Edward Morrill, a former office manager of the Peerless Pattern Co. of Dayton, at the request of Dayton Detective Sgt. G. A. Young.

Young says Morrill forged checks and used false invoices to embezzle $8,000 while he was employed by the company.

He was to be transferred from Fairborn to Dayton today, officials said.

Ohio Corn Growers Harvest Record Yield

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio corn growers are harvesting an all-time high yield estimated at 72 bushels per acre, says Ferris S. Owen of Newark, former president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

But, Owen adds, some of the state's most profitable corn fields are those not planted under the government's new feed program.

Ferris said Ohio farmers will receive about $50 million for not growing corn this year, and they call their land retired from production "Freeman's acres, a reference to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Beaver Local Bond Issue To Be On Tuesday's Ballot

Over 2,000 voters in Beaver Local School District are expected to ballot Tuesday on a proposed $253,000 school bond issue for additional classrooms in the sprawling district, whose enrollment has jumped over 30 per cent in the past five years.

It will be the third time since the district went into a 12-year program in 1955 that voters will consider a bond issue.

The proposed issue would be paid off with a 1.5-mill tax, but George VanHorne, executive head of the district, said that because of a decrease in millage, no actual increase would result from passage of the issue.

VanHorne explained that the millage in 1959 for all school purposes amounted to 26.1 mills. Because the district annually pays off from $45,000 to $50,000 for retirement of bonds, and an additional $250,000 is added on the new property valuation, the current millage at present is only 24.7 mills.

The executive said that a further reduction is anticipated next year, so that the proposed bond issue can be passed without increasing the tax rate for school purposes above the 1959 rate.

The pressing need of the district is for additional classrooms, VanHorne declared.

In 1956 the district's enrollment was 1,752, by 1959 there were 2,112 pupils and the school population is presently a record high of 2,284. On the basis of projected figures, the enrollment by 1965 will be 2,575.

The bond issue would be used to provide three or four new rooms on the east wing of the Public School and a small gym-multi-purpose room on the west wing; a new library area and additional classroom at the high school, permitting the present library to be utilized for three classrooms; two rooms on the west side of the Calcutta School and two more rooms at Rogers School.

Since the high school was erected in 1955, the district has put $750,000 into new buildings while state funds have amounted to $850,000.

A $429,000 bond issue was passed in 1954 for the high school, and another for $113,000 was approved in 1955 for equipping the school.

A grant of $576,000 was provided by the state for the Public School and four classrooms at Calcutta, with residents paying a half-mill levy to repay part of the grant. In 1959, a $220,000 bond issue was approved for additions at the high school, Public School and elementary buildings.

VanHorne emphasized the need for the passage of the bond issue to obtain the classrooms in order to maintain the district's developing education program.

"The investment involved is insignificant compared to the preparation of our young people, our community prestige and the principles of freedom and the rights of our nation," he said.

2 Posts Open On Wellsville School Board

Wellsville is assured of at least one new member on the Board of Education beginning in January as two posts are open this year and only one of the incumbents has chosen to run again in Tuesday's balloting.

The terms of Russell S. Dysert, 969 Main St., and David Brookman, 601 Riverside Ave., expire this year but Brookman is not a candidate.

The two new candidates for the seat are William T. Pickens, 727 Broadway, and William F. Ferrall, 1608 Chester Ave.

Dysert will be seeking his third four-year term. He has served as vice president the last three years. He is employed as a construction superintendent for the Dravo Corp. of Pittsburgh, presently working on the Ohio Edison Co. power plant project at Stratton.

Pickens is a shipper in the cold strip department of the Crucible Steel Co., is married and the father of three daughters and is a member of the Official Board of the Central Methodist Church. He is a member of the MacDonald and Daw Junior High Parent-Teacher Associations.

Ferrall is president of the Wellsville Band Parents Association, former president of the Garfield PTA and is employed as a storeroom supervisor and buyer at the Globe Brick Co. He is a member of the Central Methodist Church. He is married and has two sons.

Voters in Hillcrest will vote for the school board as the area now is a part of the Wellsville school district.

The Arunta tribesmen, who live in the very center of Australia, have lithe, well - proportioned bodies, chocolate - brown complexions and flowing beards. They wear no clothing and build no shelters.

New Ohio Bridge Set For Huntington Area

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — A new bridge across the Ohio River will be located west of Huntington's downtown business section and will hook up with Ohio highways west of Chesapeake.

Site of the new bridge was announced Monday at a joint news conference held by Ohio Highway Director Everett Preston and West Virginia Road Commissioner Burl Sawyers.

They said estimated cost of the bridge would be more than $8 million and that the method of financing its construction had not been worked out. Sawyers said there was the possibility that tolls may be used.

West Virginia will finance the cost of the bridge and the approaches on its side since the Ohio River is in its bailiwick. Ohio will build the approaches on its side of the river.

The two highway chiefs said West Virginia and Ohio will plan its future road programs around the possibility that a second new Ohio River bridge will be built east of Huntington.

Montreal is the chief commercial center of Canda.

Beaver Local Bond Issue To Be On Tuesday's Ballot

Over 2,000 voters in Beaver Local School District are expected to ballot Tuesday on a proposed $253,000 school bond issue for additional classrooms in the sprawling district, whose enrollment has jumped over 30 per cent in the past five years.

It will be the third time since the district went into a 12-year program in 1955 that voters will consider a bond issue.

The proposed issue would be paid off with a 1.5-mill tax, but George VanHorne, executive head of the district, said that because of a decrease in millage, no actual increase would result from passage of the issue.

Plans for a spring production were discussed at a meeting of the Fairview Children's Theater Advisory Committee Saturday at the home of Mrs. Mike Selak of Ohio Township.

Mrs. Joseph Radella announced plans for the production. Members discussed making posters, tickets and programs under the direction of Joe Jonas, art director.

The theater group will present plays, Nov. 17 and Nov. 18 at the Ray W. Snyder School in Industry.

Mrs. John Dawson and Mrs. Selak were named to the house management committee.

Next meeting is Saturday, Nov. 11, at the home of Mrs. Radella.

State Official Speaks For South Side GOP

Paul Merriman of Baden, state committeeman, was principal speaker at a meeting of the South Side Republican Club Monday evening at the elementary school near Hookstown.

About 75 attended and Merriman urged the public to vote for Judge Henry X. O'Brien for the state Supreme Court.

Mrs. Grace Wilson, president, presided. A nominating committee gave a report on a slate for new officers. Nominations will also be made from the floor at the election meeting Nov. 27 at the school.

Besides the speaker, the program included music. Harold Meinhardt was program chairman. Lunch was served by a committee with Mrs. J. L. Coble in charge.

New Ohio Bridge Set For Huntington Area

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — A new bridge across the Ohio River will be located west of Huntington's downtown business section and will hook up with Ohio highways west of Chesapeake.

Site of the new bridge was announced Monday at a joint news conference held by Ohio Highway Director Everett Preston and West Virginia Road Commissioner Burl Sawyers.

They said estimated cost of the bridge would be more than $8 million and that the method of financing its construction had not been worked out. Sawyers said there was the possibility that tolls may be used.

West Virginia will finance the cost of the bridge and the approaches on its side since the Ohio River is in its bailiwick. Ohio will build the approaches on its side of the river.

The two highway chiefs said West Virginia and Ohio will plan its future road programs around the possibility that a second new Ohio River bridge will be built east of Huntington.

Montreal is the chief commercial center of Canda.
